

Daly's Theatre, Tuesday, March 24. Prices 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50. Seats on sale now. Phone 334.

Prof. M. H. Jackson has been under the weather for several weeks past, having been barely able to attend to his school duties. He has been feeling somewhat better of late.

—Just received a full line of boys', misses' and children's shoes at I. Zimmermann's shoe store.

—Pictures Saturday night at Daly's Theatre.

Seven head of horses, 1 gray team weight 2800, 1 team bay gelding 7 years, weight 2300, 1 gray mare 12 yrs. weight 10 lbs., 1 bay driving mare by Pilatus 2:08 1/4, one 9 months

Read the Ads in the Missing Word Contest. You may win a dollar. The conditions of the contest are at the top of the page, you can't make a mistake.

One of our merchants also offers $2 if you guess his name. This is to ask Mr. Hirst to explain his own side of the story, and in order that he would know in what way he was misunderstood. I sent him an article published in one of our leading country newspapers.

WILL SPEAK ON
CONTINUATION SCHOOLS.
The following program will be

---Do not forget the Seven Reels of Pictures program at Daly's theatre Saturday night.

The Red Button

BY Will Irwin

AUTHOR OF THE CITY THAT WAS, ETC.

ILLUSTRATED BY Harry R. Grissinger

COPYRIGHT 1912 BOBBS-MERRILL CO.

SYNOPSIS.

Tommy North, returning to his room in Mrs. Moore's boarding house at 230 a. m., finds the door open. He enters, and, another roomer, with a knife wound in his breast. Suspicion rests upon a man living in the room next door. He calls on Hanksa in the evening and had been heard quarreling with Hanksa. During the evening, Mrs. Moore's woman who gives her name as Rosalie LeGrange, appears and takes into her own home across the street all of Mrs. Moore's boarders, including Miss Estrilla, an invalid, who has confined to the room she occupied and whose brother was a favorite among the other boarders. Wade is arrested as he is about to leave the country. Mrs. LeGrange, who, while giving her trade as a nurse, had added several times, calls at his office to tell what she knows of the crime. While she is there, Constance Hanksa, widow of the murdered man, whose existence had been unknown, appears. Mrs. Hanksa, says she had left her husband and declares the fact that Wade represented her and visited Hanksa on the night of the murder in an effort to settle their affairs. She admits Wade was in love with her. Wade is arrested as the coroner's jury for the death of Hanksa.

CHAPTER V—Continued.

"Well, then I suppose there's no use asking," went on Rosalie, "what you do it. It's because there's nothing else to do. Your play is to find something just as absorbent and as exciting as liquor, but not quite so foolish."

"Sure!" said Tommy. "The pot of gold at the end of the rainbow, or Captain Kidd's treasure. Anyhow, I'm going away from here."

"Now, Mr. North," said Rosalie, "there's two ways of facing a thing down—stay, an' go. Which is better, I don't know. Which is braver, I do. Here's a room for you. Board here the rest of this week—on me—while you look around—an' if you think then that goin's the best way, then go."

Tommy North, lured to an atmosphere wherein none gives something for nothing, regarded Rosalie LeGrange with look in which gratitude struggled with suspicion.

"You're thinkin'," responded Rosalie, reaching out to seize his thought, "that this is just my plan to fill my boardin' house. Think it if you want to. But this is my proposition: You keep this room free until Monday, an' if you want, you can have it permanent at twelve a week, which is what you paid Mrs. Moore."

"I'm sure I'm much obliged," said Tommy, suspicion departing. "I'll stay the week out, and make up my mind."

"Sensible," replied Rosalie. "I'll send up towels—and dinner—at six-thirty."

Tommy North, lured to an atmosphere wherein none gives something for nothing, regarded Rosalie LeGrange with look in which gratitude struggled with suspicion.

"You're thinkin'," responded Rosalie, reaching out to seize his thought, "that this is just my plan to fill my boardin' house. Think it if you want to. But this is my proposition: You keep this room free until Monday, an' if you want, you can have it permanent at twelve a week, which is what you paid Mrs. Moore."

"I'm sure I'm much obliged," said Tommy, suspicion departing. "I'll stay the week out, and make up my mind."

"Sensible," replied Rosalie. "I'll send up towels—and dinner—at six-thirty."

Tommy North, lured to an atmosphere wherein none gives something for nothing, regarded Rosalie LeGrange with look in which gratitude struggled with suspicion.

Tommy North, lured to an atmosphere wherein none gives something for nothing, regarded Rosalie LeGrange with look in which gratitude struggled with suspicion.

Tommy North, lured to an atmosphere wherein none gives something for nothing, regarded Rosalie LeGrange with look in which gratitude struggled with suspicion.

Tommy North, lured to an atmosphere wherein none gives something for nothing, regarded Rosalie LeGrange with look in which gratitude struggled with suspicion.

Tommy North, lured to an atmosphere wherein none gives something for nothing, regarded Rosalie LeGrange with look in which gratitude struggled with suspicion.

Tommy North, lured to an atmosphere wherein none gives something for nothing, regarded Rosalie LeGrange with look in which gratitude struggled with suspicion.

Tommy North, lured to an atmosphere wherein none gives something for nothing, regarded Rosalie LeGrange with look in which gratitude struggled with suspicion.

Tommy North, lured to an atmosphere wherein none gives something for nothing, regarded Rosalie LeGrange with look in which gratitude struggled with suspicion.

Tommy North, lured to an atmosphere wherein none gives something for nothing, regarded Rosalie LeGrange with look in which gratitude struggled with suspicion.

Tommy North, lured to an atmosphere wherein none gives something for nothing, regarded Rosalie LeGrange with look in which gratitude struggled with suspicion.

Tommy North, lured to an atmosphere wherein none gives something for nothing, regarded Rosalie LeGrange with look in which gratitude struggled with suspicion.

Tommy North, lured to an atmosphere wherein none gives something for nothing, regarded Rosalie LeGrange with look in which gratitude struggled with suspicion.

Tommy North, lured to an atmosphere wherein none gives something for nothing, regarded Rosalie LeGrange with look in which gratitude struggled with suspicion.

Tommy North, lured to an atmosphere wherein none gives something for nothing, regarded Rosalie LeGrange with look in which gratitude struggled with suspicion.

Tommy North, lured to an atmosphere wherein none gives something for nothing, regarded Rosalie LeGrange with look in which gratitude struggled with suspicion.

ter, which impelled him to reach frantically to him the question whether one could reach in City Hall, Brooklyn, sooner by trolley or by subway, where at he got temporary reputation as a joker by answering "both."

He saluted through the soup, roasting through the roast, and rapt through the desert. Only when Betsy-Barbara and Constance rose together, did he remember that he had finished long ago.

At the door of the dining room next morning, Rosalie LeGrange met Mr. North.

"Thought my proposition over?" she asked.

"Yes, I guess I'll stay," replied Tommy, shortly.

"Thought you would," replied Rosalie. And as she entered before him, she was smiling into the air. Decidedly, she was enjoying her life in these days with vicarious troubles, but also with vicarious joys.

CHAPTER VI.

Another week has passed, and the police still report "no progress" on the Wade-Hanksa murder case, now a back number with the newspapers—a story laid quiet at the select boarding house maintained by Rosalie LeGrange—a quiet overlain with gloom and yet illuminated with human sympathy and even gaiety.

Out of the shadows twinkle two stars—Betsy-Barbara and Tommy North. Rosalie in jest, and Professor Noli in earnest, call Betsy-Barbara "the little household fairy." Engaged though she is in a tragic guardianship, she is also young and sprightly and a village girl fresh to the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Miss Jones on her autumn clothes. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie LeGrange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-bees. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the arts of play. Whenever the household stays in of nights, she gathers them around over hearts or bridge; when cards grow stale, she is capable of getting confessions out of charades or anagrams.

More and more the boarders take to staying at home. This charming life domestic is a novelty in New York, it seems; they revel in the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Miss Jones on her autumn clothes. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie LeGrange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-bees. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the arts of play. Whenever the household stays in of nights, she gathers them around over hearts or bridge; when cards grow stale, she is capable of getting confessions out of charades or anagrams.

More and more the boarders take to staying at home. This charming life domestic is a novelty in New York, it seems; they revel in the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Miss Jones on her autumn clothes. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie LeGrange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-bees. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the arts of play. Whenever the household stays in of nights, she gathers them around over hearts or bridge; when cards grow stale, she is capable of getting confessions out of charades or anagrams.

More and more the boarders take to staying at home. This charming life domestic is a novelty in New York, it seems; they revel in the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Miss Jones on her autumn clothes. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie LeGrange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-bees. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the arts of play. Whenever the household stays in of nights, she gathers them around over hearts or bridge; when cards grow stale, she is capable of getting confessions out of charades or anagrams.

More and more the boarders take to staying at home. This charming life domestic is a novelty in New York, it seems; they revel in the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Miss Jones on her autumn clothes. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie LeGrange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-bees. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the arts of play. Whenever the household stays in of nights, she gathers them around over hearts or bridge; when cards grow stale, she is capable of getting confessions out of charades or anagrams.

More and more the boarders take to staying at home. This charming life domestic is a novelty in New York, it seems; they revel in the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Miss Jones on her autumn clothes. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie LeGrange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-bees. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the arts of play. Whenever the household stays in of nights, she gathers them around over hearts or bridge; when cards grow stale, she is capable of getting confessions out of charades or anagrams.

More and more the boarders take to staying at home. This charming life domestic is a novelty in New York, it seems; they revel in the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Miss Jones on her autumn clothes. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie LeGrange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-bees. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the arts of play. Whenever the household stays in of nights, she gathers them around over hearts or bridge; when cards grow stale, she is capable of getting confessions out of charades or anagrams.

More and more the boarders take to staying at home. This charming life domestic is a novelty in New York, it seems; they revel in the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Miss Jones on her autumn clothes. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie LeGrange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-bees. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the arts of play. Whenever the household stays in of nights, she gathers them around over hearts or bridge; when cards grow stale, she is capable of getting confessions out of charades or anagrams.

More and more the boarders take to staying at home. This charming life domestic is a novelty in New York, it seems; they revel in the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Miss Jones on her autumn clothes. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie LeGrange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-bees. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the arts of play. Whenever the household stays in of nights, she gathers them around over hearts or bridge; when cards grow stale, she is capable of getting confessions out of charades or anagrams.

More and more the boarders take to staying at home. This charming life domestic is a novelty in New York, it seems; they revel in the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Miss Jones on her autumn clothes. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie LeGrange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-bees. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the arts of play. Whenever the household stays in of nights, she gathers them around over hearts or bridge; when cards grow stale, she is capable of getting confessions out of charades or anagrams.

More and more the boarders take to staying at home. This charming life domestic is a novelty in New York, it seems; they revel in the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Miss Jones on her autumn clothes. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie LeGrange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-bees. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the arts of play. Whenever the household stays in of nights, she gathers them around over hearts or bridge; when cards grow stale, she is capable of getting confessions out of charades or anagrams.

More and more the boarders take to staying at home. This charming life domestic is a novelty in New York, it seems; they revel in the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Miss Jones on her autumn clothes. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie LeGrange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-bees. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the arts of play. Whenever the household stays in of nights, she gathers them around over hearts or bridge; when cards grow stale, she is capable of getting confessions out of charades or anagrams.

More and more the boarders take to staying at home. This charming life domestic is a novelty in New York, it seems; they revel in the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Miss Jones on her autumn clothes. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie LeGrange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-bees. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the arts of play. Whenever the household stays in of nights, she gathers them around over hearts or bridge; when cards grow stale, she is capable of getting confessions out of charades or anagrams.

More and more the boarders take to staying at home. This charming life domestic is a novelty in New York, it seems; they revel in the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Miss Jones on her autumn clothes. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie LeGrange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-bees. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the arts of play. Whenever the household stays in of nights, she gathers them around over hearts or bridge; when cards grow stale, she is capable of getting confessions out of charades or anagrams.

More and more the boarders take to staying at home. This charming life domestic is a novelty in New York, it seems; they revel in the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Miss Jones on her autumn clothes. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie LeGrange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-bees. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the arts of play. Whenever the household stays in of nights, she gathers them around over hearts or bridge; when cards grow stale, she is capable of getting confessions out of charades or anagrams.

More and more the boarders take to staying at home. This charming life domestic is a novelty in New York, it seems; they revel in the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Miss Jones on her autumn clothes. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie LeGrange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-bees. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the arts of play. Whenever the household stays in of nights, she gathers them around over hearts or bridge; when cards grow stale, she is capable of getting confessions out of charades or anagrams.

More and more the boarders take to staying at home. This charming life domestic is a novelty in New York, it seems; they revel in the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Miss Jones on her autumn clothes. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie LeGrange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-bees. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the arts of play. Whenever the household stays in of nights, she gathers them around over hearts or bridge; when cards grow stale, she is capable of getting confessions out of charades or anagrams.

More and more the boarders take to staying at home. This charming life domestic is a novelty in New York, it seems; they revel in the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Miss Jones on her autumn clothes. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie LeGrange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-bees. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the arts of play. Whenever the household stays in of nights, she gathers them around over hearts or bridge; when cards grow stale, she is capable of getting confessions out of charades or anagrams.

More and more the boarders take to staying at home. This charming life domestic is a novelty in New York, it seems; they revel in the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Miss Jones on her autumn clothes. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie LeGrange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-bees. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the arts of play. Whenever the household stays in of nights, she gathers them around over hearts or bridge; when cards grow stale, she is capable of getting confessions out of charades or anagrams.

More and more the boarders take to staying at home. This charming life domestic is a novelty in New York, it seems; they revel in the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Miss Jones on her autumn clothes. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie LeGrange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-bees. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the arts of play. Whenever the household stays in of nights, she gathers them around over hearts or bridge; when cards grow stale, she is capable of getting confessions out of charades or anagrams.

More and more the boarders take to staying at home. This charming life domestic is a novelty in New York, it seems; they revel in the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Miss Jones on her autumn clothes. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie LeGrange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-bees. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the arts of play. Whenever the household stays in of nights, she gathers them around over hearts or bridge; when cards grow stale, she is capable of getting confessions out of charades or anagrams.

More and more the boarders take to staying at home. This charming life domestic is a novelty in New York, it seems; they revel in the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Miss Jones on her autumn clothes. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie LeGrange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-bees. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the arts of play. Whenever the household stays in of nights, she gathers them around over hearts or bridge; when cards grow stale, she is capable of getting confessions out of charades or anagrams.

More and more the boarders take to staying at home. This charming life domestic is a novelty in New York, it seems; they revel in the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Miss Jones on her autumn clothes. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie LeGrange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-bees. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the arts of play. Whenever the household stays in of nights, she gathers them around over hearts or bridge; when cards grow stale, she is capable of getting confessions out of charades or anagrams.

More and more the boarders take to staying at home. This charming life domestic is a novelty in New York, it seems; they revel in the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Miss Jones on her autumn clothes. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie LeGrange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-bees. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the arts of play. Whenever the household stays in of nights, she gathers them around over hearts or bridge; when cards grow stale, she is capable of getting confessions out of charades or anagrams.

More and more the boarders take to staying at home. This charming life domestic is a novelty in New York, it seems; they revel in the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Miss Jones on her autumn clothes. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie LeGrange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-bees. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the arts of play. Whenever the household stays in of nights, she gathers them around over hearts or bridge; when cards grow stale, she is capable of getting confessions out of charades or anagrams.

More and more the boarders take to staying at home. This charming life domestic is a novelty in New York, it seems; they revel in the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Miss Jones on her autumn clothes. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie LeGrange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-bees. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the arts of play. Whenever the household stays in of nights, she gathers them around over hearts or bridge; when cards grow stale, she is capable of getting confessions out of charades or anagrams.

More and more the boarders take to staying at home. This charming life domestic is a novelty in New York, it seems; they revel in the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Miss Jones on her autumn clothes. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie LeGrange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-bees. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the arts of play. Whenever the household stays in of nights, she gathers them around over hearts or bridge; when cards grow stale, she is capable of getting confessions out of charades or anagrams.

More and more the boarders take to staying at home. This charming life domestic is a novelty in New York, it seems; they revel in the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Miss Jones on her autumn clothes. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie LeGrange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-bees. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the arts of play. Whenever the household stays in of nights, she gathers them around over hearts or bridge; when cards grow stale, she is capable of getting confessions out of charades or anagrams.

her which blended perfectly with a punctilious Spanish courtesy. She spoke English without a trace of her brother's amusing roll.

Betsy-Barbara, when the ice was broken, chattered girl-fashion on the events of the day in the boarding house, avoiding always the subject of the tragedy which had drawn them together. "I've brought up the evening paper," she said, "wouldn't you like to have me read it to you? There's a splendid elopement in high life."

"I should like it very much," replied Miss Estrilla, after a pause at which Betsy-Barbara wondered.

Betsy-Barbara read the headlines and rendered in full the stories which Miss Estrilla indicated. She was absorbed in the account of a splendid burglary, when a knock sounded at the door. And Estrilla entered.

As he recognized her with a bow of imitable attention and courtesy, as he crossed the room and tenderly

"This—you hear—is the angel-string. It is for celestial harmonies. One cannot go wrong on this string; but it is too fine and high to make all our music. This is the man-string. You can go very right or very wrong on this one."

"Thees one," he pronounced it, and he drew out the vowels as though lingering on the thought. "This is the woman-string. Listen—how discordant now! I tune it to the man-string, for I am God of this little world—and now how beautiful!"

"You are talking poetry!" said Betsy-Barbara; and thought of the phrase as somewhat awkward.

"Ah, but I am inspired!" replied Estrilla.

"(He surely doesn't mean me," thought Betsy-Barbara. "That would be too delicious!" However, he was looking not at her but at the guitar.)

He strummed little shimmering chords as he spoke. He fell to silence, but still the languorous music quivered from the guitar. Betsy-Barbara turned about on the piano stool, her hands folded lightly in her lap, her eyes cast down.

It was many years before Betsy-Barbara, looking back over everything, could analyze the feeling of that moment, could put it in its true relation to herself and her life. At the time, she knew only that she sat there impassive, embarrassed, but inert, that she felt shame yet also a furtive pleasure at the steady look of those caressing eyes. It lasted only a moment.

The outer door slammed violently. Betsy-Barbara started as though caught in something guilty. She hesitated a moment for fear of showing her feelings to Estrilla. Then she walked out into the hall. There was no one in sight. That seemed curious, since the hall stairs were not carpeted, and one could hear footsteps. It was as though some one had opened the front door and then quickly closed it again without entering. When she turned back, puzzled, she felt the necessity for explanation.

"I thought it might be Miss Harding," she said, falsely—"I wanted to see her."

He only smiled the same caressing smile. But the spell was cracked; and Betsy-Barbara herself completed the break. Half an hour later she winged a hint, which he caught and used, as he seemed to catch every delicate shaft of meaning. He rose and bade her a formal good night. "I hope I may sing with you again," he said at parting.

Betsy-Barbara went to her own room. She dived over her preparations for undressing, making a dozen starts and stops. She was not sleepy.

"If I only had some work!" she said to herself, and sighed again. So meditating, she wandered aimlessly down stairs. The door of the parlor was open; the lights were on; the baby-grand piano stood open, inviting.

"Only merry tunes, though," she warned herself as she sat down. And she started the liveliest jig she knew. Presently, she began to sing in her pleasant untrained voice, which wobbled enchantingly whenever she got out of the middle register. But music is the slave of moods. And before she was aware, her voice was following the strings in old and melancholy love-songs.

Then Betsy-Barbara dropped her hands from the keys, and the music stopped abruptly. She was just aware that a fine floating tenor had been humming the part from the doorway. Senior Estrilla stood looking down on her.

"My sweater has gone to sleep," he said. And then, "That is a Scotch song, is it not? Please go on." Betsy-Barbara smiled, nodded, resumed her keys; and they sang together.

When the song was finished, Estrilla leaned on the piano and looked down at Betsy-Barbara. His mood seemingly had changed; it was his whim to talk.

"They are a little cold on the surface, those Scotch love-songs," he said, "though warm beneath, like a volcano. Now we speak Spanish—we can throw our emotions to the surface."

"Don't you think," responded Betsy-Barbara, "that to conceal it—but to show it's there—is the more wonderful way after all?"

The blood of the MacGregors in Betsy-Barbara was calling her to the defense of her own.

wind and sun and frost and other forces. A slight expansion or shortening tells that the structure has a good constitution. A considerable difference in the space between the two holes indicates that something is wrong.

Greatly Desired Lady.

It would appear, from bits of the social gossip of her day, that Miss Betsy-Barbara's nearest approach to an occupation was refusing offers of marriage. It is stated in "Intimate Memoirs of Napoleon III." that the name of the "Prince of Adventure" was connected with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club wit struck a responsive chord by observing: "I don't blame Ashmead Bartlett for proposing to the baroness. I've done it myself. I regard it as a duty every Englishman owes to his family."—Youth's Companion.

Idle Are the Ones Who Commit Crime, According to This Writer's Arguments.

The panacea for crime is work, and plenty of it. When people work they have little time and less inclination for doing wrong, remarks the Philadelphia Ledger.

"People are rarely more innocently employed," said Dr. Johnson, "than when they are earning money."

The chap who hopes to live by his wits—which means his ability to outwit somebody else—is good material for a counterfeiter. It is the woman who is poor and yet refuses honest employment that brings disgrace upon her sex.

A strike in any community invariably breeds petty crimes because idle men are more apt to become vicious than the same men when doing a good day's work.

The countryman who follows a plow all day never robs a neighbor's hen-roost. He wants rest and sleep at night. Locks are needed to keep out

"Do you happen to know any of our Spanish songs?" pursued Estrilla.

"Only Juanita, I think—and La Paloma."

Estrilla looked as though he might have laughed but for Spanish politeness.

"Those are Spanish for outside consumption, as when the English call your cheap oil-cloth 'it not—American cloth.' Let me sing to you—but a Spanish song does not go well with the piano—"

"There's a guitar over in the alcove," announced Betsy-Barbara. "Far-seeing maiden!" exclaimed Estrilla with such a delicious Spanish roll on the vowels that Betsy-Barbara laughed a little; and he, as though understanding, laughed with her.

So he tuned the guitar, Betsy-Barbara finding the key for him on the piano. And while he tweaked the strings, he made comment on them, as:

"This—you hear—is the angel-string. It is for celestial harmonies. One cannot go wrong on this string; but it is too fine and high to make all our music. This is the man-string. You can go very right or very wrong on this one."

"Thees one," he pronounced it, and he drew out the vowels as though lingering on the thought. "This is the woman-string. Listen—how discordant now! I tune it to the man-string, for I am God of this little world—and now how beautiful!"

"You are talking poetry!" said Betsy-Barbara; and thought of the phrase as somewhat awkward.

"Ah, but I am inspired!" replied Estrilla.

"(He surely doesn't mean me," thought Betsy-Barbara. "That would be too delicious!" However, he was looking not at her but at the guitar.)

He strummed little shimmering chords as he spoke. He fell to silence, but still the languorous music quivered from the guitar. Betsy-Barbara turned about on the piano stool, her hands folded lightly in her lap, her eyes cast down.

It was many years before Betsy-Barbara, looking back over everything, could analyze the feeling of that moment, could put it in its true relation to herself and her life. At the time, she knew only that she sat there impassive, embarrassed, but inert, that she felt shame yet also a furtive pleasure at the steady look of those caressing eyes. It lasted only a moment.

The outer door slammed violently. Betsy-Barbara started as though caught in something guilty. She hesitated a moment for fear of showing her feelings to Estrilla. Then she walked out into the hall. There was no one in sight. That seemed curious, since the hall stairs were not carpeted, and one could hear footsteps. It was as though some one had opened the front door and then quickly closed it again without entering. When she turned back, puzzled, she felt the necessity for explanation.

"I thought it might be Miss Harding," she said, falsely—"I wanted to see her."

He only smiled the same caressing smile. But the spell was cracked; and Betsy-Barbara herself completed the break. Half an hour later she winged a hint, which he caught and used, as he seemed to catch every delicate shaft of meaning. He rose and bade her a formal good night. "I hope I may sing with you again," he said at parting.

Betsy-Barbara went to her own room. She dived over her preparations for undressing, making a dozen starts and stops. She was not sleepy.

"If I only had some work!" she said to herself, and sighed again. So meditating, she wandered aimlessly down stairs. The door of the parlor was open; the lights were on; the baby-grand piano stood open, inviting.

"Only merry tunes, though," she warned herself as she sat down. And she started the liveliest jig she knew. Presently, she began to sing in her pleasant untrained voice, which wobbled enchantingly whenever she got out of the middle register. But music is the slave of moods. And

The Red Button

BY WILL IRWIN
AUTHOR OF THE CITY THAT WAS, ETC.
ILLUSTRATED BY Harry R. Grissinger
COPYRIGHT 1912 BOBBS-MERRILL CO.

SYNOPSIS.

Tommy North, returning to his room in Mrs. Moore's boarding house at 229 A. M., discovers the body of Capt. John Hanke, another roomer, with a knife wound in his breast. Suspicion rests upon a man living in the room next to the one in which he found the body. He calls on Hanke in the evening and had heard of the murder. He is a strange woman who gives her name as Rosalie LeGrange. He and she talk over the murder, and across the street at Mrs. Moore's boarding house, including all the details of the crime. Tommy is arrested as he is about to leave the country. Mrs. LeGrange, who while playing a trade as a trapeze medium, had aided Police Inspector Martin McGee in the murder of Capt. Hanke. She is known to the police as "The Girl Who Knows the City That Was." She is a woman whose existence had been unknown to the police. She is a woman who had been in the city for some time, and who had been in the city for some time, and who had been in the city for some time.

CHAPTER V—Continued.

"Well, then I suppose there's no use asking," went on Rosalie, "why you do it. It's because there's nothing else to do. Your play is to find something to say as absorbent and exciting as liquor, but not the no fool's errand." "Sure!" said Tommy. "The pot of gold at the end of the rainbow, or Captain Kidd's treasure. Anyhow, I'm going away from here." "Now, Mr. North," said Rosalie, "there's two ways of facing a thing down—stay, or go. I don't know which is braver, I do. There's a room for you. Board here the rest of this week—on me—while you look around—and if you think then that goin's the best way, then go."

Tommy North, inured to an atmosphere wherein none gives anything for nothing, hesitated. Rosalie LeGrange with a look in which gratitude struggled with suspicion. "You're thinkin'," responded Rosalie, "that this is just my plan to fill my boardin' house. Think it if you want to. But this is my proposition. I'll keep this room free until Monday, and if you want, you can have it permanent at twelve a week, which is all that you'd pay Mrs. Moore."

"I'm sure I'm much obliged," said Tommy, suspicion departing. "I'll stay the week out, and make a little of it. I'll see you at dinner at six-thirty."

We have taken little time to consider Betsy-Barbara. Let us view her now, as she stands, dressed in a blue frock for dinner, tapping at Constance's door. Betsy-Barbara's dress and spirit were twenty-four; her heart was lightened; her purpose was forty. Whenever even the darkest ray touched her hair, it flickered with gold. In full sunshine, even her brows and lashes glittered, and twinkled. Her mouth was large and generously irregular; her nose, straight and white, stood out (irregular); her violet-blue eyes were as clear as pools. As she stood there, waiting for Constance to rise and open the door, her merriment took flame from some sleepy remark. In that precise psychological moment, all plants in the room seemed to water away. She came down the hall on his way to dinner. The laugh arrested him dead.

"Yes, I guess I'll stay," she said. The door opened then. She vanished like a golden fairy caught in a mist of vapor. A minute later, Tommy North was sitting in the dining-room at Rosalie's right—waiting for something. He found himself in a state of embarrassment uncommon with him. What was he that he should talk to a decent girl? And with this knowledge, that he was the branded? But when, a moment later, she trailed in behind Constance like a luminous shadow, when Rosalie introduced them both by name, and when he recognized them as the women in the Hanke affair, one part of his embarrassment water away. "Twice during the dinner he laughed unprovokedly, causing Miss Harding to remark that he was getting back his spirits, anyhow. This was when Betsy-Barbara ventured a mild joke. Twice again she included him in the conversation. Once she asked for the butter, which impelled him to reach frantically for the salt, and once she referred to him the question whether one could reach City Hall, Brooklyn, by trolley or by subway, whereat he got temporary reputation as a joker by answering "both." He sat dazed through the soup, ecstatic through the roast, and rapt through the dessert. Only when Betsy-Barbara and Constance rose together, did he remember that he had finished long ago. At the door of the dining room next morning, Rosalie LeGrange met Mr. North. "Thought my proposition over?" she asked. "Yes, I guess I'll stay," replied Tommy, shortly. "Thought you would," replied Rosalie. And as she entered before him, she was smiling into the air. Decidedly, she was enriching her life in these days with vicarious troubles, but also with vicarious joys.

CHAPTER VI.

Another week had passed, and the police still report "no progress" on the Wade-Hanske murder case, now a back number with the newspapers—a story laid aside. The week has been equally quiet at the select boarding house maintained by Rosalie LeGrange—quite overladen with gloom and yet illumined with human sympathy and even gaiety.

Out of the shadows twinkle two stars—Betsy-Barbara and Tommy North. Rosalie in jest, and Professor Noll in earnest, call Betsy-Barbara "the little housewife and lady." Engaged though she is in a tragic guardianship, she is also young and sprightly and a village girl fresh to the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Jones on her autumn clothing. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie LeGrange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-benches. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the ways of the world. She is a girl who is in of nights, she gathers them together over hearts or bridges; when cards grow stale, she is capable of getting contagious fun out of charades or anagrams.

More and more the boarders take to staying at home. This changing tide seems to have been in New York, it seems; they revel in the fact. Mr. Estrilla has developed a way of joining them after his evening visits to his sister; and he brings such a spirit of Latin gaiety that they quit their formal gowns, and take always to music and especially delights in him. He has a quick turn of the tongue which matches her own; and they fence with good-natured repartee. Whenever Estrilla enters the room his eyes travel to Betsy-Barbara and they go to play in a boy-and-girl spirit of charming and amusing. She answers that she cannot; her brother's business lies in New York, and she would be unhappy away from him.

The time came when Rosalie LeGrange determined to visit Inspector McGee; she wished to understand some of her own case concerning the Hanke case. Such visits must be made with all due precaution of secrecy. She chose an evening when, as happened seldom nowadays, nearly all the boarders had engagements elsewhere. As a step toward her purpose, she telephoned to McGee and made with him an appointment for the office. Then she approached Betsy-Barbara.

"It's asking a lot of you, my dear," she said, "but I've been so busy getting this place shook together that I haven't had time to pay her any attention. Miss Estrilla is kind of nervous tonight, and I hate to leave her alone until her brother comes—anyhow, he misses some evenings. Just sit by her side, and I'll be up when you don't have to do even that."

Betsy-Barbara accepted the new responsibility. "I'd love it," she said almost cheerfully. "Constance is going to try to get some sleep tonight, and I'll put her to bed right after midnight. And I've been waiting to meet Miss Estrilla."

Miss Estrilla's appearance appealed at once to Betsy-Barbara's quick sympathies. Her eyes were shaded; further she wore heavy colored glasses. She was a rather tall and slender woman, Betsy-Barbara decided. This was a kind of exquisite shyness about

BLACK ART IN WEST AFRICA

Natives Freely Acknowledge Guilt, Even When They Know It Means Their Death.

Early in 1911 a deputation from one of the larger towns of West Africa brought two prisoners, father and son, before the commissioner at Oba. They were accused of having, in crooked form, killed two women while the latter were crossing the river. As they refused to swear their innocence on the dominant Juju of the town, they were brought before the "white man," who naturally decided that there was no case against them. The deputation, however, had not finished with the matter. On returning home another Juju was invoked, with the result that the son confessed that both he and his father were guilty, and that they had killed and eaten seven other men and women.

Strangely enough, people accused of this unmanly power nearly always acknowledge their guilt, even when fully aware that such confession will probably cost them their lives. Awa is a woman of Oba, was suspected of being "a snake son," and of sending out her familiar every night to lick a wound on her husband's ankle while he slept, and so prevent it from healing. The chiefs of the Ego society summoned her before their dreaded tribunal, and she was condemned to death.

Finding Effect of Heat on Buildings. An engineer has invented a delicate little instrument for studying defects of big buildings and steel bridges. Boring two tiny holes in any steel girder of a bridge or building, he puts the points of his instruments in the holes, and by sliding the tubes, measures the space between the holes. When the weather changes, he measures the space between the holes again. If it has increased or diminished by one ten-thousandth of an inch, his instrument detects it. He works the minute strains and movements of a few inches of the steel work, and from this knowledge it is easy to calculate the total movements in the structure under the influence of wind and sun and frost and other forces. A slight expansion or shortening tells that the structure has a good constitution. A considerable difference in the space between the two holes indicates that something is wrong.

Greatly Desired Lady. It would appear, from bits of the social gossip of her day, that Miss Burdett-Coutts' nearest approach to an occupation was refusing offers of marriage. It is stated in "Intimate Memories of Napoleon III," that the name of the "Princess of Adventure" was connected with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club with strong with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial

PUBLIC AUCTION!

—AT—

ROB OGILVIE FARM

One-half mile south of Rudolph Creamery, known as the Mose Sharkey farm.

Tuesday, March 24, 1914

The following articles will be sold:

STOCK

2 Brood Mares, 1 Saddle Pony, 2 Yearling Colts, 15 Milch Cows, 8 fresh, balance coming in soon, 11 yearling calves, 2 Veal Calves, 1 Hog.

FARM MACHINERY

1 Spring Tooth Drag, Harrow, Sulky Cultivator, Sulky Plow, Milk Wagon, Buggy, Cutter, Set Working Harness, and many other small items too numerous to mention.

TERMS:—Under $10 cash, over $10 one year's time at 6 per cent on bankable notes.

Sale starts at 10 a. m.

Free Lunch at Noon.

BARNEY ST. DENIS, Auctioneer,
ROB OGILVIE, Owner. GILBERT AKEY, Clerk.

$3,500

It takes just that amount to buy one of the best little forty acre farms in the town of Rudolph, located five miles from city on main county road. 1 mile to cheese factory and two miles to creamery and Rudolph station. Good house, barn, granary and chicken-coop and woodshed. Soil, good clay loam, 25 acres cleared and part under cultivation. 15 acres woods. Enough timber to last a man a life time. Within three years the state macadam road will run by the door, which alone will be worth many dollars to the value of the farm. Some farm machinery goes with the place. There is not another chance like it in Wood county today to secure as good a farm, location and buildings considered for the money. Owner selling owing to old age. A dandy one-man farm where you can make a good living and be independent. The same amount of money will buy only a fair house and lot in the city. Here you get a home, good barn, fire wood for life-time, and enough of the best clay land to make an independent living.

No trades considered.
Don't wait, see owner at once.

Louis Lonnais, Grand Rapids, Wis., R. R. 2.

DELIGHTFUL DERMA VIVA, THE IDEAL POWDER

will make the skin as white and beautiful as a babe's. Is absolutely invisible. If your hands, arms or neck are red, brown, dark or streaked, try it once and note the wonderful improvement. In liquid form, flesh and white—50 cents. In powder form, white, flesh, pink or brunette—50 cents. Accept no substitutes.
Sold by JOHN E. DALY.

Don't Wait Till the Last Minute

You know right now whether you had ought to fix up things about the place now, or whether everything is in ship shape and you can get through another busy season with things as they are.

We merely wish to remind you that if you are going to make repairs, or do any building this season, we can make you especially attractive figures on what lumber or other building material you will need.

No matter how small your order may be, we will appreciate it and give you the best service, the best prices, and the best lumber.

W. A. Marling Lumber Co.

Buy It Because It's a Better Car

Model T $550
Touring Car
L. 10 b. Detroit

Get particulars from Huntington & Lesig,
Grand Rapids, Wisconsin

Tribute to the Horse.

The following is an extract from a speech made by Maj. Oliver S. Johnson, of Tipton, Iowa, at a pure bred horse sale where the horses brought nearly $20,000:

"Men from Many Nations:—There is something about the good horse that is intoxicating, inspiring, firing the ambitions of the better man within us. Men revel in the glories of a steadfast friend. The horse is that friend most noble. He has led the onward march of progress from the Rising Sun to the Golden Gate. His power has built the railroads and dug canals. From the Aurora Borealis to the Gulf you find him joining forces with man in the great commercial activities of the world, tilling the farms and tending the forests, hauling lumber, wheat, coal and cotton. He halts neither for heat or cold, rain or sunshine. He brings the doctor to officiate at our birth, the minister to our wedding, and the caisson to its final resting place. He draws the President to the White House and the prisoner to the pen. In peace and in war he carried Napoleon, Washington, Lincoln and Grant, and for a pleasure jaunt our sweethearts are always safe in his noble car. Visit the French cathedral in New Orleans and your eye beholds the magnificent piece of sculpture work, 'Jackson and his Horse.' Take a trip to Lincoln Park Chicago, and you admire that life-like statue of 'Grant and his Horse.' The dying words of King Richard in the battle of Bosworth were, 'A horse! a horse! My Kingdom for a horse!' Art and Nature vie with each other in doing him honor. He is the Samson and the Hercules combined. His powerful instinct foretold the eruption of Vesuvius and halted him on the brink of the precipice in the inky midnight darkness. He played his part in Custer's Big Horn Massacre and in the Charge of the Light Brigade. He carried his rider down the Valley of the Conemaugh, through the city of Johnstown ahead of that awful flood and perished in its raging waters. He followed Noses through Egypt and into the Red Sea. He gave up his home in Bethlehem that Mary the mother of Jesus might rest in his manger."

Poultry Failures.

The great reason why so many fail with poultry is because it costs too much for feed. The eggs sold and the poultry meat disposed to balance the outlay for feed, care, and interest on the investment. Things have changed from what they used to be. Once every farmer kept a few hens. These birds did not cost much; their feed was so inexpensive that account was seldom kept of it. Every egg and every hen sold always represented a gain. It was like finding to much money.

But now we see men specializing in poultry. Everybody who can get a little corner of land anywhere builds a coop and gets a lot of hens. These hens must eat. Feed is high priced. The man sends his money to the feed store in a two-bushel sack, it seems, and his feed comes back in a teaspoon. He wonders what this means. Can it be he has made a mistake? It looks that way, and a year or two makes it pretty plain that there certainly is something wrong. Then he concludes that all the stories about success in poultry must be fictitious, and he quietly gets out of the business. And yet these men might have done well with poultry by proceeding more carefully.—Farm and Fireside.

Name Your Farm.

Every farmer in Wood county should name his farm.

It lends dignity to the farmers profession and establishes a reputation for each farm, peculiarly its own.

Use stationery with the name of the farm on it.

The business of farming demands well printed stationery as much as any other business. The satisfaction you will get from the use of printed stationery is worth more than the small sum it will cost.

To induce farmers to name their Stationery will make this Special offer more generally. The Grand Rapids Tribune will make this Special Offer:

100 good quality white envelopes, No. 6 1/2, and 100 good white note heads, 6x9 1/2, to match above, with name of farm, name of proprietor and address printed on, for... $1.75
250 each of the above for... $2.50
500 each of the above for... $3.50

Write copy plain and state if ruled or unruled paper is wanted.

Send 6 cents additional for each 100 noteheads and envelopes if job is to be sent by mail.

Send in your orders, or when in town come in and ask us about these prices.

—Nomination Blanks for Town Officers for sale at this office.

DON'T BLAME DESTINY IF YOU'RE UNWELL.

There's a reason. To not enjoy health at a time's fullest is but to live partly. This is because of the fact that your organs are not receiving their full quota of nerve force and energy from the brain and spinal cord—because it has been partly shut off due to pinched nerves at the spine due to bones being out of place. You know the large muscles on each side of the spine are all that hold each little bone in its proper place. If the muscles are perfectly developed you are safe. But there are very, very few backs that are perfectly developed.

Your own reason will tell you that if a wrench does get one bone a little out of place, some part of your body must suffer. Chiropractic is applicable in all conditions. Spinal Analysis Free. If we are right, take adjustments.

F. T. HOFF
Chiropractor
Hours 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. Phone 599.
Over Daly's Drug Store Rooms 8 & 9

THE VALUE OF FIRE DRILLS

Fire drills are aimed not so much at the fire as at the panic which usually accompanies it. The principal thing is to prevent the panic. Two points that are to be considered are, first—Order; and second—Rapidity. See to it that the fire alarm system is always in perfect working order. See that the exit facilities are sufficient and are always unobstructed. It is usually advisable to have the children march out two by two, and where possible the march should be accompanied by music or singing to divert the minds of the pupils. Teachers should always follow to be certain that no child has been left behind. Some of the older children might be detailed as monitors, with certain fixed duties for the different monitors that are assigned. It is important to teach the pupils in the course of fire drills to overcome obstacles, and to be prepared to meet emergencies, in the event of an actual fire.

All doors should open outward, and these exit doors should never be locked during school sessions. Fire drills should be to the fire escapes as well as to the exits, and should conclude with a continued march of the children out of and away from the school building. I believe it is especially important to hold occasional fire fighting instruction programs. These should be short talks by the teachers on fire prevention and the evils of carelessness. It is important that these lessons should be as free as possible from excitement and should be addressed to the common sense of the pupils rather than to their imagination.

I believe that stories of the fire horrors and particular reference to disasters in schools usually do more harm than good, and should be avoided. Fire is particularly fascinating to many people and especially to children, and I believe that pyromania is frequently caused by arousing the imagination and excitement of children by stories of great fire disasters and by seeing such calamities illustrated by moving pictures.

The fire drill should be a business-like affair, conducted in a business-like manner, and for the special purpose of getting out of and away from the building as rapidly as possible. Fire drills should be practiced frequently and at irregular and secret times, as these repetitions will familiarize children with their duties and in the event of fire they will not be taken unawares.

Our department has compiled a list of fatalities resulting from fire taken from clippings of local state newspapers, furnished the department by a state clipping bureau. For the first six months of the present fiscal year, commencing July 1, 1913, our statistical tables show the following deaths from fire during those six months: July, 7; August, 16; September, 5; October, 18; November, 4; December, 8; total, 58. Of the causes assigned the most frequently for the fires resulting in the 58 deaths, children playing with matches was given ten times, carelessness with gasoline line, and starting or hastening stove fires with kerosene eight. Thus it will be seen that nearly one-half the fires resulting in these deaths had their origin from one of the three most common fire causes. Using the multiple of three, which the United States government employs in such cases, there were also 174 very serious injuries from fires during the same half-year period. On the assumption that the same ratio of deaths and serious injuries from fire will continue for the succeeding six months this would give 116 fatalities and 384 serious casualties for the whole year.

As this state has most fortunately been spared any great school-house holocausts, such as several other parts of our country have seen even in recent years, we have quoted the above statistics in order to show that the fire threat is ever lurking near, and that the greatest care and caution should be exercised, especially where, as in the schools, large numbers of human beings are gathered together for so much of the time.

CLEM P. HOST.

State Fire Marshal.

The Diver and His Clothes.

When clothed in the ordinary diver's suit topped with the heavy brass helmet a diver is helpless. The air that is pumped down to him fills not only the helmet, but the entire suit, puffing it out to such an extent that heavy weights are required to keep the man down. The work that he can do is limited. One of the annoyances that he has to endure is the fact that he cannot reach inside of his suit to ease any discomfort. A diver once discovered a June bug in his helmet when he was down under water, and he was obliged to endure all the torture of having the insect crawl over his face without any possible means of reaching it to destroy it or even brush it away. Recently, however, a French inventor devised a diver's outfit which dispenses with everything but an abbreviated form of helmet. Air is pumped to the diver in the usual way, thru a pipe which is attached to his helmet at the back of the neck.

Yes, Indeed, Three-pence is Three-pence.

Since the national health insurance act went into effect in England last summer washing day has threatened to move down the week from Monday to anywhere this side of baking day, which anybody who knows anything knows is Saturday. The reason is that the first employer of the week has to pay the washerwoman's insurance contribution. So if you keep Monday for your wash day you have to pay three-pence extra. A good many employers have already shifted to Tuesday, in the hope that other and more stubborn housekeepers will stick to Monday and pay the three-pence. But if everybody changes to Tuesday there will be nothing for it but for the economical to change again to Wednesday and to continue changing until all the possibilities in the case are exhausted. It is said that conventional England contemplates this shifting of wash day with a stony horror, but three-pence is three-pence.—New York Post.

Attention Farmers.

About April 1, a carload of Ground Rock Phosphate will be on track in Grand Rapids, which can be had for $8.50 per ton. Write or see L. E. Peckham, two miles south of city on east side. Route No. 7, 2c.

PROTECT THE BIRDS.

The Appleton Daily Crescent gives the following account of an interesting lecture on "Wild Animals and Birds," which should be read by all people:

"In the last thirty years ninety per cent. of the normal bird life of this country has been destroyed. Only ten per cent. of our birds are left. Great scientists say that if all insect-eating birds should be exterminated, in three years thereafter the continent would be uninhabitable. That is the problem with which we are face to face, said Col. G. O. Shields in his illustrated lecture on 'Wild Animals and Birds.'"

"Col. Shields speaks with authority. In his younger, unregenerate days he was a hunter, until he came to realize the economic value of birds and the appalling danger of their extinction. He has devoted forty years in the interest of the game birds and animals of this country. He is the head of the League of American Sportsmen with 15,000 members and founded the magazine 'Recreation,' of which he was the editor for fifteen years."

The lecturer said that there are 10,000,000 guns in use every year, millions of them in the hands of men and boys, who violate all game laws. He declared that the people of the United States, primarily the farmers and fruit growers, lose millions of dollars annually from insect pests which could be controlled by the birds if their numbers had not been ruthlessly decimated. "The balance of nature has been destroyed," said Col. Shields, "and we must pay the penalty."

Ignorant foreigners who kill song birds and insect-eating birds without compunction; the slaughter of these birds during the winter by both the rifle and the game-law sportsman of the south and the northerner who destroy insects were scored by the speaker as the formidable factors in the fight for the preservation of bird life because of its value in dollars and its value beyond measure to nature lovers.

"I appeal to all of you who may be hunters to 'let up' on the birds," said Col. Shields. "Make the same sacrifice I have made. For at least five years lay aside your gun and give the birds a chance to recuperate, to 'come back.' You will have to do now for five years, or later your children and your children's children for generations will not see a bird. It is either five years or five hundred."

No power on earth, said the speaker, can stay the ravages of the gypsy moth and other moths that destroy trees, excepting the birds. They must be protected and allowed to take care of the insects.

"Are we going to sit idly by and see this slaughter go on? Ten million men kill the birds of this country by belonging to all of us. The other 90,000,000 must pass laws in every state to protect our fast-vanishing wild life. The best thing President Taft did during his administration was to sign the migratory bird law in March 4, 1913," said the convert, speaking from the rostrum.

As an example of the value of certain birds he mentioned the fact that each quail eats 75,000 bugs and worms during a season, besides millions of seeds of noxious weeds, thus helping the farmer in two important ways. He estimated the value of each quail as $15 a pair and its average weight when eaten at four ounces. "That is meat at $6.25 an ounce—what can afford that?" Col. Shields said the camera was 400 per cent. better for hunting than the gun. Most of the slides shown were from negatives of photographs taken in the haunts of wild birds and animals, and such pictures he said were far more valuable for wretched trophies than the stuffed or mounted remains of slaughtered animals.

The New Town Election Law.

The spring elections will be held April 7, 1914, so the last day for holding town caucuses under the new town election law will be March 30. Attorney General Owen has made public an opinion on this law that is of interest. It reads in part as follows:

"It was the plain intent of the legislature to eliminate all party contests in town and village elections and substitute therefor a purely nonpartisan election," says Mr. Owen. "The caucus referred to in the law is to be a nonpartisan caucus of all the electors of the town, whatever political affiliation, and it is the nominees of such caucus that will be entitled to a place, as caucus nominees, on the official ballot at the election. It follows that there is to be no party designation of candidates on the official ballot."

"The fact that the law does not provide any method of calling the first caucus is evidently due to an oversight on the part of the legislature and creates some uncertainty and confusion as to how the first caucus shall be called. Inasmuch as no method is provided in the law itself for the calling of the first caucus, it is apparent that such first caucus cannot be called under legal authority."

"There also seems to be some uncertainty as to whether both those who are nominated at the caucus and others who are nominated by nomination papers are entitled to positions on the ballot. Upon this subject the law is plain. The names of those who are nominated at the caucus are to be placed on the official ballot."

Mr. Owen suggests that where caucuses have not been held a number of electors should circulate a call for a caucus to be held at a given time. He says that the voters should be well notified of the time of holding the caucus also says a candidate defeated at the caucus may be nominated by a nomination paper, if he receives the requisite number of signatures.

SUITS AND OVERCOATS MADE TO ORDER.

No More—$16.50—No Less.

We are offering the public our 20 years experience as tailors in helping them select their goods for wear or style. Our trade has more than doubled in the last year. That speaks for itself. Come in and look over our blue serge and the goods and compare for same price elsewhere. Peoples' Tailoring Co., west end of city.

—Nomination Blanks for Town Officers for sale at this office.

THIS IS SOME FISH STORY

Editor Journal:—Much has been written of late in the newspapers about the mammoth deep sea fish caught near Knights Key and landed at Miami, Florida.

We had the pleasure of examining the specimen, and I hope a description of it will be of interest to the readers of the Journal. The monster has a length of 45 feet, a circumference of 22 feet, 9 inches, a diameter of 8 feet, 3 inches and a weight of fifteen tons. The measurements of the mouth when open were 31 inches by 38 inches wide and 43 inches deep. The tongue was 40 inches long and around the oval opening were several thousand small teeth, all slanting in, so it would be to impossible for its prey to escape when once within its grasp. The liver of the fish weighed 1,700 pounds.

The size and contents of the stomach would beggar description. Several specimens of deep sea animals unknown to scientists were found among the contents. One specimen in particular that had not been destroyed by the process of digestion proved very interesting. In general appearance it resembled one of these blubken babies that are for sale as a children's toy.

This giant of the deep should not be confused with the whale. The whale is an air breather and lives on the surface of the water. This is a true fish or water breather and has gill openings on each side of its head, four feet long. The home of the fish is in 2,000 to 5,000 feet of water and below the penetration of sunlight. We had the pleasure of making a careful examination of the enucleated eye ball, and found it very small and rudimentary, the same as in animals that live in total darkness. The vertebrae or backbone of the fish were only partly ossified, the remainder being cartilage, which, according to all other animal life, proves according to the process of development that it is only a minnow of its species.

This fish for some unknown reason had wandered from its native element and enormous pressure of the deep sea, to the surface, and was sick, the same as a person on a high mountain top when the atmosphere pressure is removed. In this condition it was found by the fishermen, and five harpoons and 151 bullets were fired into its body, and then it towed heavy fishing boats more than a hundred miles, while the fight lasted thirty-nine hours before it was exhausted and landed on the beach.

Scientists have known for years that there is much more animal life in the deep sea than upon the surface.

Verily, she is a sight to catch the risibilities of man.

For she is garbed in the wonderful raiment that is the fashion of the period.

And though she did spend many shekels on her costume the reason is not apparent.

Nay, to mere man it seemeth that she hath been put to very little expense.

For never, since fig leaves were discarded in favor of garments of woven cloth, hath woman appeared so strangely and lightly clad.

The maiden weareth a skirt that litteth her even as the skin litteth the apple.

And around its edge is a strip of fur, less than an inch wide, the reason for which no mortal mind knoweth.

And she hath stockings that are thinner, even, than the net which in summer is placed about our beds to keep the vibrant-voiced Jersey canaries from stinging us into miserable wakefulness.

And her feet are incased in slippers with heels that are so high that they resemble stilts.

Or they have no heels whatsoever, and if the skirt hath a slit and the slippers are innocent of heels, she slithereth as she goes upon her way.

But, if the skirt hath no slit, and her slippers are high-heeled, she hopeth, yes, even as a sparrow hopeth about the ground.

And her coat, verily, man shivereth as he doeth gaze upon it.

For it is thin, yea, very thin.

It hath snowy lace about the cuffs.

And about the collar it hath snowy lace that sticketh up high behind and beside her neck.

And in front there is a deep cut V which exposeth her throat to the rude winds of winter and becometh to the demons of influenza and like harbingers of misery, to gather in another victim.

Upon her cheeks she weareth a blush that she did purchase from a chemist in the market place.

And her lips are so rosy that they would make the traditional cherry seem pale and wan.

And she believeth that the unnaturalness of her coloring escapeth detection.

Yea, for such a confidence is young maidenhood.

Upon her head she weareth that which beggarth description by one who has not acquired a technical knowledge of the art of the milliner.

The part that first attracteth the attention, yea, and holdeth it, too, is a nearfeather, the like of which hath never been found on any bird known to ornithologists.

It sticketh upright like unto a fish-pole pole with a feather duster upon it, or a half-grown date palm that hath been blackened by smoke.

And as the maiden walketh along the street, it bendeth, perilsously before the wind.

Strange as her raiment is, the maiden hath the serene air of one who appeareth to say unto herself:

"Verily, I am the observed of all observers; yea, I am the cynosure of all eyes."

But what sayeth man, on whom the maiden believeth she doth make a fine impression?

Behold, man laugheth in the sleeve of his turtlet and sayeth, beneath his breath:

"Gee! Don't she look funny!"

—Frank H. Kelley, in Truth.

A TALE OF TWO CONTRACTORS.

Two contractors were engaged in a railroad building job. One contractor required every man going to work for him to remove his clothing and take a bath. A clean suit of overalls was then furnished him until his clothing could be disinfected. The employer did this because he didn't want dirty men working for him. He was determined that there should be no lice in his camp. Each laborer was furnished with a good sized tent with a board floor. The tent was supplied with a spring cot and clean bedding. Tents were screened with mosquito netting. The cooking and dining tents were kept in sanitary and invitingly clean condition. Garbage and manure disposed of so as not to attract flies. Privies were screened to prevent flies carrying infection from typhoid or other intestinal diseases. Men who were dirty tramps when they arrived left as clean self-respecting men.

The other contractor did as most contractors do. Whatever his own idea of cleanliness might be, he "wasted no money on trills." The first contractor had no trouble getting men. The best came to him. There was absolutely no sickness. The only doctor's bill in nine months was for a man who had his arm broken by a horse.

The conditions of the two contracts and the work done were practically identical. The first contractor made a handsome profit. The second actually lost money.

If the moral of this tale were applicable only to railroad builders, there would be no point in printing it here. A railroad construction camp is a small community. The contractor or is the ruling power. In the civil community the voters are the supreme authority. As such they can determine what the living and working conditions of their community shall be.

The moral, however, has an even more personal application. A community is an aggregation of individual homes. The housewife is usually the authority on management. She can see to it that her house is screened and clean. The cost of a clean water supply, of proper sewage and garbage disposal can be met by the saving in doctor's bills, extra help made necessary by avoidable sickness, etc., not to mention avoidable funeral expense.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Misplaced Fat.

Question: How can I reduce large, flabby abdomen? N. M. H.

Answer: Eat less, particularly of starchy food and sugars. Try the following exercises faithfully:

1. Lie on your back on table or firm bed, hips at edge and legs hanging over, heels resting on floor. Slowly raise legs until toes point at ceiling. Lower legs as slowly as possible. Keep knees straight. Repeat as strength permits.

2. Stand perfectly erect, head level, all muscles tense. Expand chest, draw in abdomen as far as possible. Maintain position, breathing naturally.

3. Stand and walk with chest thrown far out and abdomen drawn far in.

Repeat all exercises as frequently as strength and inclination permit. These are excellent general exercises for anybody to use.

Tuberculosis.

Question: Where can I secure information on consumption? J. E. O.

Answer: Write Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association, Milwaukee for free packet of literature. See if local library has books on subject.

Cure For Cold Bed.

O. F. B. writes: I've tried sleeping with windows wide open and have been cold in spite of heavy weight of coverings.

Answer: Your bed is undoubtedly wrongly made. Warmth depends more on what's below than on top of sleeper. An extra mattress, preferably felt, canvas, oilcloth, thick paper or wooden blanket as a mattress cover will permit removing some of coverings. A cheap, light and warm blanket to be used under or over sleeper can be made by padding cotton-forters with paper instead of cotton.

This Is Reassuring.

Give President Wilson and Secretary Bryan credit with Mr. Mann, the Republican leader of the House, for knocking in the head, by a vote of 182 to 0, an amendment to the Immigration Bill which would exclude Asiatics from this country. This was the severest setback the radical, impetuous element in Congress has received in years. The bill to restrict immigration, known as the Burnett bill, has aroused opposition throughout the United States because of its literary test. We know men of wealth and position who never had the benefit of a common school education and who under the Burnett bill would not be permitted to land as immigrants on our shores. Offensive as the bill was in this feature it became still more offensive to foreign nations, including Japan, when the Asiatic exclusion amendment was inserted. It was said that members of Congress would climb over each other to vote for the bill because certain labor leaders demanded its passage. We do not believe that any man or set of men can deliver the labor vote. There is no more independent voter in this country today than the man who works in the shop or in the counting room. An outcry was raised, during President Roosevelt's administration, that unless a bill to exclude Asiatics was passed, the labor vote of California would be lost to the Republican party. But President Roosevelt sent a special message to Congress, urging a fair naturalization law for the Japanese. What happened? He swept the state of California in the struggle as recently as 1912. Politicians who are planning to capture the labor vote will find that labor is as independent at the polls as capital itself. They will find also that the business men of this country exercise some influence and still indulge in the privilege of voting.—Lestlie's.

Prompt Efficient Service

LEWIS J. ERON,

Licensed Practical Plumber

Office Phone 378. Res. Phone 778.

3rd Ave. S., near Grand Ave.

DR. S. E. COTTRILL,

Veterinarian

Old Waterbury, 34 St. S., near west side Market Square, office phone 58, res. phone 555

My Personal Attention Given to All Work

The Badger Shoe Hospital

Is now ready for all kinds of shoe repairing. Shoe Repairing with first-class, up-to-date shoe machinery.

All Work Guaranteed.

Prices Reasonable.

H. NEIMAN, Prop.

Grand Ave., next to Siskien Barber Shop.

THE OPEN DOOR SILO

AND PAT. DOOR FRAMES FOR SILOS, Concrete or Brick Silos.

BIRON.

Lawrence Akey spent Sunday at Rudolph visiting his parents and friends.

Clarence Wellner spent Sunday with his family in Port Edwards.

Jeff and Lawrence Akey took in the show in your city Saturday night. They say it was a good show.

Mrs. Eugene Crotteau and little son Gordon are here for a week or so at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Akey and family.

Mrs. Mike Wolfe and little daughter of your city were in our berg last week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Biron and other relatives.

Miss Sophie Oleson was on the sick list the past week.

John Slusser resigned his position at the mill and gone to your city to live.

Andrew Carlson was in your city Tuesday on business.

Albert Flick was sick a few days the past week.

John Possley went to Prairie du Chien the past week to be treated for rheumatism.

E. C. Ketchum and help got thru putting up ice for the company the past week.

Mose Marcoux was up here a few times the past week looking after his men working on the boom.

Elmer Babcock and Harry Peterson are taking advantage sailing on the ice while it is clear of snow. It's a fright how anyone will get up such a machine. It runs just as well against the wind as with it.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shaurette are rejoicing over the arrival of a big baby girl the past week.

Mrs. Arminie Shaurette and son George were in our berg the past week.

Mrs. Frank Stellmacher was in our berg the past week cleaning her house. There is a new family to live in it this summer.

Fred Trudelle and Elmer Oleson were in your city Saturday doing some trading.

MEEHAN.

Otto and Will Huckle will start this week for Sioux City, Iowa, where they will spend the coming summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Schiltz of Rudolph visited friends here Sunday.

Sidney Parks of Stevens Point was calling on friends Sunday. He expects to leave soon for Iowa.

The diphtheria patients have about recovered and we are thankful that it did not get spread thru our neighborhood.

Wild geese and rain are among the signs that Spring is not far away. These signs both were here last Sunday.

Edwin Parks children have been sick the past week, some of them being under the doctors care, being threatened with pneumonia.

We notice that our town caucus has been called rather early this year being called on March 21st, at 2 p. m. in Plover Post Hall. Of course under the new law the candidates must have time to circulate nomination papers and sing their songs.

Stanley Pascavis of Rudolph spent Sunday with friends here. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pascavis have been spending the winter at Mosley Junction, Virginia, and will move there as soon as business matters are arranged.

Potatoes came in rather lively last week so agreeable for handling them and of course that five cent per bushel raise hurried them along some.

Johnnie Francis' old log shanty has been taken down recently. As we pass by the place we cannot help but think of the poor lonely old fellow that spent so many years in the old hut. To those who would like to know we might say that old Uncle Johnnie is still alive and in a hospital at Marshfield.

A bunch of picture agents was at work around here last week delivering pictures and selling frames.

Henry Blood who has lived here a number of years loaded his household goods, machinery and tools in a car Monday and went to City Point to take charge of a stock farm. Henry was always hustling and we are sure it will be a little lonesome over in the corner he vacated.

NEW ROME.

"Hurrah for the Shamrock."

The young folks of this locality are expecting to attend a St. Patrick's party at the David Ramsey home at Saratoga.

Mrs. Taylor of Big Flats who has spent the winter in Chicago for the benefit of her health has returned home. In company with her grand daughter May Tuttle she called on her friend Mrs. Ben Wheeler Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lueck and daughter Minnie spent Sunday at the William Ingraham home.

There was a dance at the Athletic Hall Saturday night.

Tom Taylor who has been working for H. Lueck a couple of weeks has gone home to make preparations with his nephew Earl Tuttle to leave for Pennsylvania in the near future.

Harvey Evans who recently moved with his family to what is known as the Sunthal place, celebrated his birthday by inviting the neighborhood over for a party last Wednesday night. Refreshments were served and a good time was enjoyed by all that were present.

John Sweet and Pat Peterson have gone into partnership buying stock. Have been very busy this week. They bought 13 head of cattle in Oakridge.

Mr. Ben Wheeler for several years past has been driving the wagon and collecting the cream from the patrons of J. E. Gazeley, of the Nekosha Creamery has quit the position. Ben Burhite of Barnum has taken his place.

Our town treasurer Joe Corbin has ended his collecting and will go to Friendship to settle with the county.

Special Offer to Catholics.

Clip out this advertisement and mail it to the undersigned with 25 cents and they will credit you for ten weeks introductory trial subscription to THE CATHOLIC CITIZEN, the popular, interesting and virile Catholic home paper, published weekly at Milwaukee for over 40 years. It has the best national and international news service of any Catholic paper in the United States, vigorous editorials, and 12 departments of interest to all members of the family. You cannot make better use of 25 cents than to acquaint yourself with this great paper. Take advantage of this special offer today. The Catholic Citizen, Wisconsin Bldg., Milwaukee, Wis.

NEWS ITEMS FROM NEARBY PLACES.

Indian Found Froze to Death.

The body of Charley Green, a well known Winnebago Indian, was found in the woods about six miles north of here last Monday by Jos. Bowen. He was last seen alive last Thursday. Coroner Otis Loomis and District Attorney Hanson were notified and they went from Mauston and vlow d they body. As there seemed to be no question but that he froze to death while drunk, it was deemed unnecessary to hold an inquest. Thus ends the career of a familiar Indian in these parts. Charley was a good-natured Indian but possessed a strong appetite for firewater. He seemed to have no trouble in procuring it, as he was very frequently under its influence. The coroner and district attorney brought the body of Mr. Green to the county building in this city and placed it in charge of undertaker Gray and our city policeman Henry Kelk. It was prepared for burial and placed in a plain black casket. Yesterday at 9:30 a few friends of the deceased, and other citizens, gathered round the casket and listened to religious service given by Rev. F. R. Harding. The body was then taken in charge by Henry Plurg, overseer of the county, and buried in the cemetery at the county farm.—New Lisbon Times.

Plainfield.—Last week Jessor Clarence Wood and Albert Urban moved seven buildings from the various O'Connor farms all onto the main farm, owned by O'Connor Bros., and they now have a small village all their own. The farms have been all turned into one huge farm of 1800 acres, and is one of the largest cultivated farms in central Wisconsin. The buildings were moved distances ranging from 80 rods to a mile.

Placed On Probation.

Stevens Point Journal.—John Scholtz, who recently embezzled the sum of $257 from the Jewell Tea company, for whom he was the local agent, was taken before Judge B. B. Park late Saturday afternoon and sentenced to a term of one year in the reformatory at Green Bay. He was, however, placed upon probation upon his promise of good behavior. Scholtz is now in the county jail awaiting the decision of the state board of control, who it is expected will find him employment. Scholtz said that he took the money belonging to the company and disappeared while under the influence of liquor.

Sentenced to Reformatory.

Stevens Point Journal.—L. E. Budde, the young man who recently defrauded several South side people by passing worthless checks, was taken before Judge B. B. Park on Saturday afternoon. Upon his plea of guilty he was sentenced to serve a term of one year in the reformatory at Green Bay. He said before sentence was pronounced that he had sufficient money coming from parties in Minneapolis to repay the amount he had obtained illegally.

Store and Warehouse burned.

MARSHFIELD.—The large general store and warehouse owned by Connor Lumber and Land company at Laona, Forrest county, was destroyed by fire Friday morning with a loss of $50,000. The new hotel recently built by W. D. Connor, close by, was also damaged.

Livestock Dies in Fire.

BARABOO.—Fire on Friday destroyed a barn belonging to Bert Ellis, with five horses, three cows, hay and grain.

REMINGTON.

A basket social will be held at the school house in district No. 2 on March 21st, given by Miss Hanson. All are cordially invited to attend.

R. F. Hass our town chairman was a business visitor at Grand Rapids, Marshfield and Nekosha several days last week.

Miss Kata Daniels of Babcock, Miss Etta Daniels of Cranmore were home visitors over Sunday.

C. S. Lowe made a business trip to Dexterville on Sunday.

Mrs. Alvin Caylor of Tomah visited the parental home here.

The Catholic ladies of Babcock will hold a fair at Babcock on Election Day on April 7th. Dinner will be served at the old hotel. All are invited to attend.

Services were held by the Lutherans at the school on Saturday, Mar. 14. Miss Etta Daniels and Dan Daniels were confirmed according to the rites of the Lutheran faith.

Chas. Sanger attended the wedding of Miss Erna Adamshack of Nekosha to a young man from Rothschild, Wis. last week.

Mrs. Anna Cummings is still in very poor health and unable to be out as yet.

Miss Meta Hass spent a couple of days last week at her mother's home.

Chas. Miller and Robert Sanger of Grand Rapids were visitors at the Hass home last week.

Miss Lena Rutz who has been living in Manning, Iowa for the past year returned to her home the fore part of last week.

Mrs. A. Hass, Mrs. Colleen Fredrick Hass of Rudolph all attended the funeral of Mr. Conrad Myers of Union Center, Wis. Mr. and Mrs. Myers and family were old residents of this place. They moved to Union Center some years ago. Mr. Myers died in Nebraska, the body being shipped to his home for burial, the cause of his death being pneumonia.

Miss Alice Casey visited her parents on Saturday and Sunday.

There are lots of new settlers coming in here from other states and locating on different farms around. We are glad and wish them success as it will help to build up our town.

There is much talk of the building of a potato house at Babcock. This would be a great advantage to the farmers and would also induce them to raise more potatoes if they had a market for them at home.

Mrs. Carl Kottke is in very poor health at present.

Worth Knowing.

The gold beaters of Berlin, at the Paris exposition, showed gold leaves so thin that it would require 282,000 to produce the thickness of a single leaf, yet each leaf is so perfect and free from holes as to be impenetrable by the strongest electric light; if these leaves were bound in book form it would take 15,000 to fill the space of ten common book leaves.

Business Before Space Filling.

It begins to look to a man up a tree pretty much as though the trouble at Marshfield had simmered down to newspaper talk as a space filler, and this, if effective at all, is doing no perceptible good and causing considerable of mischief within the confines of the city.

Blatant newspaper service, especially when continued to the point of exasperation, never did prove of avail. The average reader will honor the newspaper bold enough to take a stand and stick to it, but tires of the policy of riding a free horse to death.

Had the scramble for petty recognition at Marshfield played even, the county, ere this, would have been involved, and, as it is, undue exaggeration has been given the policy maintained in the district attorney's office.

Attorney Briere has made an admirable officer and in numerous instances has saved the county much expense by his forethought and his insight into conditions and affairs.

Just now, emerging from a difficult proposition, he rises clear headed, cool and calculating. With reference to the Sunday closing of Marshfield saloons he has saved the county a considerable sum. Marshfield saloons will be closed Sundays without a cent of expense or starting a suit.

If Marshfield will not recognize such generalship, Wood county, on the whole, will, and the information comes as a glad relief that there is one officer of the state who is back-ward at the expense account.—Pittsville Record.

PLEASANT HILL.

John Horn, Sr., is on the mend and will soon be able to be out again. Mrs. Ada Fox is on the sick list.

P. H. Likes went to Waukesha Tuesday.

Alf. Alms was a business caller at Grand Rapids, Saturday.

Alvin Whitlock of Grand Rapids was seen on our streets Sunday. He called at the John Bucknell home.

Martin Whitlock was a Grand Rapids caller last week.

Will Strope sawed wood for W. Zuelke Saturday.

Henry Gachnang returned last week from Baraboo, where he has spent the winter.

John Gachnang is having a well drilled.

Mrs. Andrews of Marshfield is visiting her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Andrews.

John Dawson of Pittsville attended church here Sunday. Come again John.

A social will be given at the church Friday evening, March 20. A fine supper will be served.

Little Kirkwood Likes is on the sick list.

Mrs. Dyer slipped on a piece of ice and sprained her ankle. Her daughter came home Saturday to care for her mother.

Fred Fox went to Vesper Saturday. The Ladies Aid met with Mrs. Ada Fox Tuesday.

Mrs. Peter Hansen is visiting relatives here.

—Have customers for partially improved farms, cut over lands, and small timber tracts. Bargains only, write Hardy & Ryan, Waukesha, Wis.

NOTICE OF JUDICIAL ELECTION.

State of Wisconsin, Department of State.—

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that an election, to be held in the several towns, villages and election precincts on the first Tuesday of April, A. D. 1914, being the seventh day of said month, the following officers are to be elected:

A JUSTICE OF THE SUPREME COURT to succeed James C. Korwin, whose term expires the first Monday in January, 1915.

A CIRCUIT JUDGE FOR THE SEVENTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT, comprised of the counties of Portage, Waupaca, Waushara and Wood, to succeed B. E. Park, whose term expires the first Monday in January, 1915.

Given under my hand and official seal at the Capitol in the City of Madison this 12th day of March, A. D. 1914.

J. S. DONALD, Secretary of State.

A COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION consisting of five members for each county board of education district.

And such other officers as are required by law to be elected at such election.

Given under my hand and official seal at the Court House in the City of Grand Rapids, Wood County, this 13th day of arch, A. D. 1914.

F. H. LEBERHART, County Clerk of Wood County.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to those kind neighbors and friends who so thoughtfully extended their assistance and sympathy during the sickness and after the death of my wife. Also for the many beautiful floral offerings. Ed. Brehm.

—Legal blanks for sale at this office.

Death of Mrs. Brehm.

Mrs. Louise Brehm, wife of Edw. Brehm, died at her home on the west side on Wednesday, March 11th, after an illness of about a week death being the result of blood poisoning.

Deceased, whose maiden name was Louise Schultz, was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schultz of the town of Sigel, where she was born and raised. She was married to Mr. Brehm five years ago and besides her husband, leaves three children, the youngest being a baby three weeks old.

The funeral was held on Saturday from the Lutheran church in Sigel, the services being conducted by Rev. Gelsman of that church.

—Once smoked, always liked. Lucky Sam, 16 cents.

SARATOGA.

(Too late for Last Week.) James Johnson departed for Canada Monday after spending the winter with his parents here.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Peterson, March 8, a son.

A number of neighbors and friends surprised Mr. and Mrs. Peter Knutson, Feb. 26, the occasion being their first wedding anniversary.

Lawrence Nelson, who has been spending two weeks at the home of his Aunt Mrs. M. P. Johnson departed for his home in Eau Claire Monday.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet with Mrs. Axel Peterson on Thursday, afternoon, arch 19.

A large number of friends gave Miss Ella Rasmussen surprise, on Tuesday in honor of her birthday.

Mrs. Bertha Dahl of Kilbourn, arrived here Thursday and is visiting with relatives here.

Knutie Knutson has moved his family to the place known as the Hans Peterson place until he gets his new home built.

Geo. Peterson had one of his horses badly caulked Saturday and was obliged to call on the veterinary

After April 1st 1914
The Soo Line Lands You
in the
BUSINESS HEART OF CHICAGO
FREIGHT TERMINAL 12th STREET AND CANAL.
PASSENGER STATION GRAND CENTRAL 5th & HARRISON.
Ask The Soo Line Agent

"Truth makes an excellent corner stone for a newspaper which seeks permanency and popularity. No public man has ever yet been destroyed by the purely malicious lying of a newspaper. No newspaper was ever built up by the gratification of the malice of its editor in the matter of lying. The experience of many editors in the campaign of 1912, who tried to divide the Democratic party by abuse of Joseph E. Davies, John Aylward and other eminent Democrats in charge of Hon. Woodrow Wilson's campaign in Wisconsin, ought to teach them that the invention of falsehoods and lying by inuendo as a means of working personal injury, produce very poor returns on the capital invested. The methods used in the Presidential campaign by a Tory press to discredit these men, will be used in the coming campaign and with greater effort to divide the Democratic party and the Democratic press of the state.

The Presidential campaign that Joseph E. Davies and John Aylward conducted in Wisconsin was a most memorable one. The way they succeeded in view of the light made against them is most remarkable. Judge Harmon came into the field early backed with plenty of money and supported by some of the best Democratic politicians in the state. In less than thirty days the Judge ordered his headquarters in the Washington block in Madison closed. Later came Speaker Clark with plenty of money and a following that was not to be despised. They placed a ticket in every congressional district in the state. Then began a battle royal. Joseph E. Davies, John Aylward and a few men hired some rooms and went to work. They had no money. We remember one time they had to meet a postage bill of three thousand dollars and they gave their personal notes to get the money. John Aylward and Joseph E. Davies never saw their places of business from the time the campaign started until closed. And as a reward for that service rendered in the election of the greatest president the country has had in years, John Aylward drew the United States District Attorneyship and Joseph E. Davies was made commissioner of corporations. Is the reward adequate to the service rendered? Could not those young men, with their ability, earn more by staying in their offices than they will receive as government servants? Do you not think that it was their love for the great Democratic leader and the principles that he stands for that encouraged them in carrying on the good work? We can speak freely on these matters because we are not seeking office nor is there any office we want. It is glory enough for us to see a Democrat in the White House at Washington and hear our Republican friends tell us he is the best president in years."—Chippewa Falls Independent.

ADVERTISED MAIL.

List of mail advertised at Grand Rapids, Wis., March 17, 1914.

Ladies: Marie Johnson, Miss Elsie Schneider.

Gentlemen: Mr. N. F. Albee, Chas. Grimm, Charles Hemmeny, Mr. Arthur Kurth, Vincent Laphuay.

ROBT. NASH., P.

Lucky Sam is a good elgar with a long hair. It's only a nickel and has lots of other centers beaten.

An Anchor To Windward
Many men are like ships, they have anchors which they can throw out during a storm and hold fast. To keep from drifting get an anchor, one which will hold during any kind of a blow or storm.
One really good anchor is to trade with a firm like this. We will be the holding ground and confidence will be your anchor. When we abuse this confidence of yours, quit us; until then anchor here and hold fast.
We are receiving a car of new stuff every day (sometimes more) to supply the demand for "That Good Lumber."
Ben-the-Booster, with
KELLOGG BROS. LUMBER CO.

We Show Here a Few of The Many New Stylecraft Ladies' and Children's Coats and Suits

Assortments Are Larger Than Ever and Prices that will show you a handsome saving. Our $10.00 and $12.50 coats compare favorably with most $15 and $17.50 garments. We also have a large line from $7.50 up to $25.00. The popular materials are Eporges, Ratines, Moire Silk, Bengaline Wool and Silk, Fancy Weaves, Checks, Etc.

Sample Dresses in Wool and Silk, Mixed Crepe, Ratine and Serges. These sample dresses, no two alike were bought at a discount enabling us to sell them at wholesale prices.

New White Confirmation and Graduating Dresses from $2.75 to $12.50.

We are showing new plaid Skirts, Petticoats and Waists, Burson Hose, seconds, while they last a few dozen still in stock to go at 16c per pair.

It means economy for you, to give us a look before buying elsewhere.

W. C. WEISEL

BIRON.
Lawrence Akey spent Sunday at Rudolph visiting his parents and friends.
Clarence Wellner spent Sunday with his family in Port Edwards.
Jeff and Lawrence Akey took in the show in your city Saturday night. They say it was a good show.
Mrs. Eugene Croft and Little Son Gordon are here for a week or so at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Akey and family.
Mrs. Mike Wolfe and Little daughter of your city were in our berg last week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Biron and other relatives.
Miss Sophie Oleson was on the sick list the past week.
John Slusser resigned his position at the mill and gone to your city to live.
Andrew Carlson was in your city Tuesday on business.
Albert Flick was sick a few days the past week.
John Possley went to Prairie du Chien the past week to be treated for rheumatism.
E. C. Ketchum and help got thru putting up ice for the company the past week.
Miss Marcoux was up here a few times the past week looking after his men working on the boom.
Elmer Babcock and Harry Peterson are taking advantage sailing on the ice while it is clear of snow. It's a fright how anyone will get up such a machine. It runs like a well-oiled machine with it.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shaurette are rejoicing over the arrival of a big baby girl the past week.
Mrs. Arnette Shaurette and son George were in our berg the past week.
Mrs. Frank Stellmacher was in our berg the past week cleaning her house. There is a new family to live in it this summer.
Fred Trudelle and Elmer Oleson were in your city Saturday doing some trading.

MEEHAN.
Otto and Hunk will start this week for Sioux City, Iowa, where they will spend the coming summer.
Mr. and Mrs. Matt Schiltz of Rudolph visited friends here Sunday.
Sidney Parks of Stevens Point was calling on friends Sunday. He expects to leave soon for Iowa.
The diptheria patients have about recovered and we are thankful that it did not get spread thru our neighborhood.
Wild geese and rain are among the signs that Spring is not far away. These signs both were here last Sunday.
Edwin Parks children have been sick the past week, some of them being under the doctors care, being threatened with pneumonia.
We notice that our town caucus has been called rather early this year being called on March 21st, at 2 p. m. in Plover Post Hall. Of course under the new law the candidates must have time to circulate nomination papers and sing their songs.
Stanley Pascevis of Rudolph spent Sunday with friends here. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pascevis have been spending the winter at Mosley Junction, Virginia, and will move there as soon as business matters are arranged.
Potatoes came in rather lively last week so agreeable for handling them and of course that live cent per bushel raise hurried them along some.
Johnnie Francis' old log shanty has been taken down recently. As we pass by the place we cannot help but think of the poor lonely old fellow that spent so many years in the old hut. To those who would like to know we might say that old Uncle Johnnie is still alive and in a hospital at Marshfield.
A bunch of picture agents was at work around here last week delivering pictures and selling frames.
Henry Blood who has lived here a number of years loaded his household goods, machinery and tools in a car Monday and went to City Point to take charge of a stock farm. Henry was always hustling and we are sure it will be a little lonesome over in the corner he vacated.

NEW ROME
"Hurrah for the Shamrock."
The young folks of this locality are expecting to attend St. Patrick's party at the David Ramsey home at Saratoga.
Mrs. Taylor of Big Flats who has spent the winter in Chicago for the benefit of her health has returned home. In company with her grand daughter May Tuttle she called on her friend Mrs. Ben Wheeler Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lueck and daughter Minnie spent Sunday at the William Ingraham home.
There was a dance at the Athletic Hall Saturday night.
Tom Taylor who has been working for H. Lueck a couple of weeks has gone home to make preparations with his nephew Earl Tuttle to leave for Pennsylvania in the near future.
Harvey Evans who recently moved with his family to what is known as the Sunthal place, celebrated his birthday by inviting the neighborhood over for a party last Wednesday night. Refreshments were served and a good time was enjoyed by all that were present.
John Swant and Pat Peterson have gone into partnership buying stock. Have been very busy this week. They bought 13 head of cattle in Oakridge.
Mr. Ben Wheeler for several years past has been driving the wagon and collecting the cream from the patrons of J. E. Gazeley, of the Nekosco Creamery has quit the position. Ben's wife of Barnum has taken his place.
Our town treasurer Joe Corbin has ended his collecting and will go to Friendship to settle with the county.
Special Offer to Catholics.
Clip out this advertisement and mail it to the undersigned with 25 cents and they will credit you for ten weeks introductory trial subscription to THE CATHOLIC CITIZEN, the popular, interesting and virile Catholic home paper, published weekly at Milwaukee for over 40 years. It has the best national and international news service of any Catholic paper in the United States, vigorous editorials, and 12 departments of interest to all members of the family. You cannot make better use of 25 cents than to acquaint yourself with this great paper. Take advantage of this special offer today. The Catholic Citizen, Wisconsin Bldg., Milwaukee, Wis.

NEWS ITEMS FROM NEARBY PLACES
Indian Found Froze to Death.
The body of a dead Indian, a well-known warrior, was found in the woods about six miles north of here last Monday by Jos. Bowen. He was last seen alive last Thursday. Coroner Otis Loomis and District Attorney Hanson were notified and they went from Mauston and vicinity to the body. As there seemed to be no question but that he had frozen to death while drunk, it was deemed unnecessary to hold an inquest. Thus ends the career of a familiar Indian in these parts. Charley was a good-natured Indian but possessed a strong appetite for firewater. He seemed to have no trouble in procuring it, as he was very frequent under its influence. The body of the Indian was found in the woods of Mr. Bowen, the body of the Indian was found in the woods of Mr. Bowen, the body of the Indian was found in the woods of Mr. Bowen.
Placed on Probation.
Stevens Point Journal:—John Schertz, who recently embezzled the sum of $287 from the Jewell Tea company, for which he was the local agent, was taken before Judge B. B. Park late Saturday afternoon and sentenced to a term of one year in the reformatory at Green Bay. He was, however, placed upon probation upon his promise of good behavior. Schertz is now in the county jail awaiting the decision of the state board of control, which it is expected will find him employable.
Schertz said that he took the money belonging to the company and disappeared while under the influence of liquor.
Sentenced to Reformatory.
Stevens Point Journal:—L. E. Buddie, the young man who recently defrauded several South side people by passing worthless checks, was taken before Judge L. L. Park on Saturday afternoon. Upon his plea of guilty he was sentenced to serve a term of one year in the reformatory at Green Bay. He said before sentence was pronounced that he had sufficient money coming from parties in Minneapolis to repay the amount he had obtained illegally.
Store and Warehouse burned.
MARSHFIELD:—The large general store and warehouse owned by Connor Lumber and Land company at Laona, Forrester county, was destroyed by fire Friday morning with a loss of $50,000. The new hotel recently built by W. D. Connor, close by, was also damaged.
Livestock Dies in Fire.
BARABOO:—Fire on Friday destroyed a barn belonging to Bert Ellis, with five horses, three cows, hay and grain.
REMINGTON.
A basket social will be held at the school house in district No. 2 on March 21st, given by Miss Hanson. All are cordially invited to attend.
R. F. Hass our town chairman was a business visitor at Grand Rapids, Marshfield and Nekosco several days last week.
Miss Kate Daniels of Babcock, Miss Etta Daniels of Cranmoor were home visitors over Sunday.
C. S. Lowe made a business trip to Dexterville on Sunday.
Mrs. Alvin Caylor of Tomah visited the parental home here.
The Catholic ladies of Babcock will hold a fair at Babcock on Election Day on April 7th. Dinner will be served at the old hotel. All are invited to attend.
Services were held by the Lutheran at the school on Saturday, Mar. 14. Miss Etta Daniels and Dan Daniels were confirmed according to the rites of the Lutheran faith.
Chas. Sanger attended the wedding of Miss Erma Adamshack of Nekosco to a young man from Rothschild, Wis. last week.
Mrs. Anna Cummings is still in very poor health and unable to be out as yet.
Miss Meta Hass spent a couple of days last week at her mother's home.
Chas. Miller and Robert Sanger of Grand Rapids were visitors at the Hass home last week.
Miss Lena Rutz who has been living in Manning, Iowa for the past year returned to her home the fore part of last week.
Mrs. A. Hass, Mrs. Colleen Fredrick Hass of Rudolph all attended the funeral of Mr. Conrad Myers of Union Center, Wis. Mr. and Mrs. Myers and family were old residents of this place. They moved to Union Center some years ago. Mr. Myers died in Nebraska, the body being shipped to here for burial. The cause of his death being pneumonia.
Miss Alice Casey visited her parents on Saturday and Sunday.
There are lots of new settlers coming in here from other states and locating on different farms around. We are glad and wish them success as it will help to build up our town.
There is much talk of the building of a potato house at Babcock. This would be a great advantage to the farmers and would also induce them to raise more potatoes if they had a market for them at home.
Mrs. Carl Kottke is in very poor health at present.
Worth Knowing.
The gold beaters of Berlin, at the Paris exposition, showed gold leaves so thin that it would require 252,000 to produce the thickness of a single inch, yet each leaf is so perfect and free from holes as to be impenetrable by the strongest electric light; if these leaves were bound in book form it would take 15,000 to fill the space of ten common book leaves.

Business Before Space Filling.
It begins to look to a man up a tree pretty much as though the trouble at Marshfield had simmered down to newspaper talk as a space filler, and this, if effective at all, is doing no perceptible good and causing considerable mischief within the confines of the city.
Blatant newspaper service, especially when continued to the point of exasperation, never did prove of avail. The average reader will honor the newspaper bold enough to take a stand and stick to it, but tires of the policy of riding a free horse to death.
Had the scramble for petty recognition at Marshfield played even, the county, ere this, would have been involved, and as it is, undue exasperation has been given the policy maintained in the district attorney's office.
Attorney Briere has made an admirable officer and in numerous instances has saved the county much expense by his forethought and his insight into conditions and affairs. Just now, emerging from a difficult proposition, he rises clear headed, cool and calculating. With reference to the Sunday closing of Marshfield saloons he has saved the county a considerable sum. Marshfield saloons will be closed Sundays without a cent of expense or starting a suit. If Marshfield will not recognize such generosity, Wood county, on the whole, will, and the information comes as a glad relief that there is one officer of the state who is back-ward at the expense account.—Pittsville Record.
PLEASANT HILL.
John Horn, Sr., is on the mend and will soon be able to be out again. P. H. Likes went to Waukesha Tuesday.
Alf. Aims was a business caller at Grand Rapids, Saturday.
Alvin Whitrock of Grand Rapids was seen on our streets Sunday. He called at the John Bucknell home.
Martin Whitrock was a Grand Rapids caller last week.
Will Strope sawed wood for W. Zuelke Saturday.
Henry Gachnang returned last week from Baraboo, where he has spent the winter.
John Gachnang is having a well drilled.
Mrs. Andrews of Marshfield is visiting her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Andrews.
John Dawson of Pittsville attended church here Sunday. Come again John.
A social will be given at the church Friday evening, March 20. A fine supper will be served.
Little Kirkwood Likes is on the sick list.
Mrs. Dyer slipped on a piece of ice and sprained her ankle. Her daughter came home Saturday to care for her mother.
Fred Fox went to Vesper Saturday.
The Ladies Aid met with Mrs. Ada Fox Tuesday.
Mrs. Peter Hansen is visiting relatives here.
Have customers for partially improved farms, cut over lands, and small timber tracts. Bargains only, write Hardy & Ryan, Waukesha, Wis.

NOTICE OF JUDICIAL AND COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION ELECTION.
State of Wisconsin, Department of State.—
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that at an election, to be held in the several towns, villages and election precincts on the first Tuesday of April, A. D. 1914, being the seventh day of said month, the following officers are to be elected:
A JUSTICE OF THE SUPREME COURT to succeed James C. Kerwin, whose term expires the first Monday in January, 1915.
A CIRCUIT JUDGE FOR THE SEVENTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT, comprised of the counties of Portage, Waupaca, Waushara and Wood, to succeed B. B. Park, whose term expires the first Monday in January, 1915.
Given under my hand and official seal at the City of Madison this 12th day of March, A. D. 1914.
J. S. DONALD, Secretary of State.
A COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION consisting of five members for each county board of education district.
And such other officers as are required by law to be elected at such election.
Given under my hand and official seal at the Court House in the City of Grand Rapids, Wood County, this 13th day of March, A. D. 1914.
F. H. BERNHARDT, County Clerk of Wood County.

Death of Mrs. Brehm.
Mrs. Louise Brehm, wife of Edw. Brehm, died at her home on the west side on Wednesday, March 11th, after an illness of about a week death being the result of blood poisoning.
Deceased, whose maiden name was Louise Schultz, was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schultz of the town of Sigel, where she was born and raised. She was married to Mr. Brehm five years ago and besides her husband, leaves three children, the youngest being a baby three weeks old.
The funeral was held on Saturday from the Lutheran church in Sigel, the services being conducted by Rev. Geiselman of that church.
—Once smoked, always liked. Lucky Sam, a pen.

SARATOGA.
(Too Late for Last Week.)
James Johnson departed for Canada Monday after spending the winter with his parents here.
Born to Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Peterson, March 8, a son.
A number of neighbors and friends surprised Mr. and Mrs. Peter Knuteson, Feb. 26, the occasion being their first wedding anniversary.
Lawrence Nelson, who has been spending two weeks at the home of his Aunt Mrs. M. P. Johnson departed for his home in Eau Claire Monday.
The Ladies Aid Society will meet with Mrs. Axel Peterson on Thursday, afternoon, arch 19.
A large number of friends gave Miss Ella Rasmussen surprise, on Tuesday in honor of her birthday.
Mrs. Bertha Dahl of Kilbourn arrived here Thursday and is visiting with relatives here.
Knute Knuteson has moved his family to the place known as the Hans Peterson place until he gets his new home built.
Geo. Peterson had one of his horses badly caulked Saturday and was obliged to call out the veterinary.

An Anchor To Windward

Many men are like ships, they have anchors which they can throw out during a storm and hold fast. To keep from drifting get an anchor, one which will hold during any kind of a blow or storm.

One really good anchor is to trade with a firm like this. We will be the holding ground and guarantee to be your anchor. When we abuse this confidence of yours, quit us; until then anchor here and hold fast.

We are receiving a car of new stuff every day (sometimes more) to supply the demand for "That Good Lumber."

—Ben-the-Booster, with
KELLOGG BROS. LUMBER CO.

After April 1st 1914
The Soo Line Lands You or Your Freight in the BUSINESS HEART OF CHICAGO

Ask The Soo Line Agent

Passenger Station, Grand Central, 2nd & Harris St.

Freight Terminal, 12th Street and Canal.

$OO LINE

We Show Here a Few of The Many New Stylecraft Ladies' and Children's Coats and Suits

Assortments Are Larger Than Ever and Prices that will show you a handsome saving. Our $10.00 and $12.50 coats compare favorably with most $15 and $17.50 garments. We also have a large line from $7.50 up to $25.00. The popular materials are Eponges, Ratines, Moire Silk, Bengaline Wool and Silk, Fancy Weaves, Checks, Etc.

Sample Dresses in Wool and Silk, Mixed Crepe, Ratine and Serges. These sample dresses, no two alike were bought at a discount enabling us to sell them at wholesale prices.

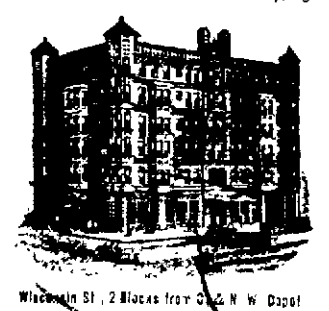

New White Confirmation and Graduating Dresses from $2.75 to $12.50.

We are showing new plaid Skirts, Petticoats and Waists, Burson Hose, seconds, while they last a few dozen still in stock to go at 16c per pair.

It means economy for you, to give us a look before buying elsewhere.

W. C. WEISEL

HOTEL MARTIN
Milwaukee's Newest
Ernst Klarnbach, Pres. John J. Sweeney, Mgr.

2100 Wisconsin St. 2 Blocks from C. & N. W. Depot

Rates $1.00 to $3.00 per day.
50 outside rooms with private bath $1.50
20 outside rooms with private toilet $1.25

Loss of Appetite

Loss of appetite is the first signal of disorder and decay. The usual loss of appetite is often caused by functional disturbances in the stomach. The stomach fails to do the work required, the nutrients are not absorbed, and the body suffers. Such a stomach needs to be cleaned and sweetened.

Meritol
FOR THE STOMACH
TRADE MARK

TONIC DIGESTIVE

It made promptly to assist the stomach to digest food, and to create a healthy appetite. It is ready to act on the postural, muscular, and we kindly ask you to give it a trial.

It is a Genuine Tonic
Price $1.00

JOHN E. DALY
Exclusive Retail Agency.

Kellner Coal Co.

Coal and Wood

Don't Forget US
when you need anything in the line of fuel

Telephone 395

Anyone can Apply

CAMPBELL'S Varnish Stain

Made in U.S.A.

For Finishing Floors, Furniture and all Interior Woodwork

Stains and varnishes with one sweep of the brush. You can apply it yourself and get fine results. It will beautify your home.

Carpenter-Mortice Co. - Boston, Mass.

FLY SWATTER FREE
With a purchase of Campbell's Varnish Stain, 25 cent size or larger, (50 cent size or larger) low, this ad clipped and sent to the manufacturer for one Fly Swatter, free, by mailing direct to the manufacturer.

FOR SALE BY WEST SIDE PAINT STORE

LOCAL ITEMS

John L. Nash is a candidate for Alderman in the Third ward.

Chief of Police Gibson has been confined to his home with a bad cold.

1. Baruch has been confined to his home for some time past by sickness.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Whitteley of Cranmoor were in the city on Thursday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Springberg of Babcock were business visitors in the city on Saturday.

E. A. Hannon of Waupaca came over to spend Sunday with his family who are visiting at the Chas. Kellogg home.

Mrs. A. B. Sutor returned, on Monday from Green Bay where she has been to attend the funeral of a relative.

Miss Mary McCamley returned on Monday from an extended visit at the Steve Slattery home in Sturgeon Bay.

Simon Worlund, one of the solid farmers of the town of Sigel was a pleasant caller at this office on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Sowatske and Jacob Friday and son Julius visited over Sunday at the August Friday home.

Mayor Jos. Cohen departed Sunday for Chicago and Milwaukee where he will spend several days purchasing goods for his store.

Mrs. J. H. Ragan and Bat O'Day departed on Monday evening for Hot Springs, Ark., where they will spend some time taking treatments.

R. Messmer, the Milwaukee architect who is engaged in drawing the plans for the new Elk home was in the city on Monday conferring with the committee.

Supervisor Jos. Seidl of Pittsville was in the city on Friday on business in connection with the county poor farm. Mr. Seidl is a member of the poor committee.

F. J. Wood came home from Chicago, last week and has since been enjoying pretty good health with every indication of a gradual and complete recovery.

Herman Gunn, one of the solid farmers of the town of Randolph called at this office on Monday to advance his subscription to The Tribune for another year.

Miss Loretta Nollner, stenographer at the Grand Rapids Milling Co. who has been off duty the past month on account of neuralgia is getting along nicely and expects to return to her duties on Monday.

The plant of the Badger Box & Lumber company closed down for a few days while an inventory is being taken, after which there will be a reorganization of the company and the plant will be started up again.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rensch of Alton were in the city on Monday visiting with their daughter, Mrs. Fred LaBrot and doing some shopping. Mr. Rensch has been on the sick list the past winter, and this was his first visit to the city since last fall.

Chas. Schmirler, who has had charge of the Johnson & Hill Co. shoe department for the past year resigned his position on Saturday to accept a similar position in the northern part of the state. Mr. Schmirler was a first class man in his line and made many friends while in our city.

Mrs. J. H. Armstrong has returned from Neeshah where she had been to attend the funeral of Grover C. Armstrong, a popular young man of that city who died at West Salem. Deceased was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Armstrong, pioneer residents of Neeshah and was 29 years of age.

F. G. Glubky is a candidate for the office of Supervisor in the Third ward.

T. P. Peerenboom was confined to his bed several days last week with the grip.

Thos. Mullen has been seriously ill the past two weeks with tonsillitis and quinsy.

Leo Barrett has accepted the position as floorwalker in the Johnson & Hill Co. store.

Mrs. E. A. Hannon of Waupaca is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kellogg.

Mrs. A. E. Bennett and P. B. Clinton of Cranmoor were in the city shopping on Friday.

Editor Adolph Pankow of the Marshfield Democrat was a business visitor in the city on Friday.

Fred Duncan departed on Sunday evening for Chicago where he will spend several days on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Panter of Wautoma have been visiting with relatives and friends in the city the past week.

James H. Normington of Marshfield is visiting with his sons, Messrs. C. A. and John Normington for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Judd Blaisdell of Trout Lake arrived in the city on Saturday for a week's visit with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. August Henke of the town of Sigel were pleasant callers at this office on Friday while in the city shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Corriveau of Green Bay were guests at the home of Mrs. C. A. Corriveau several days the past week.

Chas. Kellogg, J. Carrigan and Sam Church were in Oshkosh on Friday and Saturday to attend the Elk's bowling tournament and inspect the new Elk club house.

Adam Pankow, of Marshfield spent Wednesday in the city, being one of the witnesses in the Carl case. While here Mr. Pankow favored the Tribune office with a pleasant call.

The ice in the Wisconsin river opposite this city below the dam has all gone out, and appears much the same as in summer. Above the dam, however, it is apparently as solid as ever.

Miss Beulah Biron Hendaway of Colorado Springs, Colo., arrived in the city last week to visit for a time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Witter. Mrs. Hendaway formerly had her home in Grand Rapids and still has many friends here who are pleased to welcome her back.

Ed. Kampe has rented the B. Metzger shop on Baker street and has opened therein a general repair shop where he will handle automobile work and all kinds of gasoline engine repairing. Mr. Kampe has had considerable experience along these lines and will no doubt land his share of the work.

Henry Ebbe, one of the members of the highway commission from Marshfield was unable to attend the meeting held in this city yesterday owing to sickness. Mr. Ebbe was prostrated with an attack of typhoid and was just getting around again when he had a relapse, and has been confined to the house for the past four months.

Geo. W. Brown of Pittsville spent Monday and Tuesday in the city, being one of the members of the Wood County State Aid Highway committee, who met in this city yesterday. Mr. Brown states that he just returned from Forest county where he had been doing some logging for Frank Hiles of Dexterville, who was operating a couple of camps up there. He says that they had about two months of fine sleighing there. Some fifteen inches of snow, and were able to carry on the logging operations in good shape.

According to some of our old residents, we should have a mighty cold and disagreeable April and May, owing to the fact that we have had such a mild and pleasant winter. Well, which is something. Sometimes we have a mighty cold winter, and then have a disagreeable spring on top of it. So we are a little ahead anyway you can fix it.

An insurance inspector who visited Nekosoa last Friday looked over the new highschool in that village and made the statement that the new building was the best he had seen in the state without any exception. It must be a source of great satisfaction to the residents of Nekosoa to know that their efforts and money have been productive of such good results, and it is a condition of affairs that any town might be proud of. The Tribune extends congratulations.

Captain Harry Johnson, who has been spending the past winter with his daughter, Mrs. Emma Johnson, left on Tuesday for Sturgeon Bay, his old home, where he expects to spend the summer. Capt. Johnson is an old sailor man, having sailed on the ocean and later had charge of sail craft on Lake Michigan for many years. He retired from active service several years ago, however, and has since been making his home with his children.

The many friends of O. E. Lindburg and wife will be pleased to learn that they are apt to become residents of our city again. We understand that Dr. Kickbush who is at present employed as government meat inspector at the Reiland Packing plant, has asked for a transfer, and Mr. Lindburg has made an application to again be transferred here. Since leaving here Mr. Lindburg has been working for the government at Washington in the B. A. I. Department.

George Moulton, the well known plasterer and mason has purchased a lot of Ed. Dahlke on 10th St and will commence the erection of a home in a few weeks. Mr. Moulton had made up his mind on going to Chicago to reside where he was offered a good position, but after going over the proposition he decided that Grand Rapids and his friends looked better to him. Mr. Moulton is a first class workman in his line and his many friends will be pleased to learn that he has decided to remain here.

The Sherman Kelly stock company finished its week's engagement at the opera house on Sunday evening. The company was a good one, and it played to some of the largest houses that have ever been seen in this city. It being necessary on several occasions to turn away a large number of people who could not secure seats. The company put on a better grade of plays than is customary with the average stock company, and the public seemed to appreciate the fact.

In a letter received from Edgar Kellogg, who is now located at Iron-ton, Missouri, that gentleman states that spring has made its appearance down in that country, and that the days are becoming quite hot there. According to Mr. Kellogg's description of conditions down in that country, things are decidedly different there from what they are in Wisconsin, the natural fertility of the soil, and winters and other things enabling the people to take life easier than they do here, and to care less about the future, and consequently make less provision for it. Mr. Kellogg reports himself and family as being well.

A traveler who believed himself to be so a survivor of a shipwreck upon a canal island, hid for three days in terror of his life. Driven out by hunger he discovered a thin whip of smoke rising from a clump of bushes inland, and crawled carefully to study the type of savages about it. Just as he reached the clump he heard a voice say: "Why in hell did you run away?" He dropped on his knees and devoutly raised his hands cried: "Thank God they are Christians."

BRIEF STATE NEWS

Makes Quick Cure.
APPLETON—Although it has been in operation only since the first of the year, one patient has been turned away from the county tuberculosis sanatorium cured.

Berlin Man Kills Self.
BERLIN—Herman Stater 60 years old, a member of the firm of Stater & Kells, manufacturers of leather novelties in this city, committed suicide in his office on Tuesday by taking chloroform.

Search for Father Ends.
LA CROSSE—Miss Nona Butterfield's search for her father is ended. She received a letter from Norwalk, Wis., telling of his whereabouts. Miss Butterfield has not seen her father in seventeen years.

Nose Bleeds Five Days.
LA CROSSE—Suffering with nose-bleed, Mrs. F. J. Brown was brought to the hospital here, where, despite all the efforts of physicians, her nose continued to bleed for five days, when it suddenly stopped.

Can Not Get Requisition.
MADISON—A wife whose husband deserted her in another state and who then comes into this state can not secure a requisition to get her husband into this state that she may prosecute him.

Want Eugenic Facts.
MADISON—The Wisconsin eugenic law has secured almost international attention. The secretary of state received a request from Dr. Robert Reid Reanoul, Liverpool, Eng., British authority on eugenics, asking for a statement on its success.

Canning Company Files.
MADISON—The Sugar River Canning company, a $100,000 concern, filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state Wednesday morning. The company is located at Waukesha.

Baby's Burns Are Fatal.
NEENAH—The 3 year old daughter of James Heneberry of this city died from burns received by falling into a pail of boiling water.

Start Work on Hospital.
WAUSAU—Work in the addition of the hospital for the criminal insane at Wausau will be started within a week. The structure will cost $34,900.

Meaneast Man Gets Year.
EAU CLAIRE—Hal J. Lant, "the meanest man in Eau Claire," was sentenced to one year at Waupun by Judge Wickham. Lant was charged with striking his wife, who was holding her 3 months old infant in her arms. Mrs. Lant's nose was broken.

New Machine Burns Man.
GREEN BAY—Ernest Naderson, Depere, was painfully injured while trying out a new moving picture machine at the new Van Susteren opera house in Depere. He was badly burned about the face, and it is feared his eyesight has been impaired.

Trading Stamps Are Banned.
GREEN BAY—At a meeting of the retail grocers and butchers of the city it was decided to put the trading stamp under the ban.

Takes Office In April.
JANESVILLE—J. J. Cunningham, new democratic postmaster for Janesville who succeeds Charles Valentine, takes office on April 1, his appointment having been confirmed by the United States senate.

Loses Legs Under Train.
LA CROSSE—Herman Ahrendt, a fireman on the Milwaukee road, suffered the loss of both his legs when he was thrown under an engine at North McGregor. Ahrendt was on top of the engine taking coal when the train started.

Plan Triple Event.
LA CROSSE—Committees have been appointed by the board of trade for a joint home coming, Fourth of July. The celebration to be held here the first week in July.

Names Richland Center Man.
MADISON—State Dairy and Food Commissioner J. Q. Emery on Thursday appointed Chauncey Beckwith of Richland Center as cheese factory and dairy and food inspector at a salary of $1,200 a year.

Racine Wants Policewomen.
RACINE—Chief of Police H. C. Baker has asked the police commission to appoint a woman officer to look after juvenile offenders.

Teach Safety by Films.
SUPERIOR—"Safety first" will be exemplified by a motion picture under auspices of the state industrial commission and local employers.

A Change.
Before I wed that gal of mine, There used to be a dandy sign Upon the doormat at her home. When thitherward I'd fondly roam, It always stared me in the face Whenever I called at her place. Yes, in those days before we wed The sign upon the doormat read—"WELCOME."

But things are different nowadays, They're different in many ways, We're married and when now I roam With weary legs into my home Another motto greets my eyes, But causes me no great surprise: Another doormat is in place, And this now stares me in the face:—"WIPE YOUR FEET."

—There is no better line of Boy's Misses' and Children's shoes than the Bunker Hill line. Reasonable prices. Sold by I. Zimmerman.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENTS

The following advertisements are paid for at the rate of 5 cents per line by the person whose name follows the advertisement:

Candidate For Justice of Peace.
Due to the fact that many voters have asked me to be a candidate; I have, after due and careful consideration decided to run for the office of Justice of the Peace. I humbly ask for your full support. Edward N. Ponnalville, 324 3rd St.

Notice to Voters.
I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Justice of the Peace, subject to the will of the voters of Grand Rapids at the coming spring election.
Burton L. Brown.

For Supervisor.
To the electors of the 2nd ward:
If a majority of you desire that I continue to serve as Supervisor on the County Board for another year, I am willing. If elected my fight will be for economy, lower taxes and progress along conservative lines. Geo. L. Williams. 3w.

Notice to Voters.
—I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Supervisor of the Seventh ward, City of Grand Rapids. Wm. T. Nease.

Candidate for Treasurer.
—I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-election to the office of city treasurer. Joe Wheeler.

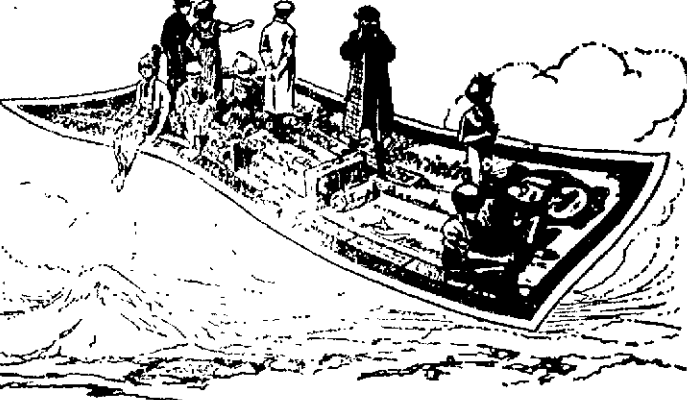

—There is no better line of shoes for good wear than the Bunker Hill line sold by I. Zimmerman, the west side shoe man.

March 4.
Notice of Application For Final Settlement.
Wood county Court—In Probate.
In the Matter of the estate of John M. Mendenhall, Deceased.
On reading and filing the application of Fannie Mendenhall, administratrix, for preventing among other things that she has fully administered the said estate, and praying that a time and place be fixed for examining and allowing her account of her administration, and that the residue of the said estate be assigned to such persons as are by law entitled to the same: IT IS ORDERED, That said application be heard before this court, at a regular term thereof to be held at the probate office in the city of Grand Rapids, on the 21st day of March, 1914, at 10 o'clock a. m. AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of the time and place of examining and allowing said account and of assisting the residue of said estate, be given to all persons interested by publication of a copy of this order, for three successive weeks, in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper published in said county, before the day fixed for said hearing.
Dated this 28th day of February 1914
By the Court,
W. J. QUINWAY, county Judge
Goggin & Benson, Attorneys.

TO PRESERVE BEAUTY

is entirely a matter of care and the use of high class toilet goods. A clear complexion is within the reach of every woman who observes this rule. Our toilet goods are the kind used by women of refinement and taste. Their wisdom is shown in their looks.

SAM CHURCH
PRESCRIPTION DRUGGIST.
Dealer in
Anaco Cameras, Camera Supplies, Stationery, Combs and Brushes, Toilet Soaps, Toilet Waters, Perfumes, Rubber Goods, Toilet Creams, School Supplies, Fine Candles, Books and Patent Medicines.

Travel on "A.B.A." Cheques

q You can pay your hotel bills with them; buy railway and steamship tickets; use them for purchases. They are the most convenient as well as the safest kind of "travel money"; your counter-signature identifies you. q "A.B.A." Cheques supply the urgent need for an International Currency. They are the only travelers' cheques accepted, under the law, for U. S. Customs duties. Call or write for booklet.

BANK OF GRAND RAPIDS

THE "TRAVELER'S" LINE

All forms of Life and Endowment Policies.

Ordinary Life:—For the Business Man, who has opportunities to use his money to good advantage and desires the greatest amount of Real Protection at the Lowest Possible Cost.

Limited Payment:—In 10, 15 & 20 Payment Life forms, for the one who should pay for his protection for Life during the period of his greatest earning capacity.

Endowment Contracts:—As an incentive to save and a purpose to save for; providing a Sinking Fund for the impairment of Efficiency and combining the protection feature.

Special:—Continuous Installment Income Policies, providing for the payment to the beneficiary of a stated sum each month or each year for at least Twenty Years but to Continue as long as the beneficiary may live.

Accident & Health:—In unrestricted contracts.

Employers Liability:—Giving unlimited coverage under the Compensation Act.

"See the Traveler's Man."

Lewis Ocain, Dist. Agt.
Room 2, Wood County Natl. Bank Bldg.

They Are Watching

Every young man in this town is being watched by business men. They have good jobs awaiting for the right kind of men.

They may not tell you so, but they are watching to see if you are the man you want. They watch if you pay your bills promptly. If you are careful about meeting your obligations, if you are competent, trustworthy and have a bank account. Why a bank account? Because it shows that you are saving. Nobody wants to give a spend-thrift a position of trust. We invite young men to become depositors.

You can start a savings account here with one dollar or more.

We pay 3 per cent. on Savings. Begin today.

All Business Confidential.

The Citizens National Bank
Capital and Surplus $110,000.00
City and County Depository. "Watch Us Grow"

SELLING OUT!

We have leased our building for a term of five years and must vacate by April 15th. Therefore we are going to have the biggest Closing Out Sale ever held in the city. Commencing

Saturday, March 21st

—AND LASTING—

For Only 15 Days,

we will sell out our entire stock of Men's and Boys' Furnishings and Ladies' and Children's Shoes. The stock is new, having been purchased less than a year ago. Doors will be closed until Saturday, March 21st.

Watch for our handbills and our windows for the remarkable prices we are going to give you. Store will be open every evening during sale.

The white corner across from the Wood County National Bank.

LEADER CLOTHING STORE

Gentlemen;

We've said it before,
We say it again:

The best BLUE SERGE Suit at $15.00

ever sold in Grand Rapids. Why not come in and try one on?

Abel & Podawiltz Co.
Outfitters for All Mankind

HOTEL MARTIN
Milwaukee's Newest
Ernst Glaronbach, Prop. John J. Sweeney, Mgr.

20 outside rooms with private toilet $1.25
Rates $1.00 to $3.00 per day.
50 outside rooms with private bath $1.50
20 outside rooms with private toilet $1.25

Loss of Appetite

Loss of appetite is the first signal of disorder and decay. The usual loss of appetite is often caused by functional disturbances in the stomach. The stomach fails to do the work required, the appetite is gone, and the body suffers. Such a stomach needs to be cleaned and sweetened.

Meritol
TRADE MARK
TONIC
DIGESTIVE

It is made especially to assist the stomach to digest food, and promote a healthy appetite. It is a genuine tonic. It is a trial.

It is a Genuine Tonic
PRICE $1.00

JOHN E. DALY
Exclusive Meritol Agency.

Kellner Coal Co.

Coal and Wood

Don't Forget US
when you need anything in the line of fuel

Telephone 305

For Anyone can Apply
CAMPBELL'S
Varnish Stain
Made in all colors
For Finishing Floors, Furniture and all Interior Woodwork
Stains and varnishes with one sweep of the brush.
You can apply it yourself and get fine results.
It will beautify your home.
Carpenter-Morton Co., Boston, Mass.
FLY SWATTER FREE
With a purchase of Campbell's Varnish Stain, 25 cent size or larger, from dealer named below, this ad clipped and mailed by him in post paid box will win a Fly Swatter, free, by mailing direct to the manufacturer.

FOR SALE BY WEST SIDE PAINT STORE

LOCAL ITEMS.

John L. Nash is a candidate for Alderman in the Third ward.

Chief of Police Gibson has been confined to his home with a bad cold. I. Baruch has been confined to his home for some time past by sickness.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Whittlessey of Cranmoor were in the city on Thursday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Springberg of Babcock were business visitors in the city on Saturday.

E. A. Hannan of Waupaca came over to spend Sunday with his family who are visiting at the Chas. Kellogg home.

Mrs. A. B. Sator returned, on Monday from Green Bay where she has been to attend the funeral of a relative.

Miss Mary McCumley returned on Monday from an extended visit at the Steve Slattery home in Sturgeon Bay.

Simon Worlund, one of the solid farmers of the town of Sigel was a pleasant caller at this office on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Sowatske and Jacob Friday and son Julius visited over Sunday at the August Friday home.

Mayor Jos. Cohen departed Sunday for Chicago and Milwaukee where he will spend several days purchasing goods for his store.

Mrs. J. R. Ragan and Bat O'Day departed on Monday evening for Hot Springs, Ark., where they will spend some time taking treatments.

R. Messner, the Milwaukee architect who is engaged in drawing the plans for the new Elk home was in the city on Monday conferring with the committee.

Supervisor Jos. Seidl of Pittsville was in the city on Friday on business in connection with the county poor farm. Mr. Seidl is a member of the poor committee.

F. J. Wood came home from Chicago, last week and has since been enjoying pretty good health, with every indication of a gradual and complete recovery.

Herman Gunz, one of the solid farmers of the town of Rudolph called at this office on Monday to advance his subscription to The Tribune for another year.

Miss Loretta Nollner, stenographer at the Grand Rapids Milling Co. who has been off duty the past month on account of neuralgia is getting along nicely and expects to return to her duties on Monday.

The plant of the Badger Box & Lumber company is closed down for a few days while an inventory is being taken, after which there will be a reorganization of the company and the plant will be started up again.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reusch of Alford were in the city on Monday visiting with their daughter, Mrs. Fred LaBrot and doing some shopping. Mr. Reusch has been on the sick list the past winter, and this was his first visit to the city since last fall.

Chas. Schmirler, who has had charge of the Johnson & Hill Co. shoe department for the past year resigned his position on Saturday to accept a similar position in the northern part of the state. Mr. Schmirler was a first class man in his line and made many friends while in our city.

Mrs. J. H. Armstrong has returned from Necedah where she had been to attend the funeral of Grover C. Armstrong, a popular young man of that city who died at West Salem. Deceased was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Armstrong, pioneer residents of Necedah and was 29 years of age.

F. G. Gilkey is a candidate for the office of Supervisor in the Third ward.

T. F. Peerenboom was confined to his bed several days last week with the grip.

Thos. Mullen has been seriously ill the past two weeks with tonsillitis and quinsy.

Leo Barrett has accepted the position as doorwalker in the Johnson & Hill Co. store.

Mrs. E. A. Hannan of Waupaca is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kellogg.

Mrs. A. E. Bennett and P. B. Clinton of Cranmoor were in the city shopping on Friday.

Editor Adolph Pankow of the Marshfield Democrat was a business visitor in the city on Friday.

Fred Duncan departed on Sunday evening for Chicago where he will spend several days on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Panter of Watouma have been visiting with relatives and friends in the city the past week.

James H. Normington of Marshfield is visiting with his sons, Messrs. C. A. and John Normington for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Judd Blaisdell of Trout Lake arrived in the city on Saturday for a week's visit with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. August Henke of the town of Sigel were pleasant callers at this office on Friday while in the city shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Corrivau of Green Bay were guests at the home of Mrs. G. A. Corrivau several days the past week.

Chas. Kellogg, J. Carrigan and Sam Church were in Oshkosh on Friday and Saturday to attend the Elk's bowling tournament and inspect the new Elk club house.

Adam Paulus, of Marshfield spent Wednesday in the city, being one of the witnesses in the Carl case. While here Mr. Paulus favored the Tribune office with a pleasant call.

The ice in the Wisconsin river opposite this city below the dam has all gone out, and appears much the same as in summer. Above the dam, however, it is apparently as solid as ever.

Mrs. Beulah Biron Hemmings of Colorado Springs, Colo., arrived in the city last week to visit for a time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. P. Witzew. Mrs. Hemmings formerly made her home in Grand Rapids and still has many friends here who are pleased to welcome her back.

Ed. Kampe has rented the B. Metzger shop on Baker street, and has opened therein a general repair shop where he will handle automobile work and all kinds of gasoline engine repairing. Mr. Kampe has had considerable experience along these lines and will no doubt land his share of the work.

Henry Ebbe, one of the members of the highway commission from Marshfield was unable to attend the meeting held in this city yesterday owing to sickness. Mr. Ebbe was prostrated with an attack of typhoid and was just getting around again when he had a relapse, and has been confined to the house for the past four months.

Geo. W. Brown of Pittsville spent Monday and Tuesday in the city, being one of the members of the Wood County State Aid Highway committee, who met in this city yesterday. Mr. Brown states that he just returned from Forest county where he had been doing some logging for Frank Hiles of Dexterville, who was operating a couple of camps up there. He says that they had a bout two months of fine sleighing there. Some fifteen inches of snow, and were able to carry on the logging operations in good shape.

Matt Schiltz, of the town of Rudolph was a pleasant caller at this office on Friday. Mr. Schiltz will hold an auction at his farm on Thursday, March 26. Mr. Schiltz expects to leave for Pennsylvania where he will spend a year for the benefit of his health.

According to some of our old residents, we should have a mighty cold and disagreeable April and May, owing to the fact that we have had such a mild and pleasant winter. Well, we have had the winter, anyway, which is something. Sometimes we have a mighty cold winter, and then have a disagreeable spring on top of it. So we are a little ahead anyway you can fix it.

An insurance inspector who visited Nekoosa last Friday looked over the new high school in that village and made the statement that the new building was the best he had seen in the state without an exception. It must be a source of great satisfaction to the residents of Nekoosa to know that their efforts and money have been productive of such good results, and it is a condition of affairs that any town might be proud of. The Tribune extends congratulations.

Captain Harry Johnson, who has been spending the past winter with his daughter, Mrs. Emma Johnson, left on Tuesday for Sturgeon Bay, his old home, where he expects to spend the summer. Capt. Johnson is an old sailor man, having sailed on the ocean and later had charge of mail craft on Lake Michigan for many years. He retired from active service several years ago, however, and has since been making his home with his children.

The many friends of O. E. Lindburg and wife will be pleased to learn that they are apt to become residents of our city again. We understand that Dr. Kickbush who is present employed as government meat inspector at the Reiland Packing plant, has asked for a transfer. Mr. Lindburg has made an application to again be transferred here. Since leaving here Mr. Lindburg has been working for the government at Washington in the B. A. I. Department.

George Moulton, the well known plasterer and mason has purchased a lot of Ed. Dahlke on 10th St. and will commence the erection of a home in a few weeks. Mr. Moulton had made up his mind on going to Chicago to reside where he was offered a good position, but after going over the proposition he decided that Grand Rapids and his friends looked better to him. Mr. Moulton is a first class workman in his line and his many friends will be pleased to learn that he has decided to remain here.

The Sherman Kelly stock company finished its week's engagement at the opera house on Sunday evening. The company was a good one, and it played to some of the largest houses that have ever been seen in this city, it being necessary on several occasions to turn away a large number of people who could not secure seats. The company put on a better grade of plays than is customary with the average stock company, and the public seemed to appreciate the fact.

In a letter received from Edgar Kellogg, who is now located at Ironton, Missouri, that gentleman states that spring has made its appearance down in that country, and that the days are becoming quite hot there. According to Mr. Kellogg's description of conditions down in that country, things are decidedly different there from what they are in Wisconsin, the natural fertility of the soil, the mild winters and other things enabling the people to take life easier than they do here, and to care less about the future, and consequently make less provision for it. Mr. Kellogg reports himself and family as being well.

A traveler who believed himself to be safe, as he was a shipwreck upon a sandy island, hid for three days in terror of his life. Driven out by hunger he discovered a thin whisp of smoke rising from a clump of bushes inland, and crawled carefully to study the type of savages about it. Just as he reached the clump he heard a voice say: "Why in hell did you run away?" He dropped on his knees and devoutly raised his hands, crying: "Thank God they are Christians."

BRIEF STATE NEWS

Makes Quick Cure.

APPLETON—Although it has been in operation only since the first of the year, one patient has been turned away from the county tuberculosis sanatorium cured.

Berlin Man Kills Self.

BERLIN—Herman Stater 50 years old, a member of the firm of Stater & Kells, manufacturers of leather goods in this city, committed suicide in his office on Tuesday by taking chloroform.

Search for Father Ends.

LA CROSSE—Miss Nona Butterfield's search for her father is ended. She received a letter from Norwalk, Wis., telling of his whereabouts. Miss Butterfield has not seen her father in seventeen years.

Nose Bleeds Five Days.

LA CROSSE—Suffering with nose-bleed, Mrs. F. J. Brown was brought to the hospital here, where, despite all the efforts of physicians, her nose continued to bleed for five days, when it suddenly stopped.

Can't Get Requisition.

MADISON—A wife whose husband deserted her in another state and who then comes into this state can not secure a requisition to get her husband into this state that she may prosecute him.

want Eugenic Facts.

MADISON—The Wisconsin eugenic law secured almost international attention. The secretary of state received a request from Dr. Robert Reid Rentoul, Liverpool, Eng., British authority on eugenics, asking for a statement on its success.

Canning Company Files.

MADISON—The Sugar River Canning company, a $100,000 concern, filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state Wednesday morning. The company is located at Waushara.

Baby's Burns Are Fatal.

NEENAH—The 3 year old daughter of James Henebery of this city died from burns received by falling into a pail of boiling water.

Start Work on Hospital.

WAUSAU—Work in the addition of the hospital for the criminal insane at Wausau will be started within a week. The structure will cost $34,000.

Meaneest Man Gets Year.

EAU CLAIRE—Hal J. Lant, "the meaneest man in Eau Claire," was sentenced to one year at Waupun by Judge Wickham Lant, who was charged with striking his wife, who was holding her 3 months old infant in her arms. Mrs. Lant's nose was broken.

New Machine Burns Man.

GREEN BAY—Ernest Naderon, Depere, was painfully injured while trying out a new moving picture machine at the new Van Susteren opera house in Depere. He was badly burned about the face, and it is feared his eyesight has been impaired.

Trading Stamps Are Banned.

GREEN BAY—At a meeting of the retail grocers and butchers of the city it was decided to put the trading stamp under the ban.

Takes Office in April.

JANESVILLE—J. J. Cunningham, ex democratic postmaster for Janesville who succeeds Charles Valentine, takes office on April 1, his appointment having been confirmed by the United States senate.

Loses Legs Under Train.

LA CROSSE—Herman Ahrendts, a fireman on the Milwaukee road, suffered the loss of both his legs when he was thrown under an engine at North McGregor. Ahrendts was on top of the engine taking coal when the train started.

Plan Triple Event.

LA CROSSE—Committees have been appointed by the board of trade for a joint home coming, Fourth of July. The celebration to be held here the first week in July.

Names Richland Center Man.

MADISON—State Dairy and Food Commissioner J. Q. Emery on Thursday appointed Chauncey Beckwith of Richland Center as cheese factory and dairy and food inspector at a salary of $1,200 a year.

Racine Wants Policewomen.

RACINE—Chief of Police H. C. Baker has asked the police commission to appoint a woman officer to look after juvenile offenders.

Teach Safety by Films.

SUPERIOR—"Safety first" will be exemplified by a motion picture under auspices of the state industrial commission and local employers.

A Change.

Before I wed that gal of mine, There used to be a dandy sign Upon the doormat at her home, When thitherward I'd fondly roam, It always stared me in the face Whenever I called at her place, Yes, in those days before we wed The sign upon the doormat read— "WELCOME."

But things are different nowadays, They're different in many ways, We're married and when now I roam With weary legs into my home Another motto greets my eyes, But causes me no great surprise; Another doormat is in place, And this now stares me in the face: "WIPE YOUR FEET."

—There is no better line of Boy's Misses' and Children's shoes than the Bunker Hill line. Reasonable prices. Sold by I. Zimmerman.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENTS.

The following advertisements are paid for at the rate of 5 cents per line by the person whose name follows the advertisement:

Candidate For Justice of Peace.

Due to the fact that many voters have asked me to be a candidate; I have, after due and careful consideration decided to run for the office of Justice of the Peace. I humbly ask for your full support. Edward N. Pomainville, 324 3rd St.

Notice to Voters.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Justice of the Peace, subject to the will of the voters of Grand Rapids at the coming spring election.

Burton L. Brown.

For Supervisor.

To the electors of the 3rd ward:

If a majority of you desire that I continue to serve as Supervisor on the County Board for another year, I am willing. If elected my fight will be for economy, lower taxes and progress along conservative lines. Geo. L. Williams. 3w.

Notice to Voters.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Supervisor of the Seventh ward, City of Grand Rapids. Wm. T. Niles.

Candidate for Treasurer.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-election to the office of city treasurer. Joe Wheeler.

—There is no better line of shoes for good wear than the Bunker Hill line sold by I. Zimmerman, the west side shoe man.

March 4.

Notice of Application For Final Settlement.

Wood county Court—in Probate.

In the Matter of the estate of John Murgatroy, Deceased.

On reading and filing the application of Fannie Murgatroy, administratrix of said estate, she has fully administered the said estate, and praying that a time and place be fixed for allowing and allowing her account of her administration, and that the residue of the said estate be assigned to such persons as are by her entitled to the same. IT IS ORDERED, That said application be heard before this court, at a regular term thereof to be held at the probate office, in the city of Grand Rapids, on the 24th day of March, 1914, at 10 o'clock a. m. AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of the time and place of examining and allowing said account and of asking the residue of said estate, be given to all persons interested by publication of a copy of this order, for three successive weeks, in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper published in said county, before the day fixed for said hearing. Dated this 25th day of February 1914.

By the Court, W. J. CONWAY, county Judge. Goggins & Brazeau, Attorneys.

TO PRESERVE BEAUTY

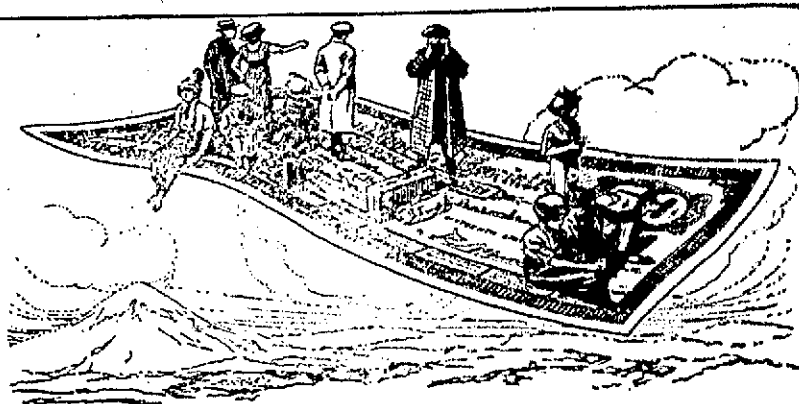

It is entirely a matter of care and the use of high class toilet goods. A clear complexion is within the reach of every woman who observes this rule. Our toilet goods are the kind used by women of refinement and taste. Their wisdom is shown in their looks.

SAM CHURCH

PRESCRIPTION DRUGGIST.

Dealer in

Anco Cameras, Camera Supplies, Stationery, Combs and Brushes, Toilet Soap, Toilet Waters, Perfumes, Rubber Goods, Toilet Creams, School Supplies, Fine Candles, Books and Patent Medicines.

Travel on "A.B.A." Cheques

You can pay your hotel bills with them; buy railway and steamship tickets; use them for purchases. They are the most convenient as well as the safest kind of "travel money," your counter-signature identifies you. "A.B.A." Cheques supply the urgent need for an International Currency. They are the only travelers' cheques accepted, under the law, for U. S. Customs duties. Call or write for booklet.

BANK OF GRAND RAPIDS

THE "TRAVELER'S" LINE

All forms of Life and Endowment Policies. Ordinary Life:—For the Business Man, who has opportunities to use his money to good advantage and desires the greatest amount of Real Protection at the Lowest Possible Cost.

Limited Payment:—In 10, 15 & 20 Payment Life forms, for the one who should pay for his protection for Life during the period of his greatest earning capacity.

Endowment Contracts:—As an incentive to save and a purpose to save for; providing a Sinking Fund for the Impairment of Efficiency and combining the protection feature.

Special:—Continuous Installment Income Policies, providing for the payment to the beneficiary of a stated sum each month or each year for at least Twenty Years but to Continue as long as the beneficiary may live.

Accident & Health:—In unrestricted contracts.

Employers Liability:—Giving unlimited coverage under the Compensation Act.

"See the Traveler's Man."

Lewis Ocain, Dist. Agt.

Room 2, Wood County Natl. Bank Bldg.

They Are Watching

Every young man in this town is being watched by business men. They have good jobs awaiting for the right kind of men.

They may not tell you so, but they are watching to see if you are the man you want. They watch if you pay your bills promptly. If you are careful about meeting your obligations, if you are competent, trustworthy and have a bank account. Why a bank account? Because it shows that you are saving. Nobody wants to give a spend-thrift a position of trust. We invite young men to become depositors.

You can start a savings account here with one dollar or more.

We pay 3 per cent. on Savings. Begin today.

All Business Confidential.

The Citizens National Bank

Capital and Surplus $110,000.00

City and County Depository. "Watch Us Grow"

SELLING OUT!

We have leased our building for a term of five years and must vacate by April 15th. Therefore we are going to have the biggest Closing Out Sale ever held in the city. Commencing

Saturday, March 21st

AND LASTING

For Only 15 Days,

we will sell out our entire stock of Men's and Boys' Furnishings and Ladies' and Children's Shoes. The stock is new, having been purchased less than a year ago. Doors will be closed until Saturday, March 21st.

Watch for our handbills and our windows for the remarkable prices we are going to give you. Store will be open every evening during sale.

The white corner across from the Wood County National Bank.

LEADER CLOTHING STORE

Gentlemen;

We've said it before,
We say it again:

The best BLUE SERGE Suit at $15.00

ever sold in Grand Rapids. Why not come in and try one on?

Abel & Podawiltz Co.

Outfitters for All Mankind

THE RETAILERS PLATFORM

"Our Town One for All and All for One"

Because this is where I make money and this is the place to spend it. Because my interests are here. Because I believe in transacting business with friends. Because the community that is good enough for me to live in is good enough to buy in. Because I want to see the goods. Because I want to get what I pay for. Because every dollar I spend at home stays at home and works for the welfare of the city. Because the man I buy from stands back of the goods. Because I sell what I produce here at home. Because the man I buy from pays his part of the city and county taxes. Because the man I buy from helps support my school, my church, my lodge and my home. Here is where I live and here is where I buy.

BOSSERT COAL CO.

Phone 416 Residence 54

FAIR AS A FLOWER in their graceful beauty is not too much praise for our gas fixtures. Their attractiveness is beyond question their convenience plainly apparent. It is foolish to think that only ugly fixtures can be effective. Come here and we will prove that our fixtures are even better light givers than the old kind.

Staub's Electric Shop

127 First St. N. East Side

Certificates of Deposit A Sound Investment

The certificates we issue are an ideal form of investment for your money. They are absolutely safe and always worth par. They earn a percent interest payable every six months. If a certificate is lost or stolen the money would not be lost. It would still be in the bank, and still be YOUR money. We issue these certificates in any amount—small or large.

First National Bank, Grand Rapids, Wis.

"Oldest bank in Central Wisconsin."

PAID ADVERTISEMENT

The following advertisement is to be paid for at 10c per inch for each of its appearance, by Henry S. Wagner, Grand Rapids, Wis.

Announcement

Notice is hereby given that I will be a candidate for the office of

ASSESSOR

at the coming Spring Election subject to the will of the people. If nominated and elected I will serve the people of Grand Rapids efficiently and equitably.

Yours respectfully,
Henry S. Wagner.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

City of Grand Rapids, Wis., 1911. Council met in regular session on Monday, March 13, 1911, at 7:30 p.m.

Attest: Mayor, J. H. Gorman. Clerk, J. H. Gorman. City of Grand Rapids, Wis., 1911. Council met in regular session on Monday, March 13, 1911, at 7:30 p.m.

Attest: Mayor, J. H. Gorman. Clerk, J. H. Gorman. City of Grand Rapids, Wis., 1911. Council met in regular session on Monday, March 13, 1911, at 7:30 p.m.

Attest: Mayor, J. H. Gorman. Clerk, J. H. Gorman. City of Grand Rapids, Wis., 1911. Council met in regular session on Monday, March 13, 1911, at 7:30 p.m.

Attest: Mayor, J. H. Gorman. Clerk, J. H. Gorman. City of Grand Rapids, Wis., 1911. Council met in regular session on Monday, March 13, 1911, at 7:30 p.m.

Attest: Mayor, J. H. Gorman. Clerk, J. H. Gorman. City of Grand Rapids, Wis., 1911. Council met in regular session on Monday, March 13, 1911, at 7:30 p.m.

Attest: Mayor, J. H. Gorman. Clerk, J. H. Gorman. City of Grand Rapids, Wis., 1911. Council met in regular session on Monday, March 13, 1911, at 7:30 p.m.

Attest: Mayor, J. H. Gorman. Clerk, J. H. Gorman. City of Grand Rapids, Wis., 1911. Council met in regular session on Monday, March 13, 1911, at 7:30 p.m.

Attest: Mayor, J. H. Gorman. Clerk, J. H. Gorman. City of Grand Rapids, Wis., 1911. Council met in regular session on Monday, March 13, 1911, at 7:30 p.m.

Attest: Mayor, J. H. Gorman. Clerk, J. H. Gorman. City of Grand Rapids, Wis., 1911. Council met in regular session on Monday, March 13, 1911, at 7:30 p.m.

EXHILARATING FOR TAXPAYERS

(Appleton Post)

The average yearly cost of running the state government from 1898 to 1908 was $5,262,895.

In 1911 the cost reached the extravagant sum of $18,298,030.

In 1911 an extra tax levy had to be made to wipe out the then existing deficit, after $16,000,000 of the people's hard earned cash had been spent in lavish official management, or rather, mismanagement by the progressive prodigals in command at Madison.

The beatific accomplishments of this aggregation since 'getting the government back to the people' may perpetuate its power.

It so, it will be on the theory that when the people have been robbed of their possessions they will still worship these despotters for the crumbs that fall from their table.

Excuse this digression. We will return to facts.

For the biennial period following to defray the expenses of state government the last legislature appropriated the staggering sum of $36,598,790.

This is nearly five times as much as was appropriated for the same purpose and the same extent of time, eleven years earlier when the guardian of God's patient poor' with his party winged their way into power.

And what an influx there has been to the ranks of Diety's destitute since that period.

Let it now be understood that the increase in the assessments of property has kept pace with the increase of progressive expenditures.

HOW WASSERMAN TEST IS APPLIED

(Sheboygan Press)

Much has been said in the newspapers of Wisconsin about the Wasserman test being required before physicians can give a prospective bridegroom a certificate of health under the eugenic marriage law, and the physicians have claimed the test could not be made for $1.00.

Very few people know anything about the Wasserman test, and at the request of The Press, Dr. J. C. Eilers secured the following explanation of the test exclusively for this paper, from an expert.

"The Wasserman reaction, or test is a means of determining the presence of specific blood-poisoning in the blood."

When the disease-poison gets into the system the blood reacts against it and tries to destroy it by making an antibody. In order, however, that the antibody may destroy the disease-producing agent a third body must be present. This is called complement. Every blood contains more or less complement. The antibody in a diseased person's blood will, when complement is added, destroy the disease-producing agent outside the body. This is what is done in making the test.

About two teaspoonful of blood are taken from the patient. It is allowed to stand perfectly quiet until it separates into two parts—the clear, pale yellow serum and the dark red clot. The former is carefully taken off to make the test. The latter is thrown away.

The serum is then heated to destroy the unknown amount of complement in it. This is called inactivating it. The inactive serum is now put in a test tube with the disease-producing agent called antigen and a measured amount of complement from guinea pig's blood added. The whole is allowed to stand at body temperature for an hour. This is the first phase of the reaction. If the patient's serum contained antibody it and the antigen and the complement are all destroyed and no longer fit to work. If the patient's serum contained no antibody nothing has happened and the component parts remain as they were. But so far the whole mixture is colorless and it is not apparent what has happened.

It is necessary therefore to make another test to find out the answer. This is done by testing for the presence of complement in the mixture. To do this an antigen and antibody are used which will present a color reaction. A rabbit is speeted with blood corpuscles from a sheep. These corpuscles are the antigen and the rabbit's blood makes an antibody for them. The complement in the rabbit's blood is destroyed by heat and the portion of sheep's corpuscles and the rabbit's blood added to the test tube. The whole mixture now is of a light color, whole turbid and opaque. It is allowed to stand for an hour at body temperature. This is the second phase of the reaction. If no complement was left in the first phase nothing can happen in the second and the sheep's corpuscles are not altered—they settle down in a little heap at the bottom of the tube and the fluid remains colorless. This is called inhibition of hemolysis, or the absence of hemolysis. If the complement is a positive reaction. If the complement is not used up in the first phase a new mixture in the second. The sheep's corpuscles dissolve, become laked and the red coloring matter in them turns the solution a bright clear red which is perfectly transparent. There is hemolysis. This is a negative reaction.

In making the test the component parts have to be standardized, i.e. they have to be tested to determine their exact strength for neither too much nor too little must be used. As they do not keep indefinitely it is necessary to restandardize them at short intervals. The patient's serum must first be tested to be sure that it will neither produce nor inhibit hemolysis by itself, and every time the test is made on a patient's serum it must be made on at least two other sera, one of which is known to be positive the other negative. These are called controls.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION IS NOW IN NEW BUILDING. Milwaukee, Mar. 16. The close cooperation between the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association and the University Division of the University of Wisconsin will be greatly facilitated by the establishment of joint offices in Milwaukee. The state offices of the Anti-Tuberculosis Association formerly in the Goldsmith building and the Milwaukee offices of the Extension Division have been united in a building remodeled for the purpose at 173 N. Union Street. This building which will be known as the University Extension Building has five rooms, an exhibit room and an auditorium as well as offices.

This move will give us better and larger quarters for less money than we have been paying," said Dr. H. D. Dearholt, Executive Secretary of the Association and Director of the Health Instruction Bureau of the University Extension Division. "By close cooperation we effect economy where there would otherwise be an unnecessary duplication of time and money and effort. At the same time the advantages of each as a separate institution are retained. The presence of the University is coupled with the freedom of campaign method of the volunteer organization."

SARATOGA.

Mr. Editors—

I received a reward for delivering the pseudo Key A Sabat to the provincial authorities. Not that I would have declined an offered remuneration for services rendered, but 'the fact remains, I did as I did, simply to remove an undesirable from our county and submit to you the enclosed letter from Donald MacPherson to prove that I did not receive pay or even postage in the 'transfer.'

Respectfully, Lee B. Margrey. The letter follows: Winnipeg, Man., March 5th, 1911. Lee B. Margrey Esq. J. P. Rural Delivery No. 6, Grand Rapids Wis. Dear Sir—

I beg to acknowledge receipt of your communication of 28th ult. regarding the above named person. I wish to thank you for assisting and causing the apprehension of Lototski and regret to state that there is no reward offered for his apprehension by the authorities of the Province. If the Officer detailed by the Provincial authorities to bring him back to this country for trial stated there was, he did so in error.

Again thanking you I remain, Yours truly, Donald MacPherson, Chief Constable.

Difference in Soil. Waupaca Republican-Peak. Arthur Jaykway of Stevens Point was in the city Tuesday. Mr. Jaykway has sold his eighty acre farm at Lind Center to Henry Pagel consideration $10,000. This price of $125 per acre is in marked contrast to another eighty acres located about four miles from Lind Center which sold last week on Sheriff's sale at the court house. The price paid for the latter eighty acres was $450 or $5.63 per acre. While there was a difference in the soil of these two eighty-acre tracts, there has been a difference in handling the two farms and there was considerable difference in the buildings. Part of the sandy tract has growing timber but most of the farm had been cropped till it will no longer produce a crop. Careful farming is necessary if the fertility of the soil is to be maintained.

Let every tax-payer determine to vote only for business men regardless of party in the next primary and general election—business men who have made a success of their own affairs. In this way, only, will they be able to clean out the professional politicians, self-seekers and constitutional paper-suckers.

Election men of that stamp and they will turn out the useless commissions with their army of sappers and miners, substituted for the scandalous swarm of game wardens that formerly stormed the state telling the people how to vote.

Do this and the conquests of Olympian Jupiter among the traditional progressives of the upper air, will not be in it with the carnage created in the next engagement of Wisconsin's taxpayers with her tax-eaters.

GRAND RAPIDS. The Most Up-to-Date City For Its Size in the State. Situated in the geographical centre of the state and surrounded by abundant agricultural and industrial resources, Grand Rapids maintains its position as the liveliest and most promising city in this section of Wisconsin. Its water power is unlimited, its climate is unsurpassed from the standpoint of the health seeker, and its railroad facilities rank with any metropolis.

Grand Rapids is in the heart of one of the largest cranberry regions in the world and many other products of the soil of Wood county are comparing most favorably with the rich crops of the southern border of the state. The city has four railroads with twenty-four passenger trains daily, and an interurban street car line runs between Grand Rapids and Nekeosha. With an up-to-date system of city electric lights and waterworks, as well as an efficient telephone company, the people may have all the modern improvements in their homes, and at moderate rates. Five blocks in the down town district are paved, and there are about 100 acres devoted to parks. The educational advantages of the city are excellent, there being one high school, four grade schools, a fine manual training school, six parochial schools, one business college, and a county training school. A well equipped public library benefits hundreds of readers. In the amusement line Grand Rapids has one opera house, three smaller theatres, a good ball park, and a large amusement hall, besides a large artificial swimming pool and plenty of beautiful spots along the river for out-of-door enjoyment. No better boating, fishing, and scenery can be found than right along the old Wisconsin River. In taking a bird's-eye-view of the business and industry of Grand Rapids we find four banks, three newspaper establishments, two box factories, one saw-mill, one large flour mill, one hub and spoke factory, one iron foundry, one wagon factory, several machine shops, three garages, one cement block factory, brick yards, turn tire factory, one steam laundry, one plant engaged in the manufacture of heating systems, one large packing plant, one brewery, and two lumber yards. Grand Rapids is the home of the Consolidated Water Power and Paper Co., one of the largest and best equipped paper mills in the country. The company owns another large mill at Iron, four miles up the river. The city has a good police force, and two excellent fire departments. The postal accommodations are as good as can be found anywhere, there being a fine new post-office building and mail delivery twice a day in the business section and twice a day in the residence section. The population according to the census of 1910 was 6521 or a gain of 45 per cent since 1900. The past few years have been years of progress and improvement in every line. Those who left the city five years ago come back and marvel at the changes during so short a time. Settlers who were once skeptical are now only too willing to cast their lot in Wood county, and the great majority of them find success.

WOOD COUNTY NATIONAL BANK

Grand Rapids, Wis. Capital and Surplus $200,000.00. A Commercial and Savings Bank.

When you send money through the mail, come to us for a BANK DRAFT. We sell them at a cost less than is charged for other kinds of money orders and they are more convenient and absolutely safe. Drafts $5.00 and under cost 1 cent, $10.00 cost 2 cents, $100.00 cost 10 cents, $150.00 cost 15 cents, $200.00 cost 20 cents, etc.

Money by Mail. When you send money through the mail, come to us for a BANK DRAFT. We sell them at a cost less than is charged for other kinds of money orders and they are more convenient and absolutely safe. Drafts $5.00 and under cost 1 cent, $10.00 cost 2 cents, $100.00 cost 10 cents, $150.00 cost 15 cents, $200.00 cost 20 cents, etc.

Follow the Leaders. Prominent Stockmen Feed SAL-VET and Guarantee It. Stop the losses from worms in your sheep—give all your stock a chance to rid themselves of these dangerous and deadly foes. Animals doctor themselves—all you have to do is place SAL-VET where they can get at it. In a short time the blood-sucking, disease-bearing pests will be destroyed. You will be delighted with the results. Your animals will pick up, improve, and your losses from worms will stop.

The Great Worm Destroyer SAL-VET The Great Live Stock Conditioner. is a wonder worker in driving out stomach and intestinal worms—a profit maker the year 'round. It's the best LIVE STOCK INSURANCE you can buy. GEO. HORN, Gambier, Ohio, says: "I was losing my lambs right along until I began feeding 'Sal Vet', since then I have lost only one. After six weeks, I shipped some to the Philadelphia market, where they sold for $3.20 per hundred, which was 5c over and above anything that sold in the market that day. This is what Sal Vet has done for me."

We guarantee SAL-VET to do all that is claimed for it. You run no risk as we will at once plan money back guarantee. Come in and get a supply—try at our risk. We are exclusive agents in this locality.

OTTO'S PHARMACY

The REXALL Store Grand Rapids, Wis.

When the Romans return in force, From Winter's wrath you should seek divorce. All Nature Puts On New Raiment. And so her creatures, the chief of which is—MAN. Sotto Voce. We stand with Tape Measure in, ready to size you up. Yours truly, LEOFF, The Tailor, Maker of Guaranteed Clothes. Grand Ave., West Side, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

Don't Delay Buying a DE LAVAL Separator a Single Day Longer. If you are selling cream or making butter and have no separator or are using an inferior machine, you are wasting cream every day you delay the purchase of a De Laval. There can only be two real reasons for putting off buying a De Laval, either you do not really appreciate how great your loss in dollars and cents actually is or else you do not believe the De Laval Cream Separator will make the savings claimed for it. In either case there is one conclusive answer. "Let us set up a machine for you on your place and SEE FOR YOURSELF what the De Laval will do." You have nothing to risk and a million other cow owners who have made this test have found they had much to gain. You can't afford to wait, even if only part of your cows are milking now. Let the De Laval start saving cream for you RIGHT NOW. If you really would like to know just how much more cream you can get with a De Laval let us set up a machine for you and have you try it out for yourself. Just 'phone or drop us a postal and we will be glad to bring a machine out to your place any time you say.

JOHNSON & HILL CO. GRAND RAPIDS

Legal blanks for sale at this office. —Nomination Blanks for Town Officers for sale at this office.

—Legal blanks for sale at this office.

—Legal blanks for sale at this office.

DR. EDWARD HOUGHEN

Physician and Surgeon. Located in Wood County National Bank building. Office hours as usual. National Bank, East Side, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin. Telephone 338.

Law, loans and Collections. We have $2,000 which will be loaned at a low rate of interest. Office over First National Bank, East Side, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin. Telephone 338.

Wood County National Bank. Grand Rapids, Wis. Capital and Surplus $200,000.00. A Commercial and Savings Bank.

Money by Mail. When you send money through the mail, come to us for a BANK DRAFT. We sell them at a cost less than is charged for other kinds of money orders and they are more convenient and absolutely safe. Drafts $5.00 and under cost 1 cent, $10.00 cost 2 cents, $100.00 cost 10 cents, $150.00 cost 15 cents, $200.00 cost 20 cents, etc.

Follow the Leaders. Prominent Stockmen Feed SAL-VET and Guarantee It. Stop the losses from worms in your sheep—give all your stock a chance to rid themselves of these dangerous and deadly foes. Animals doctor themselves—all you have to do is place SAL-VET where they can get at it. In a short time the blood-sucking, disease-bearing pests will be destroyed. You will be delighted with the results. Your animals will pick up, improve, and your losses from worms will stop.

The Great Worm Destroyer SAL-VET The Great Live Stock Conditioner. is a wonder worker in driving out stomach and intestinal worms—a profit maker the year 'round. It's the best LIVE STOCK INSURANCE you can buy. GEO. HORN, Gambier, Ohio, says: "I was losing my lambs right along until I began feeding 'Sal Vet', since then I have lost only one. After six weeks, I shipped some to the Philadelphia market, where they sold for $3.20 per hundred, which was 5c over and above anything that sold in the market that day. This is what Sal Vet has done for me."

We guarantee SAL-VET to do all that is claimed for it. You run no risk as we will at once plan money back guarantee. Come in and get a supply—try at our risk. We are exclusive agents in this locality.

OTTO'S PHARMACY. The REXALL Store Grand Rapids, Wis. When the Romans return in force, From Winter's wrath you should seek divorce. All Nature Puts On New Raiment. And so her creatures, the chief of which is—MAN. Sotto Voce. We stand with Tape Measure in, ready to size you up. Yours truly, LEOFF, The Tailor, Maker of Guaranteed Clothes. Grand Ave., West Side, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

Don't Delay Buying a DE LAVAL Separator a Single Day Longer. If you are selling cream or making butter and have no separator or are using an inferior machine, you are wasting cream every day you delay the purchase of a De Laval. There can only be two real reasons for putting off buying a De Laval, either you do not really appreciate how great your loss in dollars and cents actually is or else you do not believe the De Laval Cream Separator will make the savings claimed for it. In either case there is one conclusive answer. "Let us set up a machine for you on your place and SEE FOR YOURSELF what the De Laval will do." You have nothing to risk and a million other cow owners who have made this test have found they had much to gain. You can't afford to wait, even if only part of your cows are milking now. Let the De Laval start saving cream for you RIGHT NOW. If you really would like to know just how much more cream you can get with a De Laval let us set up a machine for you and have you try it out for yourself. Just 'phone or drop us a postal and we will be glad to bring a machine out to your place any time you say.

JOHNSON & HILL CO. GRAND RAPIDS. Legal blanks for sale at this office. —Nomination Blanks for Town Officers for sale at this office.

—Legal blanks for sale at this office.

—Legal blanks for sale at this office.

WOOD COUNTY NATIONAL BANK

Grand Rapids, Wis. Capital and Surplus $200,000.00. A Commercial and Savings Bank.

Money by Mail. When you send money through the mail, come to us for a BANK DRAFT. We sell them at a cost less than is charged for other kinds of money orders and they are more convenient and absolutely safe. Drafts $5.00 and under cost 1 cent, $10.00 cost 2 cents, $100.00 cost 10 cents, $150.00 cost 15 cents, $200.00 cost 20 cents, etc.

Follow the Leaders. Prominent Stockmen Feed SAL-VET and Guarantee It. Stop the losses from worms in your sheep—give all your stock a chance to rid themselves of these dangerous and deadly foes. Animals doctor themselves—all you have to do is place SAL-VET where they can get at it. In a short time the blood-sucking, disease-bearing pests will be destroyed. You will be delighted with the results. Your animals will pick up, improve, and your losses from worms will stop.

The Great Worm Destroyer SAL-VET The Great Live Stock Conditioner. is a wonder worker in driving out stomach and intestinal worms—a profit maker the year 'round. It's the best LIVE STOCK INSURANCE you can buy. GEO. HORN, Gambier, Ohio, says: "I was losing my lambs right along until I began feeding 'Sal Vet', since then I have lost only one. After six weeks, I shipped some to the Philadelphia market, where they sold for $3.20 per hundred, which was 5c over and above anything that sold in the market that day. This is what Sal Vet has done for me."

We guarantee SAL-VET to do all that is claimed for it. You run no risk as we will at once plan money back guarantee. Come in and get a supply—try at our risk. We are exclusive agents in this locality.

OTTO'S PHARMACY. The REXALL Store Grand Rapids, Wis. When the Romans return in force, From Winter's wrath you should seek divorce. All Nature Puts On New Raiment. And so her creatures, the chief of which is—MAN. Sotto Voce. We stand with Tape Measure in, ready to size you up. Yours truly, LEOFF, The Tailor, Maker of Guaranteed Clothes. Grand Ave., West Side, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

Don't Delay Buying a DE LAVAL Separator a Single Day Longer. If you are selling cream or making butter and have no separator or are using an inferior machine, you are wasting cream every day you delay the purchase of a De Laval. There can only be two real reasons for putting off buying a De Laval, either you do not really appreciate how great your loss in dollars and cents actually is or else you do not believe the De Laval Cream Separator will make the savings claimed for it. In either case there is one conclusive answer. "Let us set up a machine for you on your place and SEE FOR YOURSELF what the De Laval will do." You have nothing to risk and a million other cow owners who have made this test have found they had much to gain. You can't afford to wait, even if only part of your cows are milking now. Let the De Laval start saving cream for you RIGHT NOW. If you really would like to know just how much more cream you can get with a De Laval let us set up a machine for you and have you try it out for yourself. Just 'phone or drop us a postal and we will be glad to bring a machine out to your place any time you say.

JOHNSON & HILL CO. GRAND RAPIDS. Legal blanks for sale at this office. —Nomination Blanks for Town Officers for sale at this office.

—Legal blanks for sale at this office.

—Legal blanks for sale at this office.

—Legal blanks for sale at this office.

—Legal blanks for sale at this office.

THE RETAILERS PLATFORM.

"Our Town, One for All and All for One."

"Because this is where I make money and this is the place to spend it. Because my interests are here. Because I believe in transacting business with friends. Because the community that is good enough for me to live in is good enough to buy in. Because I want to see the goods. Because I want to get what I pay for. Because every dollar I spend at home stays at home and works for the welfare of the city. Because the man I buy from stands back of the goods. Because I sell what I produce here at home. Because the man I buy from pays his part of the city and county taxes. Because the man I buy from helps support my school, my church, my lodge and my home. Here is where I live and here is where I buy."

BOSSERT COAL CO.

Phone 416 Residence 54

FAIR AS A FLOWER

In their graceful beauty is not too much praise for our gas fixtures. Their attractiveness is beyond question, their convenience plainly apparent. It is foolish to think that only ugly fixtures can be effective. Come here and we will prove that our fixtures are even better light givers than the old kind.

Staub's Electric Shop

127 First St. N. East Side

Certificates of Deposit A Sound Investment

The certificates we issue are an ideal form of investment for your money. They are absolutely safe and always worth par. They earn 3 per cent interest, payable every six months. If a certificate is lost or stolen the money would not be lost. It would still be in the bank, and still be YOUR money. We issue these certificates in any amount, small or large.

First National Bank, Grand Rapids, Wis.

"Oldest bank in Central Wisconsin."

PAID ADVERTISEMENT

The following advertisement is to be paid for at 10c per inch for each of its appearance, by Henry S. Wagner, Grand Rapids, Wis.

Announcement

Notice is hereby given that I will be a candidate for the office of

ASSESSOR

at the coming Spring Election subject to the will of the people. If nominated and elected I will serve the people of Grand Rapids efficiently and equitably.

Yours respectfully,
Henry S. Wagner.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Common Council, March 3, 1914.

Present: Mayor, Aldermen, Councilmen.

Aldermen present: Hamberg, Gault, McCarthy, Edw. E. Calkins, McCarthy, E. T. Getchall, Edw. E. Calkins, McCarthy, E. T. Getchall, Edw. E. Calkins, McCarthy, E. T. Getchall.

Aldermen absent: Ketchum and Prebensen.

On motion the reading of the minutes of the last meeting of the council was dispensed with.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

Moved and seconded that the vote be taken on the resolution to reduce the water rate by one-third of the lowest side.

EXHILARATING FOR TAXPAYERS

(Appleton Post.)

The average yearly cost of running the state government from 1898 to 1908 was $5,263,695.

In 1913 the cost reached an extravagant sum of $18,298,030.

In 1913 an extra $1,000,000 had to be made to wipe out the then existing deficit, after $16,000,000 of the people's hard-earned cash had been spent in lavish official management, or rather, mismanagement, by the progressive prodigals in command at Madison.

The best accomplishment of this aggregation since "getting the government back to the people" may perpetuate its power.

Will it?

If so, it will be on the theory that when the people have been robbed of their property they will still worship these despots for the crumbs that fall from their table.

Excuse this digression. We will return to facts.

For the biennial period following, to defray the expenses of state government, the last legislature appropriated the staggering sum of $30,598,790.

This is nearly five times as much as was appropriated for the same purpose and the same extent of time, eleven years earlier when the guardian of "God's patient poor" with his party guiding their way into powder.

And what an influx there has been to the ranks of Diety's destitute since that period.

Let it now be understood that the increase in the assessments of property has kept pace with the increase of progressive expenditures.

In 1900 the state assessment was $630,000,000.

In 1912 the state assessment was $3,000,000,000.

And still, from the recent speeches of Gov. McGovern, the speed limit has not been reached by the progressive prodigals.

Wisconsin the average rate of assessment is 47.7 per cent of the actual value of property. This is ten per cent higher than the average for the United States.

The appropriations to meet state expense in Illinois are not quite equal to those of Wisconsin, while the population of the former state is two and one-half times greater than that of the latter.

The per capita tax for defraying the cost of the state government in Illinois is $3.75 while in Wisconsin it is 7.50.

And still Governor McGovern and that distinguished thirty-five years' muncher at the state's vice counter, the chairman of our odoriferous tax commission, vociferously proclaim that the people of Wisconsin should not complain of their high and ever increasing taxes when they take into account the amount and variety of progressivism laded out to them.

As well might it be insisted upon that a man who had been robbed should be proud of the high life and sumptuous dissipation his fortune afforded the foot-pads who held him up, or that a peacock, with a bag-stump-tail, should strut in its former glory at the sight of its plumage spread over the apparel of a society dame.

During the time that the assessments and state expenditures have been increasing in Wisconsin by leaps and bounds, the population has increased only twelve and one-half per cent and the actual wealth of the state eighteen per cent.

This increase in taxation of over four hundred per cent should prompt every voter in the state to invest in a new ax, and a grindstone to keep it on edge, and impatiently bide the time when he can get the necks of the whole gang of progressive vampires who commercially pauperized the state.

Just now the taxpayers everywhere in the state are struggling desperately to stand up under the burdens piled upon them under progressive rule, but it can be depended upon that they are making determined resolutions for the future. They intend to make those burdens lighter and they will, notwithstanding the governor is moving up and down the state telling the people that they should be proud of this profificacy.

He also assures them that their taxes will go on increasing rapidly, and that the state will be a more progressive state than ever before.

The impudence with which he asserts that the demands of the people are wholly instrumental for the existing ruinous conditions is about as refreshing as a January blizzard in June.

The people have no more to do with legislation in Madison than the Hotentots have with the modern tango. And the people have no more to do with the assembly and senate are a mere pack of puppets who accept and pass all bills framed and recommended by all or any of the fifty odd commissions, since they have assumed to be the people to whom the progressive have returned the government.

One of the fifty odd commissions created by the progressive prodigals is called the "Commission on the State Laws." This is composed of a coterie of state university spellbinders. It's the officious incubator of every law written into our state statutes. If a member draws a bill its consideration by the legislature is absolutely refused until after it has been passed upon by this commission. Its fate is sealed by the approval or disapproval of that body.

They are the fellows who are gathering the state taxpayers out of $30,598,790 annually, which Gov. McGovern declares the people should accept as divine revelation.

Mr. Taxpayer, did it ever occur to you that not a single man, from the governor down, has ever been elected on the state ticket since the advent of progressivism who had made a success in any business enterprise, worthy of note?

Is there one of 'em who would give five hundred years to manage a profitable business you had established?

Every one of them has been cradled in greed for power until his ego has become so inflated that he believes himself the saviour of the people—and damn the expense.

Let every tax-payer determine to vote only for business men regardless of party in the next primary and general election—business men who will be able to clean up the professional politicians, self-seekers and constitutional pap-suckers.

Elect men of that stamp and they will trim out the useless commissions, substituted for the scandalous swarm of game wardens that formerly stormed the state telling the people how to vote.

Do this and the conquests of Olympian Jupiter among the traditional progressives of the upper air, will not be in it with the career created in the next engagement of Wisconsin's taxpayers with her tax-eaters.

GRAND RAPIDS.

The Most Up-to-Date City For Its Size in the State.

Situated in the geographical centre of the state and surrounded by abundant agricultural and industrial resources, Grand Rapids maintains its position as the largest and most promising city in this section of Wisconsin.

Its water power is unlimited, its climate is unsurpassed from the standpoint of the health seeker, and its railroad facilities rank with any metropolis.

Grand Rapids is in the heart of one of the largest cranberry regions in the world and many other products of the soil of Wood county are comparing most favorably with the rich crops of the southern border of the state.

The city has four railroads with twenty-four passenger trains daily, and an interurban street car line between Grand Rapids and Nekeosha.

With an up-to-date system of city electric lights and waterworks, as well as an efficient telephone company, the people may have all the modern improvements in their homes, and at moderate rates.

Five blocks in the downtown district are paved, and there are about 100 acres devoted to parks.

The educational advantages of the city are excellent, there being one high school, four grade schools, a fine manual training school, six parochial schools, one business college, and a county training school. A well equipped public library benefits hundreds of readers.

In the amusement line, Grand Rapids has one opera house, three smaller theatres, a good ball park, and a large amusement hall, besides a large artificial swimming pool and plenty of beautiful spots along the river for out-of-door enjoyment. No better fishing and scenery can be found than right along the old Wisconsin River.

In taking a bird's-eye-view of the business and industry of Grand Rapids we find four banks, three newspaper establishments, two box factories, one saw-mill, one large flour mill, one hub and spoke factory, one iron foundry, one wagon factory, several machine shops, three garages, one cement block factory, one steam laundry, one plant engaged in the manufacture of heating systems, one large packing plant, one brewery, and two lumber yards. Grand Rapids is the home of the Consolidated Water Power and Paper Co., one of the largest and best equipped paper mills in the country. The company owns another large mill at Biron, four miles up the river.

The city has a good police force, and two excellent fire departments. The postal accommodations are as good as can be found anywhere, there being a fine new post-office building and mail delivery twice a day in the business section and twice a day in the residence section. The population according to the census of 1910 was 6521, or a gain of 45 per cent since 1900.

The past few years have been years of progress and improvement in every line. Those who left the city five years ago come back and marvel at the changes during a short period of time. Settlers who were once skeptical are now only too willing to cast their lot in Wood county, and the great majority of them find success.

SARATOGA.

Dear Sirs:—It has been reported I received a reward for delivering the pseudo Rev. A. Sabat to the provincial authorities. Not that I would have declined an offered remuneration for services rendered, but the fact remains, I did as I did, simply to remove an undesirable from our country and submit to you the enclosed letter from Donald MacPherson, to prove that I did not receive pay or even postage in the "transfer."

Respectfully,
Lee B. Margrey.

The letter follows:
Winnipeg, Man., March 5th, 1914.
Lee B. Margrey Esq., J. P. Rural Delivery No. 6, Grand Rapids, Wis. U. S. A.

Dear Sir:—

I beg to acknowledge receipt of your communication of 28th ult., regarding the above named person. I thank you for assisting and causing the apprehension of Lototski and regret to state that there is no reward offered for his apprehension by the authorities of the Province. If the Officer detailed by the Provincial authorities to bring him back to this country for trial stated there was, he did so in error.

Again thanking you, I remain,
Yours truly,
Donald MacPherson,
Chief Constable.

Difference in Soil.

Waupaca Republican-Post: Arthur Jakway of Stevens Point was in the city Tuesday. Mr. Jakway has sold his eighty acre farm at Lind Center to Henry Pagel, consideration $10,000. This price of $125 per acre is in marked contrast to another eighty acres located about four miles from Lind Center which sold at Lind Center on sheriff's sale at the Lind Center house. The price paid for the latter eighty acres was $450 or $5.63 per acre. While there was a difference in the soil of these two eighty-acre tracts, there has been a difference in handling the two farms and there was considerable difference in the buildings. Part of the sandy tract has growing timber but most of the farm had been cropped till it will no longer produce a crop. Careful farming is necessary to take any of the soil to be maintained.

—Nomination Blanks for Town Officers for sale at this office.

HOW WASSERMAN TEST IS APPLIED

(Sheboygan Press).

Much has been said in the newspapers of Wisconsin about the Wasserman test being required before physicians can give a prospective bridegroom a certificate of health under the eugenic marriage law, and the physicians have claimed the test could not be made for $3.00.

Very few people know anything about the Wasserman test, and at the request of The Press, Dr. J. C. Effers secured the following explanation of the test exclusively for this paper, from an expert.

The Wasserman reaction, or test, is a means of determining the presence of specific blood-poisoning in the blood.

When the disease-poison gets into the system, the blood reacts against it and tries to destroy it by making an antibody. In order, however, that the antibody may destroy the disease-producing agent a third body must be present. This is called complement. Every blood contains more or less complement. The antibody in a diseased person's blood will when complement is added, destroy the disease-producing agent outside the body. This is what is done in making the test.

About two teaspoonful of blood are taken from the patient. It is allowed to stand perfectly quiet until it separates into two parts—the clear, pale yellow serum and the dark red clot. The former is carefully taken off and the antigen is then heated to destroy the unknown amount of complement in it. This is called inactivation. The inactive serum is now put in a test tube with the disease-producing agent, called antigen, and a measured amount of complement from guinea pig's blood added. The whole is allowed to stand at body temperature for an hour. This is the first phase of the reaction. If the patient's serum contained antibody, it will combine with the antigen and the complement are all destroyed and no longer fit to work. If the patient's serum contained no antibody, nothing has happened and the component parts remain as they were. But so far, the whole mixture is colorless and it is not apparent what has happened.

It is necessary, therefore, to make another test, to find out the answer to the question of whether or not the patient's serum contained antibody. This is done by adding to the mixture of the antigen and the complement are all destroyed and no longer fit to work. If the patient's serum contained no antibody, nothing has happened and the component parts remain as they were. But so far, the whole mixture is colorless and it is not apparent what has happened.

It is necessary, therefore, to make another test, to find out the answer to the question of whether or not the patient's serum contained antibody. This is done by adding to the mixture of the antigen and the complement are all destroyed and no longer fit to work. If the patient's serum contained no antibody, nothing has happened and the component parts remain as they were. But so far, the whole mixture is colorless and it is not apparent what has happened.

It is necessary, therefore, to make another test, to find out the answer to the question of whether or not the patient's serum contained antibody. This is done by adding to the mixture of the antigen and the complement are all destroyed and no longer fit to work. If the patient's serum contained no antibody, nothing has happened and the component parts remain as they were. But so far, the whole mixture is colorless and it is not apparent what has happened.

It is necessary, therefore, to make another test, to find out the answer to the question of whether or not the patient's serum contained antibody. This is done by adding to the mixture of the antigen and the complement are all destroyed and no longer fit to work. If the patient's serum contained no antibody, nothing has happened and the component parts remain as they were. But so far, the whole mixture is colorless and it is not apparent what has happened.

It is necessary, therefore, to make another test, to find out the answer to the question of whether or not the patient's serum contained antibody. This is done by adding to the mixture of the antigen and the complement are all destroyed and no longer fit to work. If the patient's serum contained no antibody, nothing has happened and the component parts remain as they were. But so far, the whole mixture is colorless and it is not apparent what has happened.

It is necessary, therefore, to make another test, to find out the answer to the question of whether or not the patient's serum contained antibody. This is done by adding to the mixture of the antigen and the complement are all destroyed and no longer fit to work. If the patient's serum contained no antibody

Hoarseness

Have you got hoarseness that continues? Or do you get hoarse once in a while, whenever you get the slightest cold? Hoarseness means a catarrhal condition of the vocal cords. The vocal cords are way down in the larynx, and when affected by hoarseness should cause serious concern.

Peruna has been found to be an excellent remedy for such cases. We have received testimonials from responsible people who have been relieved of hoarseness by Peruna. Should you want to read a lot of excellent testimonials on all subjects write for the

"ILLS OF LIFE"

sent free by the Peruna Co., Columbus, Ohio.

Peruna can also be obtained in tablet form. Ask your druggist, or send to us direct.

Banish the "Blues!"

If you have that depressed feeling it's more than likely that your blood is out of order—imperfect or poisoned.

There is only one thing that will alter your present condition—that's to restore your stomach to normal health and strength. For a weak or diseased stomach cannot make good blood. If your digestion is bad your food will not make the good blood which nourishes body, brain, heart and nerve.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

helps the stomach to do its work naturally and properly. Stimulates the liver. The system is freed from poison. The blood is purified. Every organ is rejuvenated. Instead of the "Blues," you feel fit and strong, equal to any task or up to any pleasure.

This great remedy has proved its worth year after year for over forty years. Let it prove its worth to you. Sold by medicine dealers in tablet or liquid form or send $6c for trial box by mail.

Send 31 one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only on a free copy of Dr. Pierce's Complete Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, clothbound, Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Cost of Living Again.

Prosperous ex-German on visit to the fatherland—Donner und Blitzen, what are you given us? Forty pence for this sausage! When I went away a few years ago I used to pay only 20 pence.

The Waiter—They were different sausages.

The p. ex-G—Precisely the same.

The Waiter—No, you're wrong there.

The old ones were bigger—New York Evening Post.

Cost of Living Again.

Prosperous ex-German on visit to the fatherland—Donner und Blitzen, what are you given us? Forty pence for this sausage! When I went away a few years ago I used to pay only 20 pence.

The Waiter—They were different sausages.

The p. ex-G—Precisely the same.

The Waiter—No, you're wrong there.

The old ones were bigger—New York Evening Post.

WATERY BLISTERS ON FACE

Smithville, Ind.—"Six months ago our baby girl, one year old, had a few red pimples come on her face which gradually spread causing her face to become very irritated and a fiery red color. The pimples on the child's face were at first small watery blisters, just a small blotch on the skin. She kept scratching at this until in a few days her whole cheeks were fiery red color and instead of the little blisters the skin was cracked and scaly looking and seemed to itch and burn very much.

"We used a number of remedies which seemed to give relief for a short time then leave her face worse than ever. Finally we got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment. I washed the child's face with very warm water and Cuticura Soap, then applied the Cuticura Ointment very lightly. After doing this about three times a day the itching and burning seemed entirely gone in two days' time. Inside of two weeks' time her face seemed well. That was eight months ago and there has been no return of the trouble." (Signed) Mrs. A. K. Wooden, Nov. 4, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 2c. Skin Book. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston"—Adv.

No Sympathy.

"Waiter," said the man in the hotel dining room, "there's a fly in this ice cream."

"Serves him right, sir," replied the waiter. "Let him stay there and freeze to death. He was in the soup yesterday."

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Williams.

In Use For Over 30 Years.

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

The Net Result.

"Jinks says he is a self-made man."

"Then he made a fool job of the work."—Baltimore American.

Constipation Vanishes Forever

Prompt Relief—Permanent Cure

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS never fail. Purely vegetable—act surely but gently on the liver.

Stimulate the liver, cleanse the blood, improve the complexion, brighten the eyes.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

Genuine must bear Signature

W. N. U., MILWAUKEE, Wis.

Canadian Government Agent

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis.

Have That Next
Hair Cut Done by
An Expert. No
Shaving with Hair
Cut.

STAMM

OUR MISSING WORD CONTEST

FIND THE MISSING WORDS AND RECEIVE THE PRIZE

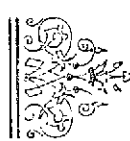

Conditions of Contest: In one or more ads on this page a word has been intentionally left out. Read the ads carefully and see if you can supply all the missing words. Write your answer plainly on a sheet of paper and sign your name and address to same, then put in a plain envelope and bring or send it to The Tribune Office. Only adults can enter their names in this contest. In writing your answer specify ads and the lines in the ads in which the words are missing, giving the correct words. These ads will run once per week for ten weeks in this paper and one dollar will be given for the nearest correct answer in each week's contest. The nearest correct answer each week will be entitled to one dollar. The second answer will be entitled to one year's subscription to the Tribune. All answers must be in The Tribune office before Monday of the following week. No answer received by telephone. A notice will be published in following issue stating what words were left out of the ads and who are entitled to the prizes.

The Place to Obtain Fine
Job Work is at The Tribune Office.

THE BIGGEST LITTLE STORE IN TOWN

$2.00 cash prize for the first correct guess as to the name of this store. Mail your guess to the Tribune office not later than Tuesday.

WATCH THIS SPACE FOR ANSWER

Green House

Flowers
Plants
Bulbs.

We Invite Your Inspection

PAUL, The Florist,

Back of Methodist Church
East Side

Spring Goods
Now Arriving

AT
The Fair!

Never have you had such a chance for making a good selection as at the present time. No trouble to show goods. Bargains are to be found in all our regular lines.

The FAIR

West End of Bridge

A New Car For an Old One

It is the FINISH that makes the machine as far as appearance goes. What about letting us repaint your automobile? We agree to use thru-out Valentine & Company's varnishes, which are the most expensive in first cost but standard for excellence the world over. Valentine & Company guarantee quality.

We repair and rebuild tops, repair wheels, springs and bodies. Come in and see us.

Anderson Carriage Works
Grand Rapids, Wisconsin

DR. V. P. NORTON
VETERINARIAN

The best equipped horse hospital in this section of the state. Telephone calls promptly answered. Hospital phone 543. House phone 161. Infirmary located on West side Market Square.

A Completely Fur- nished Dining Room

is a woman's pride and a man's thorough satisfaction. In such a room food tastes better, and people feel more sociable. We can furnish such a room with table, chairs, side-board, china closet, etc., in a style that will be the acme of good taste and at prices which will be the height of economy.

Natwick Furniture
Company

DR. GEO. F. HOUSTON,
DENTIST

Teeth Drilled without Pain under
ANALGESIA

Office in Pomainville Block,
West Side.

Art Furniture!

That's the kind you find at our establishment. Furniture to satisfy practically every need at a decided saving. Selections this March have advantages that are rarely offered in the choosing of furniture at very low prices. The values here forcefully emphasize the Ragan idea of being satisfied with nothing short of perfection.

The variety for selection was never greater. Some of the best known trade marks—which in themselves are by-words of excellence—will be found on low priced pieces. Every piece is carefully selected. Every article is well constructed and finished. Each is good in style. The savings are truly remarkable. We are the furniture headquarters with the largest line of furniture in Wood county occupying the entire Spafford building. We also sell on credit. Buy what you need and pay for it in monthly payments.

Ragan Furniture Co.
Furniture and Undertaking

BEFORE BUYING SEE WEEKS & WEEKS

—PRODUCERS OF HIGH GRADE—
ARTISTIC CEMETERY MEMORIALS
AND BUILDING WORK

OFFICE AND WORKS GRAND RAPIDS, WIS.
It Will Pay You

Warm Weather Will Soon be Here

The Woman of the House
can lessen her work and add years to her life by using Electricity to cook
with.

The Hughes Electric Range Does The Business.

Current for cooking at 3c per Kilowatt

Grand Rapids Electric Co.

This is Not Too Early

to decide to attend the Grand Rapids Business College.

It is the aim and purpose of this college to provide the "ways and means" by which young people may obtain a practical course of training that will enable them to fill acceptably one of the many good positions that will be offered when they are prepared.

Call or send for particulars.

Grand Rapids Business College

Our Work Recommends ITSELF

because of its beauty of its finish when you open a bundle of laundry from our establishment, you realize what perfect painstaking work means and how it can please our patrons.

We are scrupulously careful in the handling of all garments and our process of cleansing and laundering never injures the most delicate fabric. Charges moderate.

NORMINGTON BROS.
LAUNDRESS

Look Ahead Several Weeks!

To the time when you will be out buying your Spring Suit. When the warm days of Spring are here, you'll undoubtedly want your new suit right away. That means you'll have to shoulder the unnecessary risk of wearing clothes that only fit you in part. Perhaps you'll find the pattern you want but the style doesn't suit you, or vice versa. Then it's a sure shot you'll have to pay more than if we made your suit now to your measure for this low price—

No More—$16.50—No Less

PEOPLE'S TAILORING COMPANY

"One Block from the High Rent District." End of Bridge.

A Greek
Philosopher

IT'S A LONG SEARCH

we are told searched in vain for an honest man.
At the present time, honest men are not so scarce.

"HONESTY IS THE BEST POLICY"

friends whose confidence and good will are worth more to us than all we practice it in our business and find that it has gained for us many other things combined.

If you want a square deal in the Flour business give VICTORIA a trial.

Grand Rapids Milling Co.

KAUDY'S STUDIO

The place where they make Fine Photographs. We want your business and in order to get it we guarantee you satisfaction every time. Look over our samples and

See if We Cannot Deliver The Goods

New Coats and Suits To Fit All Sizes

We show some beauties at.....$10.00 and $12.50
Also a large line from.....$7.50 up to $25.00
It will mean money in your pocket to give us a look before buying

We also have on sale a sample line of Ladies' and Misses' Wool and Silk Crepe Dresses—one of a kind—which we are able to sell at Wholesale Prices.

W. C. WEISEL

Mr. Farmer:

Have you ever thought about bringing your stock to the Reiland Packing Co. when you have any to sell? If you haven't, just ask your neighbor or any of your farmer friends who have done business with us and see if they have not always received a square deal and perhaps just a little better than they could have gotten elsewhere. We are always in the market for anything you have to sell, no matter how small.

REILAND PACKING CO.
GRAND RAPIDS, WISCONSIN

GLASSES THAT FIT
When were your fitted last? Every three or four years your eyes should be examined, particularly if you have changed your surroundings, have been ill, etc.
Don't forget that improperly fitted lenses are worse than none.

A. P. HIRZY,
Rolling Jeweler and Optician

Pleased Customers

Is the first requisite in the building up of a successful business.

Our Groceries please customers because they are put up solely on a quality basis. We are sure to please you. Call or phone your next order.

Highest market prices for Butter and Eggs.

Beardsleys

L. REICHEL The West Side JEWELER
EXPERT WATCH REPAIRING.
GRADUATE OPTICIAN

Dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry. Fine line of Diamonds and other precious stones. Sterling Silverware and many other tasty articles suitable for birthday and anniversary presents. Store in the Pomainville building. Phone No. 57.

F. MacKINNON MANUFACTURING CO.
Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

—MANUFACTURERS OF ALL KINDS OF—WAGONS

Sold by JOHN D. SMITH 2nd St. N.
Grand Rapids, Wis.

GO TO EUGENE MILLER The Bicycle Man

When you want anything in the line of Repair Work, Motor Cycles, Bicycles, Auto Tires, Gossoline, Batteries and Accessories.

Garage Near The Library Building.
East Side Phone 765

Dont Fail to See The WARNER
FEATURES
at the BIJOU
THEATRE
all next week.

Are You Going To BUILD?

Better see us before you decide on material to use. We save you money on first cost and you get a better building by using our "WATER-PROOF CAST BUILDING STONE." Use the plain cast block if you desire a stucco finish that will be permanent and will not crack or peel off.

We also have a very handsome granite veneer, which must be seen to be appreciated. See us for trim stone, granite faced or plain. Also ornamental work. Office Lyon Block. Phones 546 and 683.

Carey Concrete Co.

ARE YOU GOING TO BUILD?

If so get your planing, floor and mill work fixed right at

Nason's Shop.

Have recently installed a four side matcher and molder and can make anything to be used from your own material. Interior finish, window frames, etc.

B. F. NASON

Anderson

The Baker
With a Reputation,
Anderson

The Baker

To Owners of Autos

Since opening up business last fall I have met with such success that I have been obliged to get larger quarters, and have rented the Metzger blacksmith shop next to the Anderson carriage works where I will be better able to look after your wants. First class workmanship at a living price is my motto, and I guarantee to look after your car personally. If you have never had any work done by me, ask some of my old customers what they think of the service I have been giving. I will appreciate a trial job. Yours for results.

EDW. KAMPE,
The Auto Repair Man.

HAVE

Those Harness
Repaired
Early by

LANE

THE PLACE to BUY

Your Groceries, Fruits, both fresh and canned, Farm Produce, Butter and Eggs. We keep nothing but the best money can buy and our prices are always among the lowest in the city. We have a good delivery system and give you prompt service. On account of our large farm trade we are always prepared to furnish you with the best in farm produce, Eggs, Butter and Vegetables. Give us a trial order, if we can't please you we will gladly refund your money.

Yours for the Best in Groceries,

Gottschalk & Anderson

Have That Next
Hair Cut Done by
An Expert. No
Shaving with Hair
Cut.

STAMM

OUR MISSING WORD CONTEST

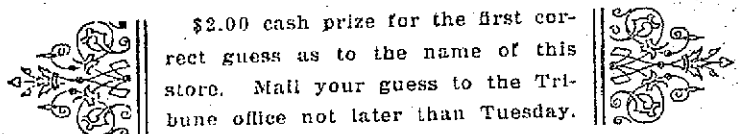

FIND THE MISSING WORDS AND RECEIVE THE PRIZE

Conditions of Contest:

In one or more ads on this page a word has been intentionally left out. Read the ads carefully and see if you can supply all the missing words. Write your answer plainly on a sheet of paper and sign your name and address to same, then put in a plain envelope and bring or send it to The Tribune Office. Only adults can enter their names in this contest. In writing your answer specify ads and the lines in the ads in which the words are missing, giving the correct words. These ads will run once per week for ten weeks in this paper and one dollar will be given for the nearest correct answer in each week's contest. The nearest correct answer each week will be entitled to one dollar. The second answer will be entitled to one year's subscription to the Tribune. All answers must be in The Tribune office before Monday of the following week. No answer received by telephone. A notice will be published in following issue stating what words were left out of the ads and who are entitled to the prizes.

The Place to Obtain Fine
Job Work is at The Tribune Office.

THE BIGGEST LITTLE STORE IN TOWN

$2.00 cash prize for the first correct guess as to the name of this store. Mail your guess to the Tribune office not later than Tuesday.

WATCH THIS SPACE FOR ANSWER

Green House

Flowers
Plants
Bulbs.

We Invite Your Inspection

PAUL, The Florist,

Back of Methodist Church
East Side

Spring Goods
Now Arriving

The Fair!

Never have you had such a chance for making a good selection as at the present time. No trouble to show goods. Bargains are to be found in all our regular lines.

The FAIR

West End of Bridge

A New Car For an Old One

It is the FINISH that makes the machine as far as appearance goes. What about letting us repaint your automobile? We agree to use thru-out Valentine & Company's varnishes, which are the most expensive in first cost but standard for excellence the world over. Valentine & Company guarantee quality.

We repair and rebuild tops, repair wheels, springs and bodies. Come in and see us.

Anderson Carriage Works
Grand Rapids, Wisconsin

A Completely Fur- nished Dining Room

is a woman's pride and a man's thorough satisfaction. In such a room food tastes better, and people feel more sociable. We can furnish such a room with table, chairs, sideboard, china closet, etc., in a style that will be the acme of good taste and at prices which will be the height of economy.

Natwick Furniture
Company

DR. V. P. NORTON
VETERINARIAN

The best equipped horse hospital in this section of the state. Telephone calls promptly answered. Hospital phone 633. House phone 161. Infirmary located on West side Market Square.

DR. GEO. F. HOUSTON,
DENTIST

Teeth Drilled without Pain under
ANALGESIA

Office in Pomaine Block,
West Side.

Art Furniture!

That's the kind you find at our establishment. Furniture to satisfy practically every need at a decided saving. Selections this March have advantages that are rarely offered in the choosing of furniture at very low prices. The values here forcefully emphasize the Ragan idea of being satisfied with nothing short of perfection.

The variety for selection was never greater. Some of the best known trade marks—which in themselves are by-words of excellence—will be found on low priced pieces. Every piece is carefully selected. Every article is well constructed and finished. Each is good in style. The savings are truly remarkable. We are the furniture headquarters with the largest line of furniture in Wood county occupying the entire Spafford building. We also sell on credit. Buy what you need and pay for it in monthly payments.

Ragan Furniture Co.

Furniture and Undertaking

BEFORE BUYING SEE WEEKS & WEEKS

PRODUCERS OF HIGH GRADE
ARTISTIC CEMETERY MEMORIALS
AND
BUILDING WORK
OFFICE AND WORKS GRAND RAPIDS, WIS.
It Will Pay You

Warm Weather Will Soon be Here

The Woman of the House
can lessen her work and add years to her life by using Electricity to cook
with.

The Hughes Electric Range Does The Business.

Current for cooking at 3c per Kilowatt

Grand Rapids Electric Co.

This is Not Too Early

to decide to attend the Grand Rapids Business College.

It is the aim and purpose of this college to provide the "ways and means" by which young people may obtain a practical course of training that will enable them to fill acceptably one of the many good positions that will be offered when they are prepared.

Call or send for particulars.

Grand Rapids Business College

Our Work Recommends ITSELF

because of its beauty of its finish when you open a bundle of laundry from our establishment, you realize what perfect painstaking work means and how it can please our patrons.

We are scrupulously careful in the handling of all garments and our process of cleansing and laundering never injures the most delicate fabric. Charges moderate.

NORMINGTON BROS.
LAUNDRESS

Look Ahead Several Weeks!

To the time when you will be out buying your Spring Suit. When the warm days of Spring are here, you'll undoubtedly want your new suit right away. That means you'll have to shoulder the unnecessary risk of wearing clothes that only fit you in part. Perhaps you'll find the pattern you want but the style doesn't suit you, or vice versa. Then it's a sure shot you'll have to pay more than if we made your suit now to your measure for this low price—

No More—$16.50—No Less

PEOPLE'S TAILORING COMPANY

"One Block from the High Rent District." End of Bridge.

A

Greek

Philosopher

IT'S A LONG SEARCH

we are told searched in vain for an honest man.

At the present time, honest men are not so scarce.

"HONESTY IS THE BEST POLICY"

friends whose confidence and good will are worth more to us than all we practice it in our business and find that it has gained for us many other things combined.

If you want a square deal in the Flour business give VICTORIA a trial.

Grand Rapids Milling Co.

KAUDY'S STUDIO

The place where they make Fine Photographs. We want your business and in order to get it we guarantee you satisfaction every time. Look over our samples and

See if We Cannot Deliver The Goods

New Coats and Suits To Fit All Sizes

We show some beauties at.....$10.00 and $12.50
Also a large line from.....$7.50 up to $25.00
It will mean money in your pocket to give us a look before buying

We also have on sale a sample line of Ladies' and Misses' Wool and Silk Crepe Dresses—one of a kind—which we are able to sell at Wholesale Prices.

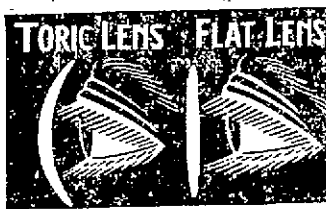

W. C. WEISEL

Mr. Farmer:

Have you ever thought about bringing your stock to the Reiland Packing Co. when you have any to sell? If you haven't, just ask your neighbor or any of your farmer friends who have done business with us and see if they have not always received a square deal and perhaps just a little better than they could have gotten elsewhere. We are always in the market for anything you have to sell, no matter how small.

REILAND PACKING CO.

GRAND RAPIDS, WISCONSIN

GLASSES THAT FIT

When were your fitted last? Every three or four years your eyes should be examined, particularly if you have changed your surroundings, have been ill, etc. Don't forget that improperly fitted lenses are worse than none.

A. P. HIRZY,
Reliable Jeweler and Optician

Pleased Customers

Is the first requisite in the building up of a successful business.

Our Groceries please customers because they are put up solely on a quality basis. We are sure to please you. Call or phone your next order. Highest market prices for Butter and Eggs.

Beardsleys

L. REICHEL The West Side JEWELER

EXPERT WATCH REPAIRING.
GRADUATE OPTICIAN

Dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry. Fine line of Diamonds and other precious stones. Sterling Silverware and many other tasty articles suitable for birthday and anniversary presents. Store in the Pomaineville building. Phone No. 57.

F. MacKINNON MANUFACTURING CO.

Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

WAGONS

Sold by JOHN D. SMITH 2nd St N.

Grand Rapids, Wis.

EUGENE MILLER

The Bicycle Man

When you want anything in the line of Repair Work, Motor Cycles, Bicycles, Auto Tires, Goggles, Batteries and Accessories.

Garage Near The Library Building.
East Side Phone 765

Dont Fail to

See The

WARNER

FEATURES

at the BIJOU

THEATRE

all next week.

Are You Going To BUILD?

Better see us before you decide on material to use. We have you money on first cost and you get a better building by using our "WATER-PROOF CAST BUILDING STONE." Use the plain cast block if you desire a stucco finish that will be permanent and will not crack or peel off.

We also have a very handsome granite veneer, which must be seen to be appreciated. See us for trim stone, granite faced or plain. Also ornamental work. Office Lyon Block. Phones 546 and 683.

Carey Concrete Co.

ARE YOU GOING TO BUILD?

If so get your planing, floor and mill work fixed right at

Nason's Shop.

Have recently installed a four side matcher and molder and can make anything to be used from your own material. Interior finish, window frames, etc.

B. F. NASON

Anderson

The Baker
With a Reputation,
Anderson

The Baker

To Owners of Autos

Since opening up business last fall I have met with such success that I have been obliged to get larger quarters, and have rented the Metzger blacksmith shop next to the Anderson carriage works where I will be better able to look after your wants. First class workmanship at a living price is my motto, and I guarantee to look after your car personally. If you have never had any work done by me, ask some of my old customers what they think of the service I have been giving. I will appreciate a trial job. Yours for results.

EDW. KAMPE,
The Auto Repair Man.

HAVE

Those Harness
Repaired
Early by

LANE

THE PLACE to BUY

Your Groceries, Fruits, both fresh and canned, Farm Produce, Butter and Eggs. We keep nothing but the best money can buy and our prices are always among the lowest in the city. We have a good delivery system and give you prompt service. On account of our large farm trade we are always prepared to furnish you with the best in farm produce, Eggs, Butter and Vegetables. Give us a trial order, if we can't please you we will gladly refund your money.

Yours for the Best in Groceries,

Gottschalk & Anderson

Insurance TAYLOR & SCOTT Real Estate

THE AMERICAN PLAY COMPANY
(ARCH SELWYN MANAGING DIRECTOR)

"A TRIUMPH UNDER TWO FLAGS"

THE REIGNING SENSATION
—OF—
NEW YORK AND LONDON.

BAYARD VILLERS WORLD WIDE SUCCESS

WITHIN THE LAW

THE PLAY THAT HAS MADE A MILLION PEOPLE THINK

Daily Theatre, Tuesday, March 24. Prices 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50. Seats on sale now. Phone 334.

LOCAL ITEMS.

—Try a Lucky Sam. 10c smoke for five cents.

Mrs. C. A. Northington is visiting with relatives in Green Bay.

Percy Daly of Merrill spent Sunday in this city with relatives.

Lloyd Mathis has sold his Ford touring car to a party from Nekeosa.

Miss Maud Waterman, who is teaching at Hancock is home for a week's vacation.

Attorney D. D. Conway spent Tuesday in Milwaukee looking after some business matters.

Merritt Denniston of the town of Rudolph was a pleasant caller at this office on Tuesday.

Mrs. J. J. Patrick and daughter Myrtle are both confined to their home by diphtheria.

Prof. M. H. Jackson has been under the weather for several weeks past, having been barely able to attend to his school duties. He has been feeling somewhat better of late.

Mrs. Anton Hirzy and Miss Regina Hirzy have been spending several days in Milwaukee with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Gross of Madison were guests at the Wm. Slattery home several days the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Guenther visited with relatives and friends in Shiocton and New London the past week.

John Alexander, who is attending Lawrence college at Appleton, is home to spend a week's vacation with his parents at Port Edwards.

Miss Grace Goggins, who is attending Normal school at Milwaukee, spent Sunday at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Goggins.

Mrs. George Gibson entertained a party of lady friends Monday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Beulah Hemminger, Colorado Springs. The afternoon was spent very pleasantly.

Just received a full line of boys' misses' and children's shoes at J. Zimmerman's shoe store.

—Pictures Saturday night at Daly's Theatre.

WOMEN ON SCHOOL BOARD

There was a slight departure from the usual routine at the school meeting on Monday night, three women being elected to take the place of three of the men members.

In the first ward Mrs. E. P. Arpin was elected to take the place of A. P. Hill, in the second ward Mrs. B. L. Brown took the place of R. L. Nason.

In the fifth ward George Sherman succeeds Geo. W. Paulus, and the other members were re-elected.

A committee, consisting of A. A. Taylor, Guy O. Babcock, and Geo. K. Gibson, was appointed to ask the school board to be used for athletic purposes, and after the reading of annual reports the meeting adjourned.

Public Auction.

On Wednesday, March 25th a public auction will be held at the Herman Hill farm on Seneca road 3 1/2 miles south of Grand Rapids, at which the following will be sold:

Seven head of horses, 4 gray team weighing 2800 lbs., 1 bay gelding 7 years, weight 2300, 1 gray mare 12 yrs., weight 10 lbs., 1 bay driving horse 10 yrs., weight 1200 lbs., 1 colt from above mare sired by Tippler, 2 sets harness, 4 cows, young stock and farm implements.

Six months time on sums over $10 with interest at 6 per cent. 5 per cent discount for cash.

C. C. Graham, Proprietor, Barney St. Denis, Auctioneer.

WEST SIDE BUILDING IS BADLY DAMAGED BY FIRE

The Tompkins hall on the west side near the Polish church was partially burned on Monday morning, the upper part of the building being burned off so that the building is probably a total loss. There was an insurance of $1200 on the building.

It is known how the fire originated but it was probably from the chimney as the flames broke thru the roof before the people inside knew anything about it.

Owing to the smallness of the water mains out in that locality it was impossible to throw much of a stream of water, so it is probable that more damage was done than would have been otherwise.

MISSING WORD CONTEST.

Read the Ads in the Missing Word Contest. You may win a dollar. The contest is at the top of the page, you can't make a mistake.

One of our merchants also offers $2 if you guess his name. This is another chance to pick up a little piece of change. Your chance is just as good if you live out of town as if you live in the city. Just send your answer by mail, and don't forget to give your name and your post office address. Contest ads on last page of Tribune.

STATE THAT PARTICULARS.

WE'RE EXAGGERATED.

Vincent, Peter and Gust Brostowitz and Mike Bogotinski, the three men from the town of Sigel, who were recently arrested at Stevens Point for assault and later released on a bond of $500, state that the matter has been greatly exaggerated by the press over there, and that they are not guilty of an unprovoked assault on one of their own men.

The men say that they went to the blacksmith shop and asked the proprietor to reset the shoes on their horses, and that they were explaining what they wanted done, left the place. When they returned for the horses they found the blacksmith had put on new shoes and wanted to charge them more money than they had with them.

When they went back to the shop, the blacksmith had put on new shoes and wanted to charge them more money than they had with them.

There was considerable of a row, and as to who got the best of it is not known, but the Sigel men claim that they did no more than anybody would have done under similar circumstances. As all of the men are away in this city and have always been law abiding citizens and have never been in the habit of fighting with the men whom they deal with, it is entirely probable that there is more or less truth to their version of the affair. They plead not guilty to the charge preferred against them, which was assault with intent to do great bodily harm.

A TEMPER IN A TEAPOT.

The temporary temper that was created over what Superintendent Carey said about our young people and their morals has subsided, and didn't say that their morals were loose. He just said that it happened to be in the city one evening and that the young people were not keeping better track of their young ones and not allowing them to be exposed to temptation in this manner.

Now, when a state superintendent makes a speech he is supposed to say something. Ordinarily they confine themselves to telling the people what a wonderful school system they have and what a handsome school building and what an exceptional equipment, ending by describing to the youngsters the old school house and the best used to go to, thereby impressing on their minds how much better off they are at the present time than were the young people of his time.

It seems, however, that Mr. Carey departed a trifle from the general run of this sort of speechmaking, and is not so much of a school booster as he used to be, and broke into print about the matter. Mr. Carey explained that there was a merry-go-round in operation the night he was here, and under the circumstances it would be perfectly natural for the young people to be out on an occasion of this sort. Our older people are not given very much to hanging around merry-go-rounds, even though it may be the custom where Mr. Carey lives.

On the night in question the young people certainly were not strolling down alleys, as there are no alleys in Grand Rapids, and they were not walking along the public streets, even though they may be only 10 or 12 years old.

We do not know anything about Mr. Carey's past history, but it seems to us that any man who can see anything evil in the actions of young people should have an evil mind. If he is looking for things that a man in his position should not be searching for.

We think that our young people will average up well with the best of them to be found anywhere, and our advice to Mr. Carey is to stick to the old stereotyped form of address on occasions of this sort and not take any chances. You can never tell when there might be somebody in the audience with brains enough to know what you are talking about.

J. D. HARRING OF NEKOOSA

J. D. Harring of Nekeosa was naming the callers at the Tribune office on Tuesday. Mr. Harring states that he will be a candidate for the nomination of member of assembly at the primary election this fall, on the republican ticket.

The high wind of Sunday night blew down a section of the telephone line between this city and Port Edwards so that both Nekeosa and Port Edwards were shut off from communication for a time. Seven of the poles were blown down, but these were reset the same day and the system was soon in operation again.

Sunday night at Daly's theatre, a big Seven Reel Picture program consisting of Sarah Bernhardt in La Tosca, 1913 Series Bessie Bell and a series of Animal Pictures for the children. Two shows, 7:15 and 9 o'clock. Prices 10c up stairs and 15c down stairs.

A. Scholler has resigned his position at the Grand Rapids Foundry Co. and expects to leave about the middle of April for the west.

Miss Olga Schrieber has been visiting with relatives in Milwaukee the past two weeks.

Chris. Hassell, one of the early settlers of the town of Rudolph who has made his home in this city the past two years is seriously ill at his home on the east side with heart trouble.

All kinds of typewriter paper for sale at The Tribune office.

Charley Matthews, spent Monday and Tuesday at Almond and Waukegan on business.

Miss Katherine Geoghan is suffering from a severe cold, in the throat and chest, which she contracted recently by falling down stairs with a tray of dishes. She has since been unable to use the hand at all.

SOMETHING ABOUT MACADAM ROADS

Ever since the meeting of the county board in November 1913, when Mr. Hirst, the state highway engineer talked to the county board then in session, I have been aware that some of those that heard him talk, misunderstood him when the water-bound macadam road was under discussion. I did not know, however, that the people had got so far from the real truth of the matter, until I started out to buy stone, and when they commenced to tell me that they thought the state and county would not put in or allow any more crushed stone roads, I began to think that it was up to me to get this misunderstanding cleared up, and in order to get more light on the subject I decided to ask Mr. Hirst to explain his own talk, and in order that he would know in what way he was misunderstood, I sent him an article published in one of our leading county weeklies in the month of December, 1913.

Mr. Hirst's answer to my appeal follows:

Madison, Wis., March 4th, 1914.

Mr. L. Amundson, Grand Rapids, Wis.

Dear Sir:—I note from some of the clippings in the Wood County papers that part of my talk last November to the Wood County Board has been misconstrued by the press. The matter under discussion at the time I made my remarks as to macadam road surfaces was the Grand Rapids and Marshfield road, and I stated that for this road, which, if it serves the purpose intended, will carry a very heavy automobile traffic as soon as completed, we doubted if the life of a waterbound macadam road would be more than six or seven years and that we would not advise construction of waterbound macadam on through roads which would invariably carry very heavy mixed traffic, but that we would advise the county to construct such roads of either vitrified brick or concrete.

These remarks only applied to this special road in Wood County, on an ordinary road a waterbound macadam surface will give excellent service. It maintained without any bituminous coating, such a road built of limestone macadam, disintegrated granite or local hard-heads will probably give good service on an ordinary highway if ruts and holes are repaired as soon as they show up for about ten years. At the end of that time the top course would have to be replaced and the road re-rolled and finished at a cost of slightly over half the original cost of surfacing.

If left entirely without repairing a waterbound macadam road will customarily need re-surfacing at the end of six or seven years.

If a waterbound macadam road is well built and it is given surface treatments of oil, tars, or asphalt, commencing the year following construction, and these surface treatments are renewed as often as is necessary (ruts and holes being filled) we believe that the life of macadam road is almost indefinite before re-surfacing.

These surface treatments have only been used for four or five years, and the only drawback to such a form of maintenance seems to be that in time such a thick protective coat is built up on the road that it does not hold to the stone and will probably have to be removed and a new layer of protective coats for a series of years be applied.

If the state commission did not believe it advisable to build macadam roads it would not allow them to be built. We believe that for a large majority of even the main traveled roads, the waterbound macadam, considering the first cost and maintenance, is the most economical type of surfacing. I am

Yours very sincerely,

By A. R. HIRST,
State Highway Engineer.

I believe the above letter is to plain that it requires little if any comments, but even if the macadam surfacing is all right and the best you can get for that amount of money, there are other surfacing materials that will be used such as flint gravel, disintegrated granite where such can be found. But after all the foundation is the main item in Wood County and I hope that no town will ask me to put crushed stone or any other surfacing material on a newly graded road in clay soils, when the different towns vote money for state aid work this spring, but that they will raise money for grading first.

Yours truly,

L. AMUNDSON,
County Highway Commissioner.

DEATH OF AN OLD SETTLER.

Ludwig Henke, one of the pioneer settlers of Kellner died at his home Saturday after a week's illness of pneumonia. Deceased was 67 years of age, was born in Germany, and had been a resident here for over 40 years during which time he had been engaged in farming. He is survived by a wife and seven grown up children. Deceased was an honest and hardworking man and had the respect of the entire community in which he lived. The funeral was held on Wednesday from the residence, Rev. Krusche of Kellner officiating, and interment was made in the Kellner cemetery.

MARKET REPORT.

Pork dressed	10-10 1/2
Veal	10-12
Hay, Timothy	$10-12
Potatoes	.45
Butter	21-25
Eggs	.17
Hides	10-11
Hens	.13
Dats	.36
Spring Chickens	.14
Rye	.54
Flour	$3.80
Patent Flour	$5.20

BIRTHS.

A son to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sangier, March 13.

A son to Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Dille of Fond du Lac, March 14. Mrs. Dille was formerly Miss Emma Fritz of this city.

—Do not forget the Seven Reel Picture program at Daly's theatre Saturday night.

Bakery Changes.

J. J. Coats of Portage has bought out the bakery now at the Bijou theatre formerly owned by Ed. Sherry, the new proprietor of the place taking charge of the place on Monday morning. Mr. Sherry expects to move to Marshfield to make his home.

Horse Clipping.

I now have my electric clipper in operation and am prepared to clip horses on short notice. Bring in your horse and have a nice job done. E. T. McCarthy.

Sunday Closing in Marshfield.

When a man reaches for his pistol pocket Sunday don't try to defend yourself from a hold-up. Go into the alley with him.—Marshfield Herald.

SPRING OPENING

Johnson & Hill Co.

extend to you a cordial invitation to visit their Spring Opening of authentic styles in Millinery and Ready-to-Wear apparel for Women and Misses on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, March 23-24-25

Artistic Millinery

Coats, Suits, Gowns, Costumes, Blouses and accessories

The display merits your special consideration on account of the exclusiveness of the various lines displayed here.

If the seasons styles are of the slightest interest to you we invite you to be present at this showing of all that is new in the leading fashion centers of the world.

Johnson & Hill Co.

Grand Rapids, Wis.

WANT COLUMN

FOR SALE: 120 tons of clover and timothy, half and half, also 14 tons timothy No. 1 and three tons No. 2. O. J. Omsit, D. 2 Junction City, Wis.

FOR SALE: One combination double or single seated 8x10x12 HUGO, original cost $200. One 12x12x12 HUGO, original cost $225. Both as good as new so far as wear is concerned. Will sell at a sacrifice. One 12x12x12 HUGO, original cost $122, nickel trimmed, black, not over 7000 miles. In first class condition. Good reason for selling. Will trade for land and will accept of D. D. Conway, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

FOR SALE: 120 acres, 3 1/2 miles from city on Plover road. Terms to suit. D. B. Plesco.

FOR SALE: House and lot. Inquire at 109 14th Avenue.

FOR SALE: Steam house and lot on Grand Avenue. Inquire at a hardware. Inquire at Tribune office.

FOR SALE: 15 acres near river in city limits. Inquire at D. B. Plesco.

FOR SALE: Choice 80 acres of wild land nearly all high land, good soil, some good trees and a fine view. Will sell for $1000. Located west of Albion. Price $800 if taken at once. Here is a chance to get a good thing. O. J. Omsit, D. 2 Junction City, Wis.

FOR SALE: Two hundred bushels of White Mountain seed oats and some Yellow oats. Mr. Tom Koch, Grand Rapids, Wis. R. R. Box 60, O. J. Omsit, D. 2 Junction City, Wis.

FOR SALE: Two story house and one lot on Grand Avenue. House is 20x22 with a full basement with cement floor, hardwood finish, and electric lights. Inquire at Tribune office.

FOR SALE: Owing to the recent death of my husband I will sell all of my property as I intend to leave the city. I have a fine lot in the city and one-half mile west, also a fine stock of land on the place Point house and one lot on 14th Avenue south and two lots on Grand Ave. Will sell everything very cheap. Mrs. Matilda Schuller, Grand Rapids, Wis. R. R. D. 5, Box 6, R. 2.

HOUSE TO RENT: Inquire of Joe Rick.

FOR SALE: Strictly modern 8-room house fine location, 30-acre south. Price reasonable. One lot on Grand Avenue. Inquire at Tribune office.

FOR SALE: Two houses. One at 109 14th Ave. S. West side, east side house, 740 Plover St. R. A. Nettel, 14th Ave. South.

FOR SALE: One fine colt, coming 4 years in June. (Broke double, weight about 1200. Matilda Schuller, R. D. 5, City.

FOR SALE: A good eighty acre tract of land, nearly all forest, some cleared, only eight miles west from Grand Rapids. Also a fine lot in the city. Also, eighty acres, 4 1/2 miles west of city limits. Forty acres are good open land, the balance is some wood on the other forty, all good soil. Price only $500 for the eighty. O. J. Omsit, D. 2 Junction City, Wis.

LOST: A pocketbook containing $1,500.00 in new one hundred dollar bills, between Casselle and Grand Rapids. Finder will be rewarded by the owner. The book contains the name of H. H. Hand, Pittsfield, Ark.

LOST: A leather bag. Finder will be rewarded by the owner. The bag contains the name of H. H. Hand, Pittsfield, Ark.

The Red Button

BY Will Irwin

AUTHOR OF THE CITY THAT WAS, ETC.

ILLUSTRATED BY Harry R. Grissinger

COPYRIGHT 1912 BOBBS-MERRILL CO.

INDIANS GET LAST CASH ALLOTMENT

RED MEN FILL FEDERAL BUILDING AT LA CROSSE—GET $12.45 EACH.

Seen and Heard in Wisconsin

MANY DIE IN FIRE

FOURTEEN BODIES RECOVERED 28 ARE STILL IN DEBRIS OF ST. LOUIS CLUB.

RESCUERS WORK ALL NIGHT

SYNOPSIS.

Tommy North, returning to his room in Mrs. Moore's boarding house at 220 A. M., discovers the body of a woman lying on the floor. He is startled and calls for help. The woman is dead, and the cause of death is a bullet wound. The police arrive and find the body. The woman is identified as Betsy-Barbara, a girl who had been seen in the neighborhood. The police suspect that the murder was committed by a person who had been seen in the neighborhood. The police are looking for the person who committed the murder.

CHAPTER VI.

"Well, then I suppose there's no use asking," went on Rosalie, "why you do it. It's because there's nothing else to do. Your play is to find something just as absurd and as exciting as the gold, but not quite so foolish."

"Sure!" said Tommy. "The pot of gold at the end of the rainbow, or Captain Kidd's treasure. Anyhow, I'm going away from here."

"Now, Mr. North," said Rosalie, "there's two ways of facing a thing down—stay, an' go. Which is better, I don't know. Which is braver, I do. Here's a room for you. Board here the rest of this week—on a little while you'll be around an' it'll be like that gold at the end of the rainbow, or Captain Kidd's treasure. Anyhow, I'm going away from here."

"Now, Mr. North," said Rosalie, "there's two ways of facing a thing down—stay, an' go. Which is better, I don't know. Which is braver, I do. Here's a room for you. Board here the rest of this week—on a little while you'll be around an' it'll be like that gold at the end of the rainbow, or Captain Kidd's treasure. Anyhow, I'm going away from here."

"Yes, I Guess I'll Stay."

The door opened then. She vanished like a golden fairy caught in a mist of vapor.

A minute later, Tommy North was sitting in the dining room at Rosalie's table, waiting for Constancia to come. He was in a state of embarrassment, not knowing what to do. He was looking at the clock and wondering how long it would take for Constancia to come. He was feeling nervous and unsure of himself.

BLACK ART IN WEST AFRICA

Natives Freely Acknowledge Guilt, Even When They Know It Means Their Death.

Early in 1911 a deputation from one of the larger towns of West Africa brought two prisoners, father and son, before the commissioner at Oba. They were accused of having, in crocodile form, killed two women who had been visiting the town. The women were the daughters of a prominent man in the town, and their deaths had caused a great deal of trouble. The deputation was led by a man who was a friend of the commissioner. He was a man of high standing in the town, and he was a man of high standing in the town. He was a man of high standing in the town, and he was a man of high standing in the town.

tor, which impelled him to reach frantically for the salt, and once she reached to him the question whether one could reach City Hall, Brooklyn, sooner by trolley or by subway, where at he got temporary reputation as a joker by answering "both." He sat dazed through the soup, ecstatic through the roast, and rapt through the desert. Only when Betsy-Barbara Jones and Constancia rose together, did he remember that he had finished long ago.

At the door of the dining room next morning, Rosalie Le Grange met Mr. North.

"Thought my proposition over?" she asked.

"Yes, I guess I'll stay," replied Tommy, shortly.

"Thought you would," replied Rosalie. And as she entered before him, she was smiling into the air. Decidedly, she was enriching her life in these days with vicarious troubles, but also with vicarious joys.

CHAPTER VII.

Another week had passed, and the police still report "no progress" on the Wado-Hanaka murder case, now a back number with the newspapers—a story laid aside. The week has been equally quiet at the select boarding house maintained by Rosalie Le Grange—a quiet overlaid with gloom and yet illuminated with human sympathy and even gaiety.

Out of the shadows twinkle two stars—Betsy-Barbara and Tommy North. Rosalie in jest, and Professor Noll in earnest, call Betsy-Barbara "the little household fairy." Engaged though she is in a tragic guardianship, she is also young and sprightly and a village girl fresh to the wonder of New York. Rosalie is the quiet force, but Betsy-Barbara is the visible focus, which draws them all together. She asks counsel of Miss Harding and Miss Jones on her nutmeg clothes. In her spare moments she sews industriously with Rosalie Le Grange—dropping meantime those confidences which flow at sewing-bees. The orphan of a country clergyman and a schoolmistress, she has at her finger-tips all the arts of play. Whenever the household stays in of nights, she gathers them together over hearts or bridge; when cards grow stale, she is capable of telling a story, or of making a game of the getting a delicious fun out of charades or enigmas.

More and more the boarders take to staying at home. This charming life domestic is a novelty in New York; it seems; they revel in the fact. Mr. Estrilla has developed a way of joining them after his evening visits to his sister; and he brings such a spirit of Latin gaiety that they quit their formal games, and take away to music and conversation when he enters. Rosalie especially delights in him. He has a quick turn of the tongue which matches her own; and they fence with good-natured repartee. Whenever Estrilla enters the room his eyes travel to Betsy-Barbara and they two play in a boy-and-girl spirit very charming and amusing—to every one but Tommy North. All speak well of Estrilla. "I guess he's a regular man all right. It is a wife," says even Tommy.

Miss Estrilla alone never joins the group downstairs. Though her eyes are better, though she can bear some light, she shows a state of debility puzzling to her physician and alarming to her watcher and attendant, Rosalie Le Grange. The doctor advises her to return to a warmer climate before the New York winter sets in—like all transplanted Latin, she is a very shivery person. She answers that she cannot; her brother's business lies in New York, and she would be unhappy away from him.

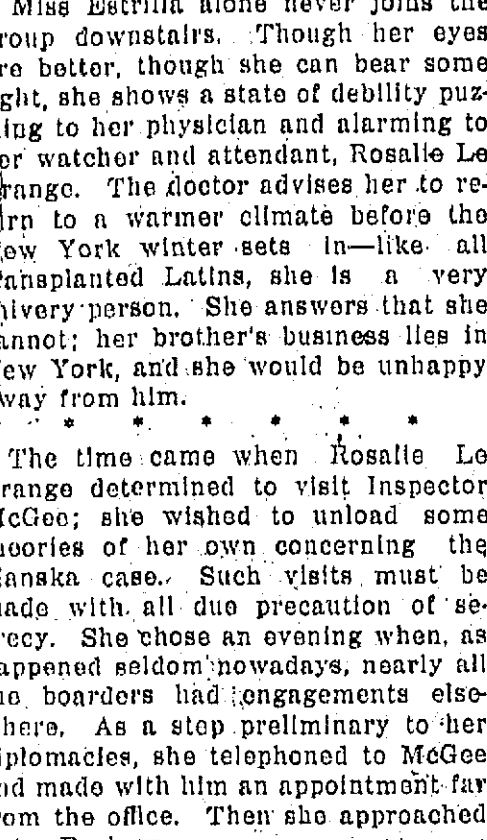

The time came when Rosalie Le Grange determined to visit Inspector McGee; she wished to unload some theories of her own concerning the Hanaka case. Such visits must be made with all due precaution of secrecy. She chose an evening when, as happened seldom nowadays, nearly all the boarders had longed for the night. As a sign of respect to her diplomat, she telephoned to McGee and made with him an appointment far from the office. Then she approached Betsy-Barbara.

"It's asking a lot of you, my dear," she said, "but I've been so busy getting this place shook together that I haven't had time to mind my own affairs. I've a cousin in town an' I jest haven't had time to pay her any attention. Miss Estrilla is kind an' she's waiting an' I hate to leave her alone until her brother comes—anyhow, he misses some evenings. Just sit by her—an' if he shows up you don't have to do even that."

Betsy-Barbara accepted the new responsibility.

"I'd love it," she said almost cheerfully. "Constancia is going to try to get some sleep tonight, and I'll put her to bed right after dinner. And I've been dying to meet Miss Estrilla."

Miss Estrilla's appearance appeared at once to Betsy-Barbara's quick sympathies. Her eyes were shaded; further she wore heavy colored glasses. She was a rather tall and slender woman, Betsy-Barbara decided. There was a kind of exquisite shyness about her which blended perfectly with a punctilious Spanish courtesy. She spoke English without a trace of her brother's amusing roll.

"Yes, I Guess I'll Stay."

Betsy-Barbara, when the ice was broken, chattered girl-fashion on the events of the day in the boarding house, avoiding always the subject of the tragedy which had drawn them together. "I've brought up the evening paper," she said, "wouldn't you like to see me read it to you? There's a splendid elopement in high life."

"I should like it very much," replied Miss Estrilla, after a pause at which Betsy-Barbara wondered.

"Far-seeing maiden!" exclaimed Estrilla with such a delicious Spanish roll on the vowels that Betsy-Barbara laughed a little; and he as though understanding, laughed with her.

She turned the guitar, Betsy-Barbara finding the key for him on the piano. And while he tweaked the strings, he made comment on them, as he crossed the room and tenderly

CHAPTER VIII.

He strummed the shimmering chords as he spoke.

It was many years before Betsy-Barbara, looking back over everything, could analyze the feeling of that moment, could put it in its true relation to herself and her life. At the time, she knew only that she sat there impassive, embarrassed, but inert, that she felt shame yet also a furtive pleasure at the steady look of those caressing eyes. It lasted only a moment.

The outer door slammed violently. Betsy-Barbara started as though caught in something guilty. She hesitated a moment for fear of showing her feelings to Estrilla. Then she walked out into the hall. There was no one in sight. That seemed curious, since the hall stairs were not carpeted, and one could hear footsteps. It was as though some one had opened the front door and then quickly closed it again without entering. When she turned back, puzzled, she felt the necessity for explanation.

"I thought it might be Miss Harding," she said, faintly—"I wanted to see her."

He only smiled the same caressing smile. But the spot was cracked; and Betsy-Barbara herself completed the break. Half an hour later she winged a hint, which he caught well—course, as he seemed to catch every delicate shaft of meaning. He rose and bade her a formal good night. "I hope I may see you again," he said at parting.

Betsy-Barbara went to her own room. She dwelled over her preparations for dressing, making a dozen starts and stops. She was not sleepy.

"Only merry tunes, though," she warned herself as she sat down. She started the gramophone. It began to sing in her present, untrained voice, which wobbled entrancingly whenever she got out of the middle register. But music is the slave of moods. And before she was aware, her voice was following the strings in old and melancholy love songs.

Then Betsy-Barbara dropped her hands from the keys, and the music stopped abruptly. She was just aware that a fine floating tenor had been humming the part from the doorway. Senior Estrilla stood looking down on her.

"My sister has gone to sleep," he said. And then, "That is a Scotch song, is it not? Please go on." Betsy-Barbara smiled, nodded, resumed her keys; and they sang together.

When the song was finished, Estrilla leaned on the piano and looked down at Betsy-Barbara. His mood seemingly had changed; it was his whim to talk.

"They are a little cold on the surface," those "Scotch songs," he said, "though warm beneath like a volcano. Now as you speak Spanish—we can throw our emotions to the surface."

"Don't you think," responded Betsy-Barbara, "that to conceal it—but to show it there—is the more wonderful way after all?"

The blood of the MacGregore in Betsy-Barbara was calling her to the defense of her own.

CHAPTER IX.

It would appear, from bits of the social gossip of her day, that Miss Betsy-Barbara's nearest approach to an occupation was refusing offers of marriage. It is stated in "Intimate Memoirs of Napoleon III." that the name of the "Prince of Adventurers" was connected with hers; that she refused the duke of Wellington, and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American, a London club had struck a responsive chord by observing: "I don't blame Ashmead Bartlett for proposing to the baroness. I've done it myself. I regard it as a duty every Englishman owes to his family."—Youth's Companion.

her which blended perfectly with a punctilious Spanish courtesy. She spoke English without a trace of her brother's amusing roll.

Betsy-Barbara, when the ice was broken, chattered girl-fashion on the events of the day in the boarding house, avoiding always the subject of the tragedy which had drawn them together. "I've brought up the evening paper," she said, "wouldn't you like to see me read it to you? There's a splendid elopement in high life."

"I should like it very much," replied Miss Estrilla, after a pause at which Betsy-Barbara wondered.

"Far-seeing maiden!" exclaimed Estrilla with such a delicious Spanish roll on the vowels that Betsy-Barbara laughed a little; and he as though understanding, laughed with her.

She turned the guitar, Betsy-Barbara finding the key for him on the piano. And while he tweaked the strings, he made comment on them, as he crossed the room and tenderly

He strummed the shimmering chords as he spoke.

He strummed the shimmering chords as he spoke.

It was many years before Betsy-Barbara, looking back over everything, could analyze the feeling of that moment, could put it in its true relation to herself and her life. At the time, she knew only that she sat there impassive, embarrassed, but inert, that she felt shame yet also a furtive pleasure at the steady look of those caressing eyes. It lasted only a moment.

The outer door slammed violently. Betsy-Barbara started as though caught in something guilty. She hesitated a moment for fear of showing her feelings to Estrilla. Then she walked out into the hall. There was no one in sight. That seemed curious, since the hall stairs were not carpeted, and one could hear footsteps. It was as though some one had opened the front door and then quickly closed it again without entering. When she turned back, puzzled, she felt the necessity for explanation.

"I thought it might be Miss Harding," she said, faintly—"I wanted to see her."

He only smiled the same caressing smile. But the spot was cracked; and Betsy-Barbara herself completed the break. Half an hour later she winged a hint, which he caught well—course, as he seemed to catch every delicate shaft of meaning. He rose and bade her a formal good night. "I hope I may see you again," he said at parting.

Betsy-Barbara went to her own room. She dwelled over her preparations for dressing, making a dozen starts and stops. She was not sleepy.

"Only merry tunes, though," she warned herself as she sat down. She started the gramophone. It began to sing in her present, untrained voice, which wobbled entrancingly whenever she got out of the middle register. But music is the slave of moods. And before she was aware, her voice was following the strings in old and melancholy love songs.

Then Betsy-Barbara dropped her hands from the keys, and the music stopped abruptly. She was just aware that a fine floating tenor had been humming the part from the doorway. Senior Estrilla stood looking down on her.

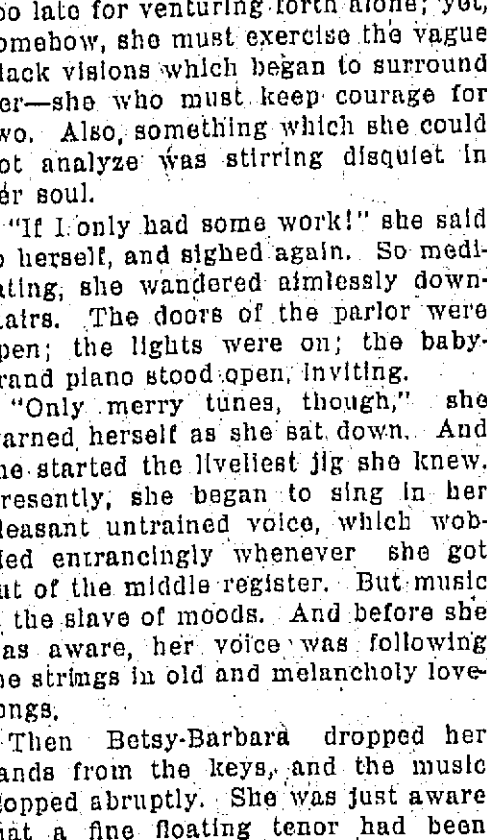

"My sister has gone to sleep," he said. And then, "That is a Scotch song, is it not? Please go on." Betsy-Barbara smiled, nodded, resumed her keys; and they sang together.

When the song was finished, Estrilla leaned on the piano and looked down at Betsy-Barbara. His mood seemingly had changed; it was his whim to talk.

"They are a little cold on the surface," those "Scotch songs," he said, "though warm beneath like a volcano. Now as you speak Spanish—we can throw our emotions to the surface."

"Don't you think," responded Betsy-Barbara, "that to conceal it—but to show it there—is the more wonderful way after all?"

The blood of the MacGregore in Betsy-Barbara was calling her to the defense of her own.

"Yes, I Guess I'll Stay."

the door opened then. She vanished like a golden fairy caught in a mist of vapor.

A minute later, Tommy North was sitting in the dining room at Rosalie's table, waiting for Constancia to come. He was in a state of embarrassment, not knowing what to do. He was looking at the clock and wondering how long it would take for Constancia to come. He was feeling nervous and unsure of himself.

CHAPTER X.

It was many years before Betsy-Barbara, looking back over everything, could analyze the feeling of that moment, could put it in its true relation to herself and her life. At the time, she knew only that she sat there impassive, embarrassed, but inert, that she felt shame yet also a furtive pleasure at the steady look of those caressing eyes. It lasted only a moment.

The outer door slammed violently. Betsy-Barbara started as though caught in something guilty. She hesitated a moment for fear of showing her feelings to Estrilla. Then she walked out into the hall. There was no one in sight. That seemed curious, since the hall stairs were not carpeted, and one could hear footsteps. It was as though some one had opened the front door and then quickly closed it again without entering. When she turned back, puzzled, she felt the necessity for explanation.

"I thought it might be Miss Harding," she said, faintly—"I wanted to see her."

He only smiled the same caressing smile. But the spot was cracked; and Betsy-Barbara herself completed the break. Half an hour later she winged a hint, which he caught well—course, as he seemed to catch every delicate shaft of meaning. He rose and bade her a formal good night. "I hope I may see you again," he said at parting.

Betsy-Barbara went to her own room. She dwelled over her preparations for dressing, making a dozen starts and stops. She was not sleepy.

"Only merry tunes, though," she warned herself as she sat down. She started the gramophone. It began to sing in her present, untrained voice, which wobbled entrancingly whenever she got out of the middle register. But music is the slave of moods. And before she was aware, her voice was following the strings in old and melancholy love songs.

Then Betsy-Barbara dropped her hands from the keys, and the music stopped abruptly. She was just aware that a fine floating tenor had been humming the part from the doorway. Senior Estrilla stood looking down on her.

"My sister has gone to sleep," he said. And then, "That is a Scotch song, is it not? Please go on." Betsy-Barbara smiled, nodded, resumed her keys; and they sang together.

When the song was finished, Estrilla leaned on the piano and looked down at Betsy-Barbara. His mood seemingly had changed; it was his whim to talk.

"They are a little cold on the surface," those "Scotch songs," he said, "though warm beneath like a volcano. Now as you speak Spanish—we can throw our emotions to the surface."

"Don't you think," responded Betsy-Barbara, "that to conceal it—but to show it there—is the more wonderful way after all?"

The blood of the MacGregore in Betsy-Barbara was calling her to the defense of her own.

CHAPTER XI.

It was many years before Betsy-Barbara, looking back over everything, could analyze the feeling of that moment, could put it in its true relation to herself and her life. At the time, she knew only that she sat there impassive, embarrassed, but inert, that she felt shame yet also a furtive pleasure at the steady look of those caressing eyes. It lasted only a moment.

The outer door slammed violently. Betsy-Barbara started as though caught in something guilty. She hesitated a moment for fear of showing her feelings to Estrilla. Then she walked out into the hall. There was no one in sight. That seemed curious, since the hall stairs were not carpeted, and one could hear footsteps. It was as though some one had opened the front door and then quickly closed it again without entering. When she turned back, puzzled, she felt the necessity for explanation.

"I thought it might be Miss Harding," she said, faintly—"I wanted to see her."

He only smiled the same caressing smile. But the spot was cracked; and Betsy-Barbara herself completed the break. Half an hour later she winged a hint, which he caught well—course, as he seemed to catch every delicate shaft of meaning. He rose and bade her a formal good night. "I hope I may see you again," he said at parting.

Betsy-Barbara went to her own room. She dwelled over her preparations for dressing, making a dozen starts and stops. She was not sleepy.

"Only merry tunes, though," she warned herself as she sat down. She started the gramophone. It began to sing in her present, untrained voice, which wobbled entrancingly whenever she got out of the middle register. But music is the slave of moods. And before she was aware, her voice was following the strings in old and melancholy love songs.

Then Betsy-Barbara dropped her hands from the keys, and the music stopped abruptly. She was just aware that a fine floating tenor had been humming the part from the doorway. Senior Estrilla stood looking down on her.

"My sister has gone to sleep," he said. And then, "That is a Scotch song, is it not? Please go on." Betsy-Barbara smiled, nodded, resumed her keys; and they sang together.

When the song was finished, Estrilla leaned on the piano and looked down at Betsy-Barbara. His mood seemingly had changed; it was his whim to talk.

"They are a little cold on the surface," those "Scotch songs," he said, "though warm beneath like a volcano. Now as you speak Spanish—we can throw our emotions to the surface."

"Don't you think," responded Betsy-Barbara, "that to conceal it—but to show it there—is the more wonderful way after all?"

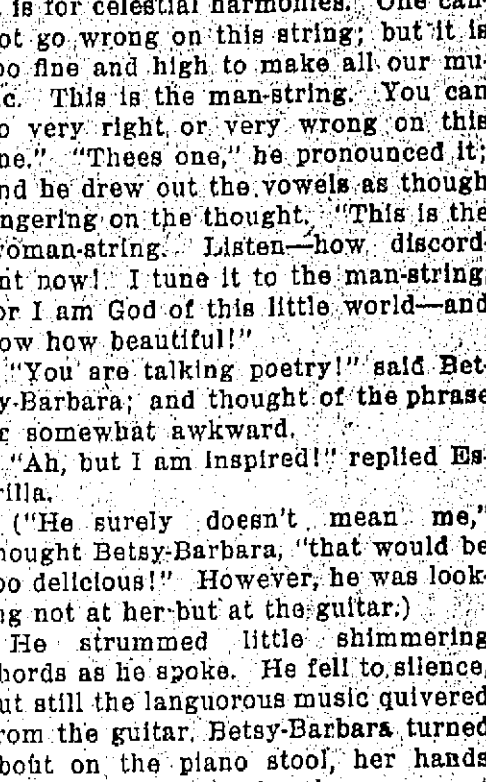

The blood of the MacGregore in Betsy-Barbara was calling her to the defense of her own.

"Do you happen to know any of our Spanish songs?" pursued Estrilla.

"Only Juanita, I think—and La Paloma."

Estrilla looked as though he might have laughed but for Spanish politeness.

"So he turned the guitar, Betsy-Barbara finding the key for him on the piano. And while he tweaked the strings, he made comment on them, as he crossed the room and tenderly

He strummed the shimmering chords as he spoke.

He strummed the shimmering chords as he spoke.

It was many years before Betsy-Barbara, looking back over everything, could analyze the feeling of that moment, could put it in its true relation to herself and her life. At the time, she knew only that she sat there impassive, embarrassed, but inert, that she felt shame yet also a furtive pleasure at the steady look of those caressing eyes. It lasted only a moment.

The outer door slammed violently. Betsy-Barbara started as though caught in something guilty. She hesitated a moment for fear of showing her feelings to Estrilla. Then she walked out into the hall. There was no one in sight. That seemed curious, since the hall stairs were not carpeted, and one could hear footsteps. It was as though some one had opened the front door and then quickly closed it again without entering. When she turned back, puzzled, she felt the necessity for explanation.

"I thought it might be Miss Harding," she said, faintly—"I wanted to see her."

He only smiled the same caressing smile. But the spot was cracked; and Betsy-Barbara herself completed the break. Half an hour later she winged a hint, which he caught well—course, as he seemed to catch every delicate shaft of meaning. He rose and bade her a formal good night. "I hope I may see you again," he said at parting.

Betsy-Barbara went to her own room. She dwelled over her preparations for dressing, making a dozen starts and stops. She was not sleepy.

"Only merry tunes, though," she warned herself as she sat down. She started the gramophone. It began to sing in her present, untrained voice, which wobbled entrancingly whenever she got out of the middle register. But music is the slave of moods. And before she was aware, her voice was following the strings in old and melancholy love songs.

Then Betsy-Barbara dropped her hands from the keys, and the music stopped abruptly. She was just aware that a fine floating tenor had been humming the part from the doorway. Senior Estrilla stood looking down on her.

"My sister has gone to sleep," he said. And then, "That is a Scotch song, is it not? Please go on." Betsy-Barbara smiled, nodded, resumed her keys; and they sang together.

When the song was finished, Estrilla leaned on the piano and looked down at Betsy-Barbara. His mood seemingly had changed; it was his whim to talk.

"They are a little cold on the surface," those "Scotch songs," he said, "though warm beneath like a volcano. Now as you speak Spanish—we can throw our emotions to the surface."

"Don't you think," responded Betsy-Barbara, "that to conceal it—but to show it there—is the more wonderful way after all?"

The blood of the MacGregore in Betsy-Barbara was calling her to the defense of her own.

"Yes, I Guess I'll Stay."

the door opened then. She vanished like a golden fairy caught in a mist of vapor.

A minute later, Tommy North was sitting in the dining room at Rosalie's table, waiting for Constancia to come. He was in a state of embarrassment, not knowing what to do. He was looking at the clock and wondering how long it would take for Constancia to come. He was feeling nervous and unsure of himself.

CHAPTER XII.

It was many years before Betsy-Barbara, looking back over everything, could analyze the feeling of that moment, could put it in its true relation to herself and her life. At the time, she knew only that she sat there impassive, embarrassed, but inert, that she felt shame yet also a furtive pleasure at the steady look of those caressing eyes. It lasted only a moment.

The outer door slammed violently. Betsy-Barbara started as though caught in something guilty. She hesitated a moment for fear of showing her feelings to Estrilla. Then she walked out into the hall. There was no one in sight. That seemed curious, since the hall stairs were not carpeted, and one could hear footsteps. It was as though some one had opened the front door and then quickly closed it again without entering. When she turned back, puzzled, she felt the necessity for explanation.

"I thought it might be Miss Harding," she said, faintly—"I wanted to see her."

He only smiled the same caressing smile. But the spot was cracked; and Betsy-Barbara herself completed the break. Half an hour later she winged a hint, which he caught well—course, as he seemed to catch every delicate shaft of meaning. He rose and bade her a formal good night. "I hope I may see you again," he said at parting.

Betsy-Barbara went to her own room. She dwelled over her preparations for dressing, making a dozen starts and stops. She was not sleepy.

"Only merry tunes, though," she warned herself as she sat down. She started the gramophone. It began to sing in her present, untrained voice, which wobbled entrancingly whenever she got out of the middle register. But music is the slave of moods. And before she was aware, her voice was following the strings in old and melancholy love songs.

Then Betsy-Barbara dropped her hands from the keys, and the music stopped abruptly. She was just aware that a fine floating tenor had been humming the part from the doorway. Senior Estrilla stood looking down on her.

"My sister has gone to sleep," he said. And then, "That is a Scotch song, is it not? Please go on." Betsy-Barbara smiled, nodded, resumed her keys; and they sang together.

When the song was finished, Estrilla leaned on the piano and looked down at Betsy-Barbara. His mood seemingly had changed; it was his whim to talk.

"They are a little cold on the surface," those "Scotch songs," he said, "though warm beneath like a volcano. Now as you speak Spanish—we can throw our emotions to the surface."

"Don't you think," responded Betsy-Barbara, "that to conceal it—but to show it there—is the more wonderful way after all?"

The blood of the MacGregore in Betsy-Barbara was calling her to the defense of her own.

CHAPTER XIII.

It was many years before Betsy-Barbara, looking back over everything, could analyze the feeling of that moment, could put it in its true relation to herself and her life. At the time, she knew only that she sat there impassive, embarrassed, but inert, that she felt shame yet also a furtive pleasure at the steady look of those caressing eyes. It lasted only a moment.

The outer door slammed violently. Betsy-Barbara started as though caught in something guilty. She hesitated a moment for fear of showing her feelings to Estrilla. Then she walked out into the hall. There was no one in sight. That seemed curious, since the hall stairs were not carpeted, and one could hear footsteps. It was as though some one had opened the front door and then quickly closed it again without entering. When she turned back, puzzled, she felt the necessity for explanation.

"I thought it might be Miss Harding," she said, faintly—"I wanted to see her."

He only smiled the same caressing smile. But the spot was cracked; and Betsy-Barbara herself completed the break. Half an hour later she winged a hint, which he caught well—course, as he seemed to catch every delicate shaft of meaning. He rose and bade her a formal good night. "I hope I may see you again," he said at parting.

Betsy-Barbara went to her own room. She dwelled over her preparations for dressing, making a dozen starts and stops. She was not sleepy.

"Only merry tunes, though," she warned herself as she sat down. She started the gramophone. It began to sing in her present, untrained voice, which wobbled entrancingly whenever she got out of the middle register. But music is the slave of moods. And before she was aware, her voice was following the strings in old and melancholy love songs.

Then Betsy-Barbara dropped her hands from the keys, and the music stopped abruptly. She was just aware that a fine floating tenor had been humming the part from the doorway. Senior Estrilla stood looking down on her.

"My sister has gone to sleep," he said. And then, "That is a Scotch song, is it not? Please go on." Betsy-Barbara smiled, nodded, resumed her keys; and they sang together.

When the song was finished, Estrilla leaned on the piano and looked down at Betsy-Barbara. His mood seemingly had changed; it was his whim to talk.

"They are a little cold on the surface," those "Scotch songs," he said, "though warm beneath like a volcano. Now as you speak Spanish—we can throw our emotions to the surface."

"Don't you think," responded Betsy-Barbara, "that to conceal it—but to show it there—is the more wonderful way after all?"

The blood of the MacGregore in Betsy-Barbara was calling her to the defense of her own.

a hundred currents of thought were crossing and recrossing in her mind. So at last she threw a kimono over her evening gown and sat down at the window, maiden-fashion, and thought.

To make no further mystery, the person who opened the front door and disturbed the tea-table between Estrilla and Betsy-Barbara was only Tommy North. He had been searching strenuously for a job. No mystery about the either. The reason was Betsy-Barbara. The night's quest had failed. The fluid mercury of his disposition had fallen almost to absolute zero. In this mood, he unlocked the front door. The parlor was open; he heard the soft thrum of a guitar. Hungry for companionship, he crossed the thick hall carpet to the parlor door. He looked in and beheld Betsy-Barbara sitting with flushed cheeks and folded hands. It was the attitude of a woman who yielded, strumming softly on the guitar, and looking a million languor. With a movement that was an explosion, Tommy rushed out, slammed the front door behind him.

His feet, rather than his will, carried him away. There was a saloon at the corner. As by instinct, Tommy rushed into it and ordered a glass of whiskey—his first since the night of the Hanaka murder. In a perfect ignorance for which he fulfilled the tragic purpose of his life, he was a half after, Tommy North, uttering over and over to himself, "New life, in new clime—wonderful plan of genius"—was wearing toward the select boarding house of Madame Rosalie Le Grange. Laboriously he unlocked the door; painfully, and with occasional mutterings about a blasted life, he reached the first landing. And on that landing, a door opened. Betsy-Barbara stood looking at him.

Yet curiously, as the gaslight caught her full, it was not upon Betsy-Barbara's looked wide-open eyes that he fixed his gaze. He looked at her feet. Betsy-Barbara was wearing high-heeled velvet shoes with paste buckles. In the full light, they sparkled like real diamonds. Betsy-Barbara stepped back with woman's instinctive fear of a drunken man. So one of those slippery moves. Tommy, his eyes still toward the ground, clutched at it. The motion almost tumbled him over—did make him reel against the door-post.

"Get it, get it," he said—"then discover murder."

"Mr. North—Mr. North!" exclaimed Betsy-Barbara and stood helpless, staring at this weird performance.

"Drunk!" he said. "Final disgrace—everything gone now!"

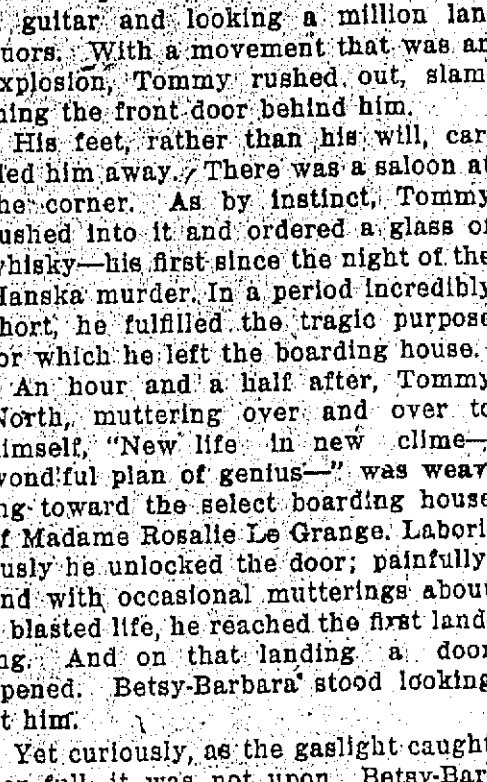

"Mr. North," said Betsy-Barbara, gathering her courage, "listen to me. If you wake people up tonight, they'll never forgive you. Now I'm going to lead you to your room."

He waved her away and started to make his own course up the stairs. Betsy-Barbara followed, her hands extended to give help in case of need. At his own landing, Betsy-Barbara, ahead, opened his door, switched on the electric light. Then returning, she pushed him in with a final:

"Good night—and please try to be quiet."

Betsy-Barbara had endured a day filled with as many varied emotions as she generally gives woman to endure. It is specially given woman to endure. She is the best of women, that woman who knows for herself of feeling. She took down her hair, undressed, and cried herself to sleep.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

He strummed the shimmering chords as he spoke.

He strummed the shimmering chords as he spoke.

It was many years before Betsy-Barbara, looking back over everything, could analyze the feeling of that moment, could put it in its true relation to herself and her life. At the time, she knew only that she sat there impassive, embarrassed, but inert, that she felt shame yet also a furtive pleasure at the steady look of those caressing eyes. It lasted only a moment.

The outer door slammed violently. Betsy-Barbara started as though caught in something guilty. She hesitated a moment for fear of showing her feelings to Estrilla. Then she walked out into the hall. There was no one in sight. That seemed curious, since the hall stairs were not carpeted, and one could hear footsteps. It was as though some one had opened the front door and then quickly closed it again without entering. When she turned back, puzzled, she felt the necessity for explanation.

"I thought it might be Miss Harding," she said, faintly—"I wanted to see her."

He only smiled the same caressing smile. But the spot was cracked; and Betsy-Barbara herself completed the break. Half an hour later she winged a hint, which he caught well—course, as he seemed to catch every delicate shaft of meaning. He rose and bade her a formal good night. "I hope I may see you again," he said at parting.

Betsy-Barbara went to her own room. She dwelled over her preparations for dressing, making a dozen starts and stops. She was not sleepy.

"Only merry tunes, though," she warned herself as she sat down. She started the gramophone. It began to sing in her present, untrained voice, which wobbled entrancingly whenever she got out of the middle register. But music is the slave of moods. And before she was aware, her voice was following the strings in old and melancholy love songs.

Then Betsy-Barbara dropped her hands from the keys, and the music stopped abruptly. She was just aware that a fine floating tenor had been humming the part from the doorway. Senior Estrilla stood looking down on her.

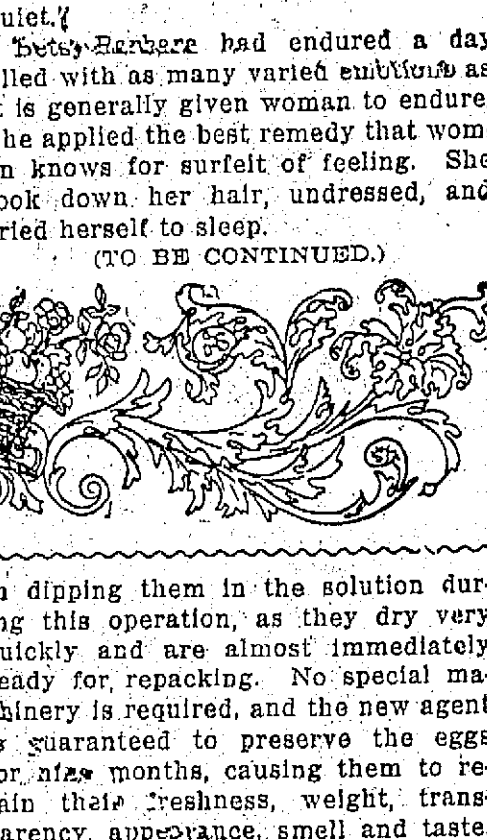

"My sister has gone to sleep," he said. And then, "That is a Scotch song, is it not? Please go on." Betsy-Barbara smiled, nodded, resumed her keys; and they sang together.

When the song was finished, Estrilla leaned on the piano and looked down at Betsy-Barbara. His mood seemingly had changed; it was his whim to talk.

"They are a little cold on the surface," those "Scotch songs," he said, "though warm beneath like a volcano. Now as you speak Spanish—we can throw our emotions to the surface."

"Don't you think," responded Betsy-Barbara, "that to conceal it—but to show it there—is the more wonderful way after all?"

The blood of the MacGregore in Betsy-Barbara was calling her to the defense of her own.

"Yes, I Guess I'll Stay."

the door opened then. She vanished like a golden fairy caught in a mist of vapor.

A minute later, Tommy North was sitting in the dining room at Rosalie's table, waiting for Constancia to come. He was in a state of embarrassment, not knowing what to do. He was looking at the clock and wondering how long it would take for Constancia to come. He was feeling nervous and unsure of himself.

CHAPTER XIV.

It was many years before Betsy-Barbara, looking back over everything, could analyze the feeling of that moment, could put it in its true relation to herself and her life. At the time, she knew only that she sat there impassive, embarrassed, but inert, that she felt shame yet also a furtive pleasure at the steady look of those caressing eyes. It lasted only a moment.

The outer door slammed violently. Betsy-Barbara started as though caught in something guilty. She hesitated a moment for fear of showing her feelings to Estrilla. Then she walked out into the hall. There was no one in sight. That seemed curious, since the hall stairs were not carpeted, and one could hear footsteps. It was as though some one had opened the front door and then quickly closed it again without entering. When she turned back, puzzled, she felt the necessity for explanation.

"I thought it might be Miss Harding," she said, faintly—"I wanted to see her."

He only smiled the same caressing smile. But the spot was cracked; and Betsy-Barbara herself completed the break. Half an hour later she winged a hint, which he caught well—course, as he seemed to catch every delicate shaft of meaning. He rose and bade her a formal good night. "I hope I may see you again," he said at parting.

Betsy-Barbara went to her own room. She dwelled over her preparations for dressing, making a dozen starts and stops. She was not sleepy.

"Only merry tunes, though," she warned herself as she sat down. She started the gramophone. It began to sing in her present, untrained voice, which wobbled entrancingly whenever she got out of the middle register. But music is the slave of moods. And before she was aware, her voice was following the strings in old and melancholy love songs.

Then Betsy-Barbara dropped her hands from the keys, and the music stopped abruptly. She was just aware that a fine floating tenor had been humming the part from the doorway. Senior Estrilla stood looking down on her.

"My sister has gone to sleep," he said. And then, "That is a Scotch song, is it not? Please go on." Betsy-Barbara smiled, nodded, resumed her keys; and they sang together.

When the song was finished, Estrilla leaned on the piano and looked down at Betsy-Barbara. His mood seemingly had changed; it was his whim to talk.

"They are a little cold on the surface," those "Scotch songs," he said, "though warm beneath like a volcano. Now as you speak Spanish—we can throw our emotions to the surface."

"Don't you think," responded Betsy-Barbara, "that to conceal it—but to show it there—is the more wonderful way after all?"

The blood of the MacGregore in Betsy-Barbara was calling her to the defense of her own.

CHAPTER XV.

It was many years before Betsy-Barbara, looking back over everything, could analyze the feeling of that moment, could put it in its true relation to herself and her life. At the time, she knew only that she sat there impassive, embarrassed, but inert, that she felt shame yet also a furtive pleasure at the steady look of those caressing eyes. It lasted only a moment.

The outer door slammed violently. Betsy-Barbara started as though caught in something guilty. She hesitated a moment for fear of showing her feelings to Estrilla. Then she walked out into the hall. There was no one in sight. That seemed curious, since the hall stairs were not carpeted, and one could hear footsteps. It was as though some one had opened the front door and then quickly closed it again without entering. When she turned back, puzzled, she felt the necessity for explanation.

"I thought it might be Miss Harding," she said, faintly—"I wanted to see her

PUBLIC AUCTION!

ROB OGILVIE FARM

One-half mile south of Rudolph Creamery, known as the Mose Sharkey farm.

Tuesday, March 24, 1914

The following articles will be sold:

STOCK

2 Brood Mares, 1 Saddle Pony, 2 Yearling Colts, 15 Milch Cows, 8 fresh, balance coming in soon, 11 yearling calves, 2 Veal Calves, 1 Hog.

FARM MACHINERY

1 Spring Tooth Drag, Harrow, Sulky Cultivator, Sulky Plow, Milk Wagon, Buggy, Cutter, Set Working Harness, and many other small items too numerous to mention.

TERMS:—Under $10 cash, over $10 one year's time at 6 per cent on bankable notes.

Sale starts at 10 a. m.

Free Lunch at Noon.

BARNEY ST. DENIS, Auctioneer.
ROB OGILVIE, Owner. GILBERT AKEY, Clerk.

$3,500

It takes just that amount to buy one of the best little forty acre farms in the town of Rudolph, located five miles from city on main county road. 1 mile to cheese factory and two miles to creamery and Rudolph station. Good house, barn, granary and chicken-coop and woodshed. Soil, good clay loam, 25 acres cleared and part under cultivation. 15 acres woods. Enough timber to last a man a life time. Within three years the state macadam road will run by the door, which alone will be worth many dollars to the value of the farm. Some farm machinery goes with the place. There is not another chance like it in Wood county today to secure as good a farm, location and buildings considered for the money. Owner selling owing to old age. A dandy one-man farm where you can make a good living and be independent. The same amount of money want buy only a fair house and lot in the city. Here you get a home, good barn, fire wood for life-time, and enough of the best clay land to make an independent living.

No trades considered.
Don't wait, see owner at once.

Louis Lyonnais, Grand Rapids, Wis., R. R. 2.

DELIGHTFUL DERMA VIVA, THE IDEAL POWDER

will make the skin as white and beautiful as a babe's. Is absolutely invisible. If your hands, arms or neck are red, brown, dark or streaked, try it once and note the wonderful improvement. In liquid form, flesh and white—50 cents. In powder form, white, flesh, pink or brunette—50 cents. Accept no substitutes. Sold by JOHN E. DALY.

Don't Wait Till the Last Minute

You know right now whether you had ought to fix up things about the place now, or whether everything is in ship shape and you can get through another busy season with things as they are.

We merely wish to remind you that if you are going to make repairs, or do any building this season, we can make you especially attractive figures on what lumber or other building material you will need.

No matter how small your order may be, we will appreciate it and give you the best service, the best prices, and the best lumber.

W. A. Marling Lumber Co.

Tribute to the Horse.

The following is an extract from a speech made by Maj. Oliver S. Johnson, of Tipton, Iowa, at a pure bred horse sale where the horses brought nearly $20,000.

"Men from Many Nations:—There is something about the good horse that is intoxicating, inspiring, firing the ambitions of the better man within us. Men revel in the glories of a steadfast friend. The horse is that friend most noble. He has led the onward march of progress from the Rising Sun to the Golden Gate. His power has built railroads and dug canals. From the Aurora Borealis to the Gulf you find him joining forces with man in the great commercial activities of the world, tilling the farms and teaming the forests, hauling lumber, wheat, coal and cotton. He halts neither for heat or cold, rain or sunshine. He brings the doctor to officiate at our birth, the minister to our wedding, and the casket to our final resting-place. He draws the President to the White House and the prisoner to the pen. In peace and in war he carried Napoleon, Washington, Lincoln and Grant, and for a pleasure jaunt our sweethearts are always safe in his noble care. Visit the French cathedral in New Orleans and your eye beholds the magnificent piece of sculpture work, 'Jackson and his Horse.' Take a trip to Lincoln Park Chicago, and you admire that life-like statue of 'Grant and his Horse.' The dying words of King Richard in the battle of Bosworth were, 'A horse! a horse! My Kingdom for a horse!' Art and Nature vie with each other in doing him honor. He is the Samson and the Hercules combined. His powerful instinct foretold the eruption of Vesuvius and halted him on the brink of the precipice in the inky midnight darkness. He played his part in Custer's Big Horn Massacre and in the Charge of the Light Brigade. He carried his rider down the Valley of the Conestoga, through the city of Johnstown ahead of that awful flood and perished in its raging waters. He followed Moses through Egypt and into the Red Sea. He gave up his home in Bethlehem that Mary the mother of Jesus might rest in his manger."

Poultry Failures.

The great reason why so many fail with poultry is because it costs too much for feed. The eggs sold and the poultry meat disposed to balance the outlay for feed, care, and interest on the investment. Things have changed from what they used to be. Once every farmer kept a few hens. These birds did not cost much; their feed was so inexpensive that account was seldom kept of it. Heavy eggs and every hen sold always represented a gain. It was like finding so much money.

But now we see men specializing in poultry. Everybody who can get a little corner of land anywhere builds a coop and gets a lot of hens. These hens must eat. Feed is high priced. The man sends his money to the feed store in a two-bushel sack, it seems, and his feed comes back in a teacup. He wonders what this means. Can it be he has made a mistake? It looks that way, and a year or two makes it pretty plain that there certainly is something wrong. Then he concludes that all the stories about success in poultry must be fictitious, and he quietly gets out of the business. And yet these men might have done well with poultry by proceeding more carefully.—Farm and Fireside.

Name Your Farm.

Every farmer in Wood county should name his farm.

It lends dignity to the farmers profession and establishes a reputation for each farm, peculiarly its own.

Use stationery with the name of the farm on it.

The business of farming demands well printed stationery as much as any other business. The satisfaction you will get from the use of printed stationery is worth more than the small sum it will cost.

To induce farmers to name their Sentinel will make this Special offer to farmers generally, The Grand Rapids Tribune will make this Special Offer:

100 good quality white envelopes, No. 6 1/2, and 100 good white note heads, 6x9 1/2, to match above, with name of farm, name of proprietor and address printed on, for...$1.75
250 each of the above for...$2.50
500 each of the above for...$3.50

Write copy plain and state if ruled or unruled paper is wanted. Send 6 cents additional for each 100 noteheads and envelopes if job is to be sent by mail.

Send in your orders, or when in town come in and ask us about these prices.

+Nomination Blanks for Town Officers for sale at this office.

DON'T BLAME DESTINY IF YOU'RE UNWELL.

There's a reason. To not enjoy health at its fullest is but to live partly. This is because of the fact that your organs are not receiving their full quota of nerve force and energy from the brain and spinal cord—because it has been partly shut off due to pinched nerves at the spine due to bones being out of place. You know the large muscles on each side of the spine are all that hold each little bone in its proper place. If the muscles are perfectly developed, they are safe. But there are very few backs that are perfectly developed.

Your own reason will tell you that if a wrench does get one bone a little out of place, some part of your body must suffer. Chiropractic is applicable in all conditions. Spinal Analysis Free. If we are right, take adjustments.

F. T. HOFF

Chiropractor

Hours 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. Phone 539.
Over Daly's Drug Store Rooms 8 & 9

THE VALUE OF FIRE DRILLS

Fire-drills are aimed not so much at the fire as at the panic which usually accompanies it. The principal thing is to prevent the panic. Two points that are to be considered are, first—Order; and second—Rapidity. See to it that the fire alarm system is always in perfect working order. See that the exit facilities are sufficient and are always unobstructed. It is usually advisable to have the children march out two by two, and where possible the march should be accompanied by music or singing to divert the minds of the pupils. Teachers should always follow to be certain that no child has been left behind. Some of the older children might be detailed as monitors, with certain fixed duties for the different monitors that are assigned. It is important to teach the pupils the course of fire drills to overcome obstacles, and to be prepared to meet emergencies in the event of an actual fire.

All doors should open outward, and these exit doors should never be locked during school sessions. Fire drills should be to the fire escapes as well as to the exits, and should conclude with a continued march of the children out of and away from the school building. I believe it is especially important to hold occasionally a fire fighting instruction program. There should be short talks by the teachers on fire prevention and the evils of carelessness. It is important that these lessons should be as free as possible from excitement and should be addressed to the common sense of the pupils rather than to their imagination.

I believe that stories of the fire horrors and particular reference to disasters in schools usually do more harm than good, and should be avoided. Fire is particularly fascinating to many people and especially to children. I believe that pyromania is frequently caused by arousing the imagination and excitement of children by stories of great fire disasters and by seeing such calamities illustrated by moving pictures.

The fire drill should be a business-like affair, conducted in a business-like manner, and for the special purpose of getting out of and away from the building as rapidly as possible. Fire drills should be practiced frequently and at irregular and secret times, as these repetitions will familiarize children with their duties and in the event of fire they will not be taken unawares.

Our department has compiled a list of fatalities resulting from fire taken from clippings of local newspapers, furnished the department by a state clipping bureau. For the first six months of the present fiscal year commencing July 1, 1913, our statistical tables show the following deaths from fire during those six months: July, 7; August, 16; September, 5; October, 18; November, 4; December, 8; total, 58. Of the causes assigned the most frequent for the fires resulting in the 58 deaths, children playing with matches was given ten times, carelessness with gasoline nine, and starting or hastening stove fires with kerosene eight. Thus it will be seen that nearly one-half the fires resulting in these deaths had their origin from only three of the most common fire causes. Using the multiple of three, which the United States government employs in such cases, there were also 174 very serious injuries from fires during the same half-year period. On the assumption that the same ratio of deaths and serious injuries from fire will continue for the succeeding six months, this would give 116 fatalities and 384 serious casualties for the whole year.

As this state has most fortunately been spared any great school-house holocausts, such as several other parts of our country have seen even in recent years, we have quoted the above statistics in order to show that the fire fiend is ever lurking near, and that the greatest care and caution should be exercised, especially where, as in the schools, large numbers of human beings are gathered together for so much of the time.

CLEM P. HOST.

State Fire Marshal.

The Diver and His Clothes.

When clothed in the ordinary diver's suit topped with the heavy brass helmet a diver is helpless. The air that is pumped down to him fills not only the helmet, but the entire suit, puffing it out to such an extent that heavy weights are required to keep the man down. The work that he can do is limited. One of the annoyances that he has to endure is the fact that he cannot reach the side of his suit to ease any discomfort. A diver once discovered a June bug in his helmet when he was down under water, and he was obliged to endure all the torture of having the insect crawl over his face without any possible means of reaching it to destroy it or even brush it away. Recently, however, a French inventor devised a diver's outfit which dispenses with everything but an abbreviated form of helmet. Air is pumped to the diver in the usual way, thru a pipe which is attached to his helmet at the back of the neck.

Yes, Indeed, Therepeace is Threepeace.

Since the national health insurance act went into effect in England last summer washing day has threatened to move down the week from Monday to anywhere this side of baking day, which anybody who knows anything knows is Saturday. The reason is that the first employer of the week has to pay the washerwoman's insurance contribution. So if you keep Monday for your wash day you have to pay three-pence extra. A good many employers have already shifted to Tuesday, in the hope that they and more stubborn housekeepers will stick to Monday and pay the three-pence. But if everybody changes to Tuesday there will be nothing for it but for Wednesday and to continue changing until all the possibilities in the case are exhausted. It is said that conventional England contemplates this shifting of wash day from a stony horror, but three-pence is three-pence.—New York Post.

Attention Farmers.

About April 1, a carload of Ground Rock Phosphate will be on track in Grand Rapids, which can be had for $8.50 per ton. Write or see L. E. Peckham, two miles south of city on east side. Route No. 7, 2 t.

PROTECT THE BIRDS.

The Appleton Daily Crescent gives the following account of an interesting lecture on "Wild Animals and Birds," which should be read by all people.

"In the last thirty years ninety per cent. of the normal bird life of this country has been destroyed. Only ten per cent. of our birds are left. Great scientists say that if all insect-eating birds should be exterminated, in three years thereafter the continent would be uninhabitable. That is the problem with which we are face to face, said Col. G. O. Shields in his illustrated lecture on 'Wild Animals and Birds.'"

Col. Shields speaks with authority. In his younger, unregenerate days he was a hunter, until he came to realize the economic value of birds and the appalling danger of their extinction. He has devoted forty years in the interest of the game birds and animals of this country. He is the head of the League of American Sportsmen with 12,000 members and founded the magazine "Recreation," of which he was the editor for fifteen years.

The lecturer said that there are 10,000,000 guns in use every year, millions of them in the hands of men and boys, who violate all game laws. He declared that the people of the United States, primarily the farmers and fruit growers, lose millions of dollars annually from insect pests which could be controlled by the birds if their numbers had not been ruthlessly decimated. "The balance of nature has been destroyed," said Col. Shields, "and we must pay the penalty."

Innocent foreigners who kill song birds and insect-eating birds without compunction; the slaughter of these birds during the winter by both the rifle and the gentleman-sportsman of the south and the northerner who shoot every song bird or such as destroy insects were scored by the speaker as the formidable factors in the fight for the preservation of bird life because of its value in dollars and value beyond measure to nature lovers.

"I appeal to all of you who may be hunters to 'let up' on the birds," said Col. Shields. "Make the same sacrifice I have made. For at least five years lay aside your gun and give the birds a chance to recuperate, to 'come back.' You will have to do now for five years, or later your children and your children's children for generations will not see a bird. It is either five years or five hundred."

No power on earth, said the speaker, can stay the ravages of the gypsy moth and other moths that destroy trees, excepting the birds. "They must be protected and allowed to take care of the insects."

"Are we going to sit idly by and see this slaughter go on? Ten million men kill the birds of this country belonging to all of us...we others 9,000,000 must pass laws in every state to protect our fast-vanishing wild life. The best thing President Taft did during his administration was to sign the migratory bird law in March 4, 1913," said the convert sportsman.

As an example of the value of certain birds he mentioned the fact that each quail eats 75,000 bugs and worms during a season, besides millions of seeds of noxious weeds, thus helping the farmer in two important ways. He estimated the value of each quail as $15 a pair and its average weight when eaten at four ounces. "That is meat at $6.25 an ounce—who can afford that?" Col. Shields said the camera was 400 per cent. better for hunting than the gun. Most of the slides shown were from negatives of photographs taken in the haunts of wild birds and animals, and such pictures he said were far more valuable for worth trophies than the stuffed or mounted remains of slaughtered animals.

The New Town Election Law.

The spring elections will be held April 7, 1914, so the last day for holding town caucuses under the new town election law will be March 30. Attorney General Owen has made public an opinion on this law that is of interest. It reads in part as follows:

"It was the plain intent of the legislature to eliminate all party contests in town and village elections and substitute therefor a purely nonpartisan election," says Mr. Owen. "The caucus referred to in the law is to be a nonpartisan caucus of all the electors of the town, of whatever political affiliation, and it is the nonpartisan caucus that will be entitled to a place, as caucus nonpartisan, on the official ballot at the election. It follows that there is to be no party designation of candidates on the official ballot."

"The fact that the law does not provide any method of calling the first caucus is evidently due to an oversight on the part of the legislature and creates some uncertainty and confusion as to how the first caucus shall be called. Inasmuch as no method is provided in the law itself for the calling of the first caucus, it is apparent that such first caucus cannot be called under legal authority."

"There also seems to be some uncertainty as to whether both those who are nominated at the caucus and others who are nominated by nomination papers are entitled to positions on the ballot. Upon this subject the law is plain. The names of those who are nominated at the caucus are to be placed on the official ballot."

Mr. Owen suggests that where caucuses have not been held a number of electors should circulate a call for a caucus to be held at a given time. He says that the voters should be well notified of the time of holding the same.

Mr. Owen also says a candidate defeated at the caucus may be nominated by a nomination paper, if he receives the requisite number of signatures.

SUITS AND OVERCOATS MADE TO ORDER.

No More—$10.50—No Less. We are offering the public our 20 years experience in tailors in helping them select their goods for wear or style. Our trade has more than doubled in the last year. That speaks for our quality. Come in and look over our blue serge and then go and compare for same price elsewhere. Peoples' Tailoring Co., west end of bridge.

+Nomination Blanks for Town Officers for sale at this office.

THIS IS SOME FISH STORY

Editor Journal:—Much has been written of late in the newspapers about the mammoth deep sea fish caught near Knights Key and landed at Miami, Florida.

We had the pleasure of examining the specimen, and I hope a description of it will be of interest to the readers of the Journal. The monster has a length of 45 feet, a circumference of 22 feet, 9 inches, a diameter of 8 feet, 3 inches and a weight of fifteen tons. The measurements of the mouth when open were 31 inches by 38 inches wide and 43 inches deep. The tongue was 40 inches long and around the oval opening were several thousand small teeth, all slanting in, so it would be next to impossible for its prey to escape when once within its grasp. The liver of the fish weighed 1,700 pounds.

The size and contents of the stomach would beggar description. Several specimens of deep sea animals unknown to scientists were found among the contents. One specimen in particular that had not been destroyed by the process of digestion proved very interesting. In general appearance it resembled one of these bull-babies that are for sale as a children's toy.

This giant of the deep should not be confused with the whale. The whale is an air breather and lives on the surface of the water. This is a true fish or water breather and has gill openings on each side of its head, four feet long. The home of the fish is in 2,000 to 5,000 feet of water and below the penetration of sunlight. We had the pleasure of making a careful examination of the enucleated eye ball, and found it very small and rudimentary, the same as in animals that live in total darkness. The vertebrae or backbone of the fish were only partly ossified, the remainder being cartilage, which is found in all other animal life, proving according to the process of development it is only a minnow of its species.

This fish for some unknown reason had wandered from its native element and enormous pressure of the deep sea, to the surface, and was sick, the same as a person on a high mountain top when the atmosphere pressure is removed. In this condition it was found by the fishermen, and five harpoons and 151 bullets were fired into its body, and then it towed heavy fishing boats more than a hundred miles, while the fight lasted thirty-nine hours before it was exhausted and landed on the beach.

Scientists have known for years that there is much more animal life in the deep sea than upon the surface of the land and where we can see it.

Very truly and respectfully,
The fisherman.

For she is garbed in the wonderful raiment that is the fashion of the period.

And though she did spend many shekels on her costume the reason is not apparent.

Nay, to mere man it seemeth that she hath been put to very little expense.

For never, since fig leaves were discarded in favor of garments of woven cloth, hath woman appeared so strangely and lightly clad.

The maiden weareth a skirt that flitteth her even as the skin flitteth the apple.

And around its edge is a strip of fur, less than an inch wide, the reason for which no mortal mind knoweth.

And she hath stockings that are thinner, even than the net which in summer is placed about our beds to keep the vibrant-voiced Jersey canaries from stinging us into miserable wakefulness.

And her feet are incased in slippers with heels that are so high that they resemble stilts.

Or they have no heels whatsoever, and if the skirt hath a slit and the slippers are innocent of heels, she slithereth as she goes upon her way.

But, if the skirt hath no slit, and her slippers are high-heeled, she hopeth, yes, even as a sparrow hopeth about the ground.

And her coat, verily, man shivereth as he doeth gaze on it.

For it is thin, yes very thin. It hath snowy lace about the cuffs, and about the collar it hath snowy lace that sticketh up high and beside her neck.

And in front there is a deep cut V which exposeth her throat to the rude winds of winter and beckoneth to the demons of influenza and like harbingers of misery, to gather in another victim.

Upon her cheeks she weareth a blush that she did purchase from a chemist in the market place.

And her lips are so rosy that they would make the traditional cherry seem pale and wan.

And she believeth that the unnaturalness of her coloring escapeth detection.

Yea, for such a confidence is young maidenhood.

Upon her head she weareth that which begetteth description by one who has not acquired a technical knowledge of the art of the milliner.

The part that first attracteth the attention, yea, and holdeth it, too, is a near-hearth, the like of which has never been found on any bird known to ornithologists.

It sticketh upright like unto a fishing pole with a feather duster upon it, or a half-grown date palm that hath been blackened by smoke.

And as the maiden walketh along the street, it bendeth, perilously before the wind.

Strange as her raiment is, the maiden hath the serene air of one who appeareth to say unto herself:

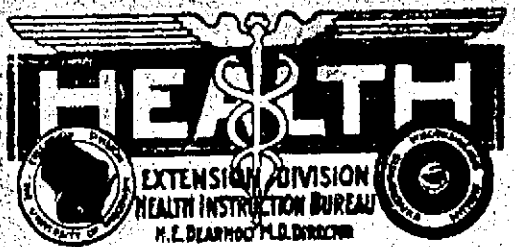

"Verily, I am the observed of all observers; yea, I am the cynosure of all eyes."

But what sayeth man, on whom the maiden believeth she doth make a fine impression?

Behold, man laugheth in the sleeve of his surtout and sayeth, beneath his breath:

"Gee! Don't she look funny!"

—Frank H. Kelley, in Truth.

A TALE OF TWO CONTRACTORS.

Two contractors were engaged in a railroad building job. One contractor required every man going to work for him to remove his clothing and take a bath. A clean suit of overalls was then furnished him until his clothing could be disinfected. The employer did this because he didn't want dirty men working for him. He was determined that there should be no lice in his camp. Each laborer was furnished with a good sized tent with a board floor. The tent was supplied with a spring cot and clean bedding. Tents were screened with mosquito netting. The cooking and dining tents were kept in sanitary and inviting condition. Garbage and manure disposed of so as not to attract flies. Privies were screened to prevent flies carrying infection from typhoid and other intestinal disease carriers. Men who were dirty tramps when they arrived left as clean self-respecting men.

The other contractor did as most contractors do. Whatever his own idea of cleanliness might be, he "wasted no money on frills." The first contractor had no trouble getting men. The best came to him. There was absolutely no sickness. The only doctor's bill in nine months was for a man who had his arm broken by a horse.

The conditions of the two contracts and the work done were practically identical. The first contractor made a handsome profit. The second actually lost money.

If the moral of this tale were applicable only to railroad builders, there would be no point in printing it here. A railroad construction camp is a small community. The contractor is the ruling power. In the civil community the voters are the supreme authority. As such they can determine what the living and working conditions of their community shall be.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Misplaced Fat.

Question: How can I reduce large, flabby abdomen? N. M. H.

Answer: Eat less, particularly of starchy food and sugars. Try the following exercises faithfully:

1. Lie on your back on table or firm bed, hips at edge and legs hanging over, heels resting on floor. Slowly raise legs until toes point at ceiling. Lower legs as slowly as possible. Keep knees straight. Repeat as strength permits.

2. Stand perfectly erect, head level, all muscles tense. Expand chest, draw in abdomen as far as possible. Maintain position, breathing naturally.

3. Stand and walk with chest thrown far out and abdomen drawn far in. Repeat all exercises as frequently as strength and inclination permit. These are excellent general exercises for anybody to use.

Tuberculosis.

Question: Where can I secure information on consumption? J. E. O.

Answer: Write Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association, Milwaukee, for free packet of literature. See if local library has books on subject.

Cure For Cold Bed.

O. F. B. writes: I've tried sleeping with windows wide open and have been cold in spite of heavy weight of coverings.

Answer: Your bed is undoubtedly wrongly made. Warmth depends more on what's below than on top of sleeper. An extra mattress, preferably felt, canvas, oilcloth, thick paper or woolen blanket as a mattress cover will permit removing all coverings. A cheap, light and warm blanket to be used under or over sleeper can be made by padding comforters with paper instead of cotton.

This is Reassuring.

Give President Wilson and Secretary Bryan credit with Mr. Mann, the Republican leader of the House, for knocking in the head, by a vote of 182 to 6, an amendment to the Immigration Bill which would exclude Asiatics from this country. This was the severest setback the radical, impetuous element in Congress has received in years. The bill to restrict immigration, known as the Burnett bill, has aroused opposition throughout the United States because of its literacy test. We know men of wealth and position who never had the benefit of a common school education and who under the Burnett Bill would not be permitted to land as immigrants on our shores. Offensive as the bill was in this feature it became still more offensive to foreign nations, including Japan, when the Asiatic exclusion amendment was inserted. It was said that members of Congress would climb over each other to vote for the bill because certain labor leaders demanded its passage.

We do not believe that any man or set of men can deliver the labor vote. There is no more independent voter in this country today than the man who works in the shop or in the counting room. An outcry was raised, during President Roosevelt's administration, that unless a bill to exclude Asiatics was passed, the labor vote of California would be lost to the Republican party. But President Roosevelt sent a special message to Congress, urging a fair naturalization law for the Japanese. What happened? He swept the state of California in the struggle as recently as 1912. Politicians who are planning to capture the labor vote will find that labor is as independent of them as capital itself. They will find also that the business men of this country exercise some influence and still indulge in the privilege of voting.—Leslie's.

+Nomination Blanks for Town Officers for sale at this office.

Don't Forget the Number—
ONE—FOUR—SIX
FIRST STREET NORTH

Sam's Shop!

Cabinet and Repair Work,
Picture Framing, Etc.

Agency for the

Waterbury Sanitary Chemical Closet

Grand Rapids, Wisconsin

D. M. HUNTINGTON

AUTO GARAGE

All kinds of repair work done at reasonable prices.

Auto Supplies and Lubricating Oils

Auto Tires and Tubes always in stock.

BIRON.

Lawrence Akey spent Sunday at Rudolph visiting his parents and friends.

Clarence Wellner spent Sunday with his family in Port Edwards.

Jeff and Lawrence Akey took in the show in your city Saturday night. They say it was a good show.

Mrs. Eugene Croft and little son Gordon are here for a week or so at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Akey and family.

Mrs. Mike Wolfe and little daughter of your city were in our berg last week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Biron and other relatives.

Miss Sophie Oleson was on the sick list the past week.

John Slusser resigned his position at the mill and gone to your city to live.

Andrew Carlson was in your city Tuesday on business.

Albert Flick was sick a few days the past week.

John Possley went to Prairie du Chien the past week to be treated for rheumatism.

E. C. Ketchum and help got thru putting up ice for the company the past week.

Stone Marcoux was up here a few times the past week looking after his men working on the boom.

Elmer Babcock and Harry Peterson are taking advantage sailing on the ice while it is clear of snow. It's a fright how anyone will get up such a machine. It runs just as well against the wind as with it.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shaurette are rejoicing over the arrival of a big baby girl the past week.

Mrs. Arnelia Shaurette and son George were in our berg the past week.

Mrs. Frank Stellmacher was in our berg the past week cleaning her house. There is a new family to live in it this summer.

Fred Trudelle and Elmer Oleson were in your city Saturday doing some trading.

MEEHAN.

Otto and Will Huckle will start this week for Sioux City, Iowa, where they will spend the coming summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Schiltz of Rudolph visited friends here Sunday.

Sidney Parks of Stevens Point was calling on friends Sunday. He expects to leave soon for Iowa.

The diphtheria patients have about recovered and we are thankful that it did not get spread thru our neighborhood.

Wild geese and rain are among the signs that Spring is not far away. These signs both were here last Sunday.

Edwin Parks children have been sick the past week, some of them being under the doctors care, being threatened with pneumonia.

We notice that our town caucus has been called rather early this year being called on March 21st, at 2 p. m. in Plover Post Hall. Of course under the new law the candidates must have time to circulate nomination papers and sing their songs.

Stanley Pascevis of Rudolph spent Sunday with friends here. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pascevis have been spending the winter at Mosley Junction, Virginia, and will move there as soon as business matters are arranged.

Potatoes came in rather lively last week so agreeable for handling them and of course that five cent per bushel raise hurried them along some.

Johnnie Francis' old log shanty has been taken down recently. As we pass by the place we cannot help but think of the poor lonely old fellow that spent so many years in the old hut. To those who would like to know we might say that old Uncle Johnnie is still alive and in a hospital at Marshfield.

A bunch of picture agents was at work around here last week delivering pictures and selling frames.

Henry Blood who has lived here a number of years loaded his household goods, machinery and tools in a car Monday and went to City Point to take charge of a stock farm. Henry was always hustling and we are sure it will be a little lonesome over in the corner he vacated.

NEW ROME.

"Hurrah for the Shamrock." The young folks of this locality are expecting to attend a St. Patrick's party at the David Ramsey home at Saratoga.

Mrs. Taylor of Big Bluffs who has spent the winter in Chicago for the benefit of her health has returned home. In company with her grand daughter May Tuttle she called on her friend Mrs. Ben Wheeler Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lueck and daughter Minnie spent Sunday at the William Ingraham home.

There was a dance at the Athletic Hall Saturday night.

Tom Taylor who has been working for H. Lueck a couple of weeks has gone home to make preparations with his nephew Earl Tuttle to leave for Pennsylvania in the near future.

Harvey Evans who recently moved with his family to what is known as the Sunthal place, celebrated his birthday by inviting the neighborhood over for a party last Wednesday night. Refreshments were served and a good time was enjoyed by all that were present.

John Sweet and Pat Peterson have gone into partnership buying stock. Have been very busy this week. They bought 13 head of cattle in Oakridge.

Mr. Ben Wheeler for several years past has been driving the wagon and collecting the cream from the patrons of J. E. Gazeley, of the Nekosia Creamery has quit the position. Ben Burdette of Barnum has taken his place.

Our town treasurer Joe Corbin has ended his collecting and will go to Friendship to settle with the county.

Special Offer to Catholics.

Clip out this advertisement and mail it to the undersigned with 25 cents and they will credit you for ten weeks introductory trial subscription to THE CATHOLIC CITIZEN, the popular, interesting and virile Catholic home paper, published weekly at Milwaukee for over 40 years. It has the best national and international news service of any Catholic paper in the United States, vigorous editorials, and 12 departments of interest to all members of the family. You cannot make better use of 25 cents than to acquaint yourself with this great paper. Take advantage of this special offer today. The Catholic Citizen, Wisconsin Bldg., Milwaukee, Wis.

NEWS ITEMS FROM NEARBY PLACES

Indian Found Froze to Death.—The body of Charley Green, a well known Wabigoon Indian, was found in the woods about six miles north of here last Monday by Jos. Bowen. He was last seen alive last Thursday.

Coroner Otis Loomis and District Attorney Hanson were notified and they went from Mauston and viewed the body. As there seemed to be no question but that he froze to death while drunk, it was deemed unnecessary to hold an inquest. Thus ends the career of a familiar Indian in these parts. Charley was a good-natured Indian but possessed a strong appetite for firewater. He seemed to have no trouble in procuring it, as he was very frequently under its influence. The coroner and district attorney brought the body to Mauston and placed it in charge of undertaker Gray and our city policeman Henry Kulk. It was prepared for burial and placed in a plain black casket. Yesterday at 9:30 a few friends of the deceased, and other citizens, gathered round the casket and listened to religious service given by Rev. F. R. Harding. The body was then taken in charge by Henry Flagg, overseer of the county, and buried in the cemetery at the county farm.—New Lisbon Times.

Plainfield.—Last week Messrs Clarence Wood and Albert Urban moved seven buildings from the various O'Connor farms all onto the main farm, owned by O'Connor Bros., and there they have a small village all their own. The farms have been all turned into one huge farm of 1800 acres, and is one of the largest cultivated farms in central Wisconsin. The buildings were moved distances ranging from 80 rods to a mile.

Placed On Probation.—Stevens Point Journal.—John Schertz, who recently embezzled the sum of $287 from the Jewel Tea company, for whom he was the local agent, was taken before Judge B. B. Park late Saturday afternoon and sentenced to a term of one year in the reformatory at Green Bay. He was, however, placed upon probation upon his promise of good behavior.

Schertz is now in the county jail awaiting the decision of the state board of control, who it is expected will find him employment.

Schertz said that he took the money belonging to the company and disappeared while under the influence of liquor.

Sentenced to Reformatory.—Stevens Point Journal.—L. E. Budle, the young man who recently defrauded several South side people by passing worthless checks, was taken before Judge B. B. Park on Saturday afternoon. Upon his plea of guilty he was sentenced to serve a term of one year in the reformatory at Green Bay. He said before sentence was pronounced that he had sufficient money coming from parties in Minneapolis to repay the amount he had obtained illegally.

Store and Warehouse burned.—MARSHFIELD.—The large general store and warehouse owned by Connor Lumber and Land company at Laona, Portrest county, was destroyed by fire Friday morning with a loss of $50,000. The new hotel recently built by W. D. Connor, close by, was also damaged.

Livestock Dies in Fire.—BARABOO.—Fire on Friday destroyed a barn belonging to Bert Ellis, with five horses, three cows, hay and grain.

REMINGTON.—A basket social will be held at the school house in district No. 2 on March 21st, given by Miss Hanson. All are cordially invited to attend.

R. F. Hass our town chairman was a business visitor at Grand Rapids, Marshfield and Nekosia several days last week.

Miss Kate Daniels of Babcock, Miss Etta Daniels of Cranmoor were home visitors over Sunday.

C. S. Lowe made a business trip to Dexterville on Sunday.

Mrs. Alvin Taylor of Tomah visited the parental home here.

The Catholic ladies of Babcock will hold a fair at Babcock on Election Day on April 7th. Dinner will be served at the old hotel. All are invited to attend.

Services were held by the Lutherans at the school on Saturday, Mar. 14. Miss Etta Daniels and Dan Daniels were confirmed according to the rites of the Lutheran faith.

Chas. Sanger attended the wedding of Miss Erma Adamshack of Nekosia to a young man from Rothschild, Wis. last week.

Mrs. Anna Cummings is still in very poor health and unable to be out as yet.

Miss Meta Hass spent a couple of days last week at her mother's home.

Chas. Miller and Robert Sanger of Grand Rapids were visitors at the Hass home last week.

Miss Lena Rutz who has been living in Manning, Iowa for the past year returned to her home the fore part of last week.

Mrs. A. Hass, Mrs. Colleen Fredrick Hass of Rudolph all attended the funeral of Mr. Conrad Myers of Union Center, Wis. Mr. and Mrs. Myers and family were old residents of this place. They moved to Union Center some years ago. Mr. Myers died in Nebraska, the body being shipped to his home for burial, the cause of his death being pneumonia.

Miss Alice Casey visited her parents on Saturday and Sunday.

There are lots of new settlers coming in here from other states and locating on different farms around.

We are glad and wish them success as it will help to build up our town.

There is much talk of the building of a potato house at Babcock. This would be a great advantage to the farmers and would also induce them to raise more potatoes if they had a market for them at home.

Mrs. Carl Kottke is in very poor health at present.

Worth Knowing.

The gold beaters of Berlin, at the Paris exposition, showed gold leaves so thin that it would require 282,000 to produce the thickness of a single inch, yet each leaf is so perfect and free from holes as to be impenetrable by the strongest electric light; if these leaves were bound in book form it would take 15,000 to fill the space of ten common book leaves.

A Tribute to Ireland. (Contributed.)

There lies upon the other side of the wide Atlantic, a beautiful island famous in story and in song. It has an heroic history, a brave and generous people, its brave and generous people have fought successfully in all battles but its own. In wit and humor it has no equal. While it's happy, its history moves to tears by its sweet but melancholy pathos. Ireland's destiny is in your hands, oh Irishmen of Ireland and America. God has done everything for Ireland, while we, her children have done nothing at all for her.

Princes and politicians fix the limits of continental states, but God has traced Ireland's beautiful outline with his own finger. He has girt her round about with the sea and has stamped her with the national seal of nationality. He has blessed her with a genial climate. He has enriched her with a fertile soil. Surely if God ever loved one country more than any other that country is Ireland. He has given her rivers, water-powers sufficient to work all the factories in the world, and he has indented her coasts with bays and harbors enough to give shelter to all the commercial navies of the world. "He has not done these things unto" every other people.

God has done even more than all this for Ireland. He has set her in the ocean distinct from all the other countries of Europe and has designated her to be, from her position, the connecting link between the two worlds. This clearly is Ireland's destiny—nature rises up and declares it. England herself perceives Ireland's natural superiority. Ah, to none are these things so clear as to the Irishmen of Ireland and America. But before this can be realized Ireland must first be made independent. This is an absolute condition.

Had Deer Out of Season.

Fred King of Pittsville paid a fine of $25 and costs in Justice Brown's court on Friday, the charge against him being that he had the carcass of a deer in his possession out of season. Venison is apt to come high at this time of the year, and it is just as well to confine yourself to something more common if you want to avoid expense.

Ten Days in Jail.

Frank Bourgard was up before Justice Brown on Friday on a charge of using abusive language, the complaining witness being Benny McIntyre. The defendant pleaded guilty to the charge and was sentenced to serve ten days in the county jail.

Will Strove sawed wood for W. Zuelke Saturday.

Honry Gachnang returned last week from Baraboo, where he has spent the winter.

John Gachnang is having a well drilled.

Mrs. Andrews of Marshfield is visiting her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Andrews.

John Dawson of Pittsville attended church here Sunday. Come again John.

A social will be given at the church Friday evening, March 20. A fine supper will be served.

Little Kirkwood Likes is on the sick list.

Mrs. Dyer slipped on a piece of ice and sprained her ankle. Her daughter came home Saturday to care for her mother.

Fred Fox went to Vesper Saturday. The Ladies Aid met with Mrs. Ada Fox Tuesday.

Mrs. Peter Hansen is visiting relatives here.

Have customers for partially improved farms, cut over lands, and small timber tracts. Bargains only, write Hardy & Ryan, Waukesha, Wis.

Business Before Space Filling.

It begins to look to a man up a tree pretty much as though the trouble at Marshfield had simmered down to newspaper talk as a space filler, and this, if effective at all, is doing no perceptible good and causing considerable mischief within the confines of the city.

Blatant newspaper service, especially when continued to the point of exasperation, never did prove of avail. The average reader will honor the newspaper bold enough to take a stand and stick to it, but tires of the policy of riding a free horse to death.

Had the scramble for petty recognition at Marshfield played even, the county, ere this, would have been involved, and, as it is, undue exaggeration has been given the policy maintained in the district attorney's office.

Attorney Briere has made an admirable officer and in numerous instances has saved the county much expense by his forethought and his insight into conditions and affairs. Just now, emerging from a difficult proposition, he rises clear headed, cool and calculating. With reference to the Sunday closing of Marshfield saloons he has saved the county a considerable sum. Marshfield saloons will be closed Sunday without a cent of expense or starting a suit.

If Marshfield will not recognize such generalship, Wood county, on the whole, will, and the information comes as a glad relief that there is one officer of the state who is back-away at the expense account.—Pittsville Record.

PLEASANT HILL.

John Horn, Sr., is on the mend and will soon be able to be out again.

Mrs. Ada Fox is on the sick list. P. H. Likes went to Waukesha Tuesday.

Alf. Aims was a business caller at Grand Rapids, Saturday.

Alvin Whitlock of Grand Rapids was seen on our streets Sunday. He called at the John Bucknell home.

Martin Whitlock was a Grand Rapids caller last week.

Will Strove sawed wood for W. Zuelke Saturday.

Honry Gachnang returned last week from Baraboo, where he has spent the winter.

John Gachnang is having a well drilled.

Mrs. Andrews of Marshfield is visiting her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Andrews.

John Dawson of Pittsville attended church here Sunday. Come again John.

A social will be given at the church Friday evening, March 20. A fine supper will be served.

Little Kirkwood Likes is on the sick list.

Mrs. Dyer slipped on a piece of ice and sprained her ankle. Her daughter came home Saturday to care for her mother.

Fred Fox went to Vesper Saturday. The Ladies Aid met with Mrs. Ada Fox Tuesday.

Mrs. Peter Hansen is visiting relatives here.

Have customers for partially improved farms, cut over lands, and small timber tracts. Bargains only, write Hardy & Ryan, Waukesha, Wis.

NOTICE OF JUDICIAL AND COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION ELECTION.

State of Wisconsin, Department of State.—ss.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that an election, to be held in the several towns, villages and election precincts on the first Tuesday of April, A. D. 1914, being the seventh day of said month, the following officers are to be elected:

A JUSTICE OF THE SUPREME COURT to succeed James C. Korwin, whose term expires the first Monday in January, 1915.

A CIRCUIT JUDGE FOR THE SEVENTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT, comprised of the counties of Portage, Waupaca, Waubesa and Wood, to succeed B. D. Park, whose term expires the first Monday in January, 1915.

Given under my hand and official seal at the City of Madison this 12th day of March, A. D. 1914.

J. S. DONALD, Secretary of State.

A COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION consisting of five members for each county board of education district.

And such other officers as are required by law to be elected at such election.

Given under my hand and official seal at the Court House in the City of Grand Rapids, Wood County, this 12th day of arch, A. D. 1914.

F. H. BURRHART, County Clerk of Wood County.

Card of Thanks.

To those kind neighbors and friends I wish to express my sincere thanks who so thoughtfully extended their assistance and sympathy during the sickness and after the death of my wife. Also for the many beautiful floral offerings. Ed. Brehm.

—Legal blanks for sale at this office.

Death of Mrs. Brehm.

Mrs. Louise Brehm, wife of Edw. Brehm, died at her home on the west side on Wednesday, March 11th, after an illness of about a week death being the result of blood poisoning.

Deceased, whose maiden name was Louise Schultz, was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schultz of the town of Sigel, where she was born and raised. She was married to Mr. Brehm five years ago and besides her husband, leaves three children, the youngest being a baby three weeks old.

The funeral was held on Saturday from the Lutheran church in Sigel, the services being conducted by Rev. Gelsman of that church.

—Once smoked, always liked. Lucky Sam, a cent.

SARATOGA.

(Too Late for Last Week.)

James Johnson departed for Canada Monday after spending the winter with his parents here.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Peterson, March 8, a son.

A number of neighbors and friends surprised Mr. and Mrs. Peter Knuteson, Feb. 26, the occasion being their first wedding anniversary.

Lawrence Nelson, who has been spending two weeks at the home of his Aunt Mrs. M. P. Johnson departed for his home in Eau Claire Monday.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet with Mrs. Axel Peterson on Thursday, afternoon, arch 19.

A large number of friends gave Miss Ella Rasmussen surprise, on Tuesday in honor of her birthday.

Mrs. Bertha Dahl of Kibbourn arrived here Thursday and is visiting with relatives here.

Knute Knuteson has moved his family to the place known as the Hans Peterson place until he gets his new home built.

Geo. Peterson had one of his horses badly caulked Saturday and was obliged to call out the veterinary.

"Truth makes an excellent cornerstone for a newspaper which seeks permanency and popularity. No public man has ever yet been destroyed by the purely malicious lying of a newspaper. No newspaper was ever built up by the gratification of the malice of its editor in the matter of lying. The experience of many editors in the campaign of 1912, who tried to divide the Democratic party by abuse of Joseph E. Davies, John Aylward and other eminent Democrats in charge of Hon. Woodrow Wilson's campaign in Wisconsin, ought to teach them that the invention of falsehoods and lying by invective as a means of working personal injury, produce very poor returns on the capital invested. The methods used in the Presidential campaign by a Tory press to discredit these men, will be used in the coming campaign and with greater effort to divide the Democratic party and the Democratic press of the state.

The Presidential campaign that Joseph E. Davies and John Aylward conducted in Wisconsin was a most memorable one. The way they succeeded in view of the fight made against them is most remarkable. Judge Harmon came into the field early backed with plenty of money and supported by some of the best Democratic politicians in the state. In less than thirty days the Judge ordered his headquarters in the Washington block in Madison closed. Later came Speaker Clark with plenty of money and a following that was not to be despised. They placed a ticket in every congressional district in the state. Then began a battle royal. Joseph E. Davies, John Aylward and a few men hired some rooms and went to work. They had no money. We remember one time they had to meet a postage bill of three thousand dollars and they gave their personal notes to get the money. John Aylward and Joseph E. Davies never saw their places of business from the time the campaign started until closed. And as a reward for that service rendered in the election of the greatest president the country has had in years, John Aylward drew the United States District Attorneyship and Joseph E. Davies was made commissioner of corporations. Is the reward adequate to the service rendered? Could not those young men, with their ability, earn more by staying in their offices than they will receive as government servants? Do you not think that it was their love for the great Democratic leader and the principles that he stands for that encouraged them in carrying on the good work? We can speak freely on these matters because we are not seeking office nor is there any office we want. It is glory enough for us to see a Democrat in the White House at Washington and hear our Republican friends tell us he is the best president in years."—Chippewa Falls Independent.

ADVERTISED MAIL.

List of mail advertised at Grand Rapids, Wis., March 17, 1914.

Ladies: Manie Johnson, Miss Elsie Schmelser.

Gentlemen: Mr. N. F. Albee, Chas. Grimm, Charles Hemmeny, Mr. Arthur Kurth, Vincent Lapinsky.

ROBT. NAS... P.

Lucky Sam is a good cigar with a long filler. It's only a nickel, and has lots of other centers beaten.

After April 1st 1914
The Soo Line Lands You or Your Freight
in the
BUSINESS HEART OF CHICAGO
FREIGHT TERMINAL 22nd STREET AND CANAL
PASSENGER STATION GRAND CENTRAL 5th & HARRISON
Ask The Soo Line Agent

An Anchor To Windward

Many men are like ships, they have anchors which they can throw out during a storm and hold fast. To keep from drifting get an anchor, one which will hold during any kind of a blow or storm.

One really good anchor is the trade with a firm like this. We will be the holding ground and confidence will be your anchor. When we abuse this confidence of yours, quit us; until then anchor here and hold fast.

We are receiving a car of new stuff every day (sometimes more) to supply the demand for "That Good Lumber."

Ben-the-Booster, with
KELLOGG BROS. LUMBER CO.

We Show Here a Few of The Many New Stylecraft Ladies' and Children's Coats and Suits

Assortments Are Larger Than Ever and Prices that will show you a handsome saving. Our $10.00 and $12.50 coats compare favorably with most $15 and $17.50 garments. We also have a large line from $7.50 up to $25.00. The popular materials are Eponges, Ratines, Moire Silk, Bengaline Wool and Silk, Fancy Weaves, Checks, Etc.

Sample Dresses in Wool and Silk, Mixed Crepe, Ratine and Serges. These sample dresses, no two alike were bought at a discount enabling us to sell them at wholesale prices.

New White Confirmation and Graduating Dresses from $2.75 to $12.50.

We are showing new plaid Skirts, Petticoats and Waists. Burson Hose, seconds, while they last a few dozen still in stock to go at 16c per pair.

It means economy for you, to give us a look before buying elsewhere.

W. C. WEISEL

HOTEL MARTIN
Milwaukee's Newest
Ernst Glanbach, Pres. John J. Sweeney, Mgr.

Windsor St., 2 Blocks from C. & N. W. Depot.
Rates $1.00 to $3.00 per day.
50 outside rooms with private bath $1.50
20 outside rooms with private bath $1.25

Loss of Appetite
Loss of appetite is the first sign of disorder and decay. The usual loss of appetite is often caused by functional disturbances in the stomach. The stomach fails to do the work required, the appetite is gone, and the body suffers. Such a stomach needs to be cleaned and sweetened.

Mentol
FOR THE PUBLIC HEALTH
TRADE MARK

TONIC DIGESTIVE
Is made especially to assist the stomach to digest food, and promote a healthy appetite. This remedy is sold on our positive guarantee, and we kindly ask you to give it a trial.

It is a Genuine Tonic
Price $1.00

JOHN E. DALY
Exclusive Mentol Agency.

Kellner Coal Co.
Coal and Wood

Don't Forget US
when you need anything in the line of fuel

Telephone 395

For Anyone can Apply
CAMPBELL'S Varnish Stain
Made in U.S.A.
For Finishing Floors, Furniture and all Interior Woodwork

Stains and varnishes with one sweep of the brush. You can apply it yourself and get fine results. It will beautify your home.

Carpenter-Morton Co., Boston, Mass.

FLY SWATTER FREE
With a purchase of Campbell's Varnish Stain, 25 cent size or larger, from dealer named below, this ad clipped and signed by him, request for one Fly Swatter, free, by mailing direct to the manufacturer.

FOR SALE BY WEST SIDE PAINT STORE

LOCAL ITEMS.

John L. Nash is a candidate for Alderman in the Third ward.

Chief of Police Gibson has been confined to his home with a bad cold.

I. Baruch has been confined to his home for some time past by sickness.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Whitteley of Cranmoor were in the city on Thursday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Springberg of Dubuque were business visitors in the city on Saturday.

M. A. Hannon of Waupaca came over to spend Sunday with his family who are visiting at the Chas. Kellogg home.

Mrs. A. B. Sutor returned on Monday from Green Bay where she has been to attend the funeral of a relative.

Miss Mary McCamley returned on Monday from an extended visit at the Steve Slattery home in Sturgeon Bay.

Simon Worlund, one of the solid farmers of the town of Sigel was a pleasant caller at this office on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Sowatske and Jacob Friday and son Julius visited over Sunday at the August Friday home.

Mayor Jos. Cohen departed Sunday for Chicago and Milwaukee where he will spend several days purchasing goods for his store.

Mrs. J. R. Ragan and Bat O'Day departed on Monday evening for Hot Springs, Ark., where they will spend some time taking treatments.

It. Messmer, the Milwaukee architect who is engaged in drawing the plans for the new Elk home was in the city on Monday conferring with the committee.

Supervisor Jos. Seidl of Pittsville was in the city on Friday on business in connection with the county poor farm. Mr. Seidl is a member of the poor committee.

F. J. Wood came home from Chicago, last week and has since been enjoying pretty good health with every indication of a gradual and complete recovery.

Herman Gunz, one of the solid farmers of the town of Rudolph called at this office on Monday to advance his subscription to The Tribune for another year.

Miss Loretta Nollner, stenographer at the Grand Rapids Milling Co. who has been off duty the past month on account of neuritis is getting along nicely and expects to return to her duties on Monday.

The plant of the Badger Box & Lumber company closed down for a few days while an inventory is being taken, after which there will be a reorganization of the company and the plant will be started up again.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reusch of Allendorf were in the city on Monday visiting with their daughter, Mrs. Fred LaBrot and doing some shopping. Mr. Reusch has been on the sick list the past winter, and this was his first visit to the city since last fall.

Chas. Schmitz, who has had charge of the Johnson & Hill Co. shoe department for the past year resigned his position on Saturday to accept a similar position in the northern part of the state. Mr. Schmitz was a first class man in his line and made many friends while in our city.

Mrs. J. H. Armstrong has returned from Needham where she had been to attend the funeral of Grover C. Armstrong, a popular young man of that city who died at West Salem. Deceased was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Armstrong, pioneer residents of Needham and was 29 years of age.

F. G. Gilkey is a candidate for the office of Supervisor in the Third ward.

T. P. Peerenboom was confined to his bed several days last week with the grip.

Thos. Mullen has been seriously ill the past two weeks with tonsillitis and quinsy.

Leo Barrett has accepted the position as floorwalker in the Johnson & Hill Co. store.

Mrs. E. A. Hannon of Waupaca is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kellogg.

Mrs. J. R. Ragan and Bat O'Day departed on Monday evening for Hot Springs, Ark., where they will spend some time taking treatments.

It. Messmer, the Milwaukee architect who is engaged in drawing the plans for the new Elk home was in the city on Monday conferring with the committee.

Supervisor Jos. Seidl of Pittsville was in the city on Friday on business in connection with the county poor farm. Mr. Seidl is a member of the poor committee.

F. J. Wood came home from Chicago, last week and has since been enjoying pretty good health with every indication of a gradual and complete recovery.

Herman Gunz, one of the solid farmers of the town of Rudolph called at this office on Monday to advance his subscription to The Tribune for another year.

Miss Loretta Nollner, stenographer at the Grand Rapids Milling Co. who has been off duty the past month on account of neuritis is getting along nicely and expects to return to her duties on Monday.

The plant of the Badger Box & Lumber company closed down for a few days while an inventory is being taken, after which there will be a reorganization of the company and the plant will be started up again.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reusch of Allendorf were in the city on Monday visiting with their daughter, Mrs. Fred LaBrot and doing some shopping. Mr. Reusch has been on the sick list the past winter, and this was his first visit to the city since last fall.

Chas. Schmitz, who has had charge of the Johnson & Hill Co. shoe department for the past year resigned his position on Saturday to accept a similar position in the northern part of the state. Mr. Schmitz was a first class man in his line and made many friends while in our city.

Mrs. J. H. Armstrong has returned from Needham where she had been to attend the funeral of Grover C. Armstrong, a popular young man of that city who died at West Salem. Deceased was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Armstrong, pioneer residents of Needham and was 29 years of age.

A traveler who believed himself to be sole survivor of a shipwreck upon a cannibal island, hid for three days in terror of his life. Driven out by hunger he discovered a thin whip of smoke rising from a chimney of bushes inland and crawled carefully to study the type of savages about it. Just as he reached the dump he heard a voice say: "Why in hell did you rummage?" He dropped on his knees and devoutly raised his hands and cried: "Thank God they are Christians."

BRIEF STATE NEWS

Makes Quick Cure.
APPLETON—Although it has been in operation only since the first of the year, one patient has been turned away from the county tuberculosis sanatorium cured.

Berlin Man Kills Self.
BERLIN—Herman Stater 60 years old, a member of the firm of Stater & Kells, manufacturers of leather novelties in this city, committed suicide in his office on Tuesday by taking chloroform.

Search for Father Ends.
LA CROSSE—Miss Nona Butterfield's search for her father is ended. She received a letter from Norwalk, Wis., telling of his whereabouts. Miss Butterfield has not seen her father in seventeen years.

Nose Bleeds Five Days.
LA CROSSE—Suffering with nose-bleed, Mrs. F. J. Brown was brought to the hospital here, where—despite all the efforts of physicians, her nose continued to bleed for five days, when it suddenly stopped.

Can Not Get Requisition.
MADISON—A wife whose husband deserted her in another state and who then comes into this state can not secure a requisition to get her husband into this state that she may prosecute him.

want Eugenic Facts.
MADISON—The Wisconsin eugenics law has secured almost international attention. The secretary of state received a request from Dr. Robert Reid Rentoul, Liverpool, Eng., British authority on eugenics, asking for a statement on its success.

Canning Company Files.
MADISON—The Sugar River Canning company, a $100,000 concern, filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state Wednesday morning. The company is located at Waukesha.

Baby's Burns Are Fatal.
NEENAH—The 3 year old daughter of James Heneberry of this city died from burns received by falling into a pail of boiling water.

Start Work on Hospital.
WAUSAU—Work in the addition of the hospital for the criminal insane at Wausau will be started within a week. The structure will cost $34,000.

Meanest Man Gets Year.
EAU CLAIRE—Hal J. Lant, "the meanest man in Eau Claire," was sentenced to one year at Waupun by Judge Wickham. Lant was charged with striking his wife, who was holding her 3 months old infant in her arms. Mrs. Lant's nose was broken.

New Machine Burns Man.
GREEN BAY—Ernest Nadereson, Depere, was painfully injured while trying out a new moving picture machine at the new Van Sledright opera house in Depere. He was badly burned about the face, and it is feared his eyesight has been impaired.

Trading Stamps Are Banned.
GREEN BAY—At a meeting of the retail grocers and butchers of the city it was decided to put the trading stamp under the ban.

Takes Office in April.
JANESVILLE—J. J. Cunningham, new democratic postmaster for Janesville who succeeds Charles Valentine, takes office on April 1, his appointment having been confirmed by the United States senate.

Loses Legs Under Train.
LA CROSSE—Herman Ahrendt, a fireman on the Milwaukee road, suffered the loss of both his legs when he was thrown under an engine at North McGregor. Ahrendt was on top of the engine taking coal when the train started.

Plan Triple Event.
LA CROSSE—Committees have been appointed by the board of trade for a joint home coming, Fourth of July. The celebration to be held here the first week in July.

Names Richland Center Man.
MADISON—State Dairy and Food Commissioner J. Q. Emery on Thursday appointed Chauncey Beckwith of Richland Center as cheese factory and dairy and food inspector at a salary of $1,200 a year.

Racine Wants Policewomen.
RACINE—Chief of Police H. C. Baker has asked the police commission to appoint a woman officer to look after juvenile offenders.

Teach Safety by Films.
SUPERIOR—"Safety first" will be exemplified by a motion picture under auspices of the state industrial commission and local employers.

A Change.
Before I wed that gal of mine, There used to be a dandy sign Upon the doormat at her home, When thitherward I'd fondly roam, It always stared me in the face Whenever I called at her place. Yes, in those days before we wed The sign upon the doormat read—"WELCOME."

But things are different nowadays, They're different in many ways, We're married and when now I roam With weary legs into my home Another motto greets my eyes, But causes me no great surprise; Another doormat is in place, And this now stares me in the face: "WIPE YOUR FEET."

—There is no better line of Boy's Misses' and Children's shoes than the Bunker Hill line. Reasonable prices. Sold by I. Zimmerman.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENTS.

The following advertisements are paid for at the rate of 5 cents per line by the person whose name follows the advertisement:

Candidate For Justice of Peace.
Due to the fact that many voters have asked me to be a candidate; I have, after due and careful consideration decided to run for the office of Justice of the Peace. I humbly ask for your full support. Edward N. Pomainville, 324 3rd St.

Notice to Voters.
I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Justice of the Peace, subject to the will of the voters of Grand Rapids at the coming spring election.
Burton L. Brown.

For Supervisor.
To the electors of the 3rd ward:
If a majority of you desire that I continue to serve as Supervisor on the County Board for another year, I am willing. If elected, my right will be for economy, lower taxes and progress along conservative lines. Geo. L. Williams.

Notice to Voters.
—I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Supervisor of the Seventh ward City of Grand Rapids. Wm. T. Noyes.

Candidate for Treasurer.
—I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-election to the office of city treasurer. Joe Vneir.

—There is no better line of shoes for good wear than the Bunker Hill line sold by I. Zimmerman, the west side shoe man.

Travel on "A.B.A." Cheques

You can pay your hotel bills with them; buy railway and steamship tickets; use them for purchases. They are the most convenient as well as the safest kind of "travel money"; your counter-signature identifies you.

"A.B.A." Cheques supply the urgent need for an International Currency. They are the only travelers' cheques accepted, under the law, for U. S. Customs duties. Call or write for booklet.

BANK OF GRAND RAPIDS

THE "TRAVELER'S" LINE

All forms of Life and Endowment Policies.

Ordinary Life:—For the Business Man, who has opportunities to use his money to good advantage and desires the greatest amount of Real Protection at the Lowest Possible Cost.

Limited Payment:—In 10, 15 & 20 Payment Life forms, for the one who should pay for his protection for Life during the period of his greatest earning capacity.

Endowment Contracts:—As an incentive to save and a purpose to save for; providing a Sinking Fund for the impairment of Efficiency and combining the protection feature.

Special:—Continuous Installment Income Policies, providing for the payment to the beneficiary of a stated sum each month or each year for at least Twenty Years but to Continue as long as the beneficiary may live.

Accident & Health:—In unrestricted contracts.

Employers' Liability:—Giving unlimited coverage under the Compensation Act.

"See the Traveler's Man."

Lewis Ocain, Dist. Agt.
Room 2, Wood County Natl. Bank Bldg.

They Are Watching

Every young man in this town is being watched by business men. They have good jobs awaiting for the right kind of men.

They may not tell you so, but they are watching to see if you are the man you want. They watch if you pay your bills promptly. If you are careful about meeting your obligations, if you are competent, trustworthy and have a bank account. Why a bank account? Because it shows that you are saving. Nobody wants to give a spend-thrift a position of trust. We invite young men to become depositors.

You can start a savings account here with one dollar or more.

We pay 3 per cent. on Savings. Begin today.

All Business Confidential.

The Citizens National Bank
Capital and Surplus $110,000.00
City and County Depository. "Watch Us Grow"

SELLING OUT!

We have leased our building for a term of five years and must vacate by April 15th. Therefore we are going to have the biggest Closing Out Sale ever held in the city. Commencing

Saturday, March 21st
—AND LASTING—

For Only 15 Days,

we will sell out our entire stock of Men's and Boys' Furnishings and Ladies' and Children's Shoes. The stock is new, having been purchased less than a year ago. Doors will be closed until Saturday, March 21st.

Watch for our handbills and our windows for the remarkable prices we are going to give you. Store will be open every evening during sale.

The white corner across from the Wood County National Bank.

LEADER CLOTHING STORE

Trading Stamps Are Banned.
GREEN BAY—At a meeting of the retail grocers and butchers of the city it was decided to put the trading stamp under the ban.

Takes Office in April.
JANESVILLE—J. J. Cunningham, new democratic postmaster for Janesville who succeeds Charles Valentine, takes office on April 1, his appointment having been confirmed by the United States senate.

Loses Legs Under Train.
LA CROSSE—Herman Ahrendt, a fireman on the Milwaukee road, suffered the loss of both his legs when he was thrown under an engine at North McGregor. Ahrendt was on top of the engine taking coal when the train started.

Plan Triple Event.
LA CROSSE—Committees have been appointed by the board of trade for a joint home coming, Fourth of July. The celebration to be held here the first week in July.

Names Richland Center Man.
MADISON—State Dairy and Food Commissioner J. Q. Emery on Thursday appointed Chauncey Beckwith of Richland Center as cheese factory and dairy and food inspector at a salary of $1,200 a year.

Racine Wants Policewomen.
RACINE—Chief of Police H. C. Baker has asked the police commission to appoint a woman officer to look after juvenile offenders.

Teach Safety by Films.
SUPERIOR—"Safety first" will be exemplified by a motion picture under auspices of the state industrial commission and local employers.

A Change.
Before I wed that gal of mine, There used to be a dandy sign Upon the doormat at her home, When thitherward I'd fondly roam, It always stared me in the face Whenever I called at her place. Yes, in those days before we wed The sign upon the doormat read—"WELCOME."

But things are different nowadays, They're different in many ways, We're married and when now I roam With weary legs into my home Another motto greets my eyes, But causes me no great surprise; Another doormat is in place, And this now stares me in the face: "WIPE YOUR FEET."

—There is no better line of Boy's Misses' and Children's shoes than the Bunker Hill line. Reasonable prices. Sold by I. Zimmerman.

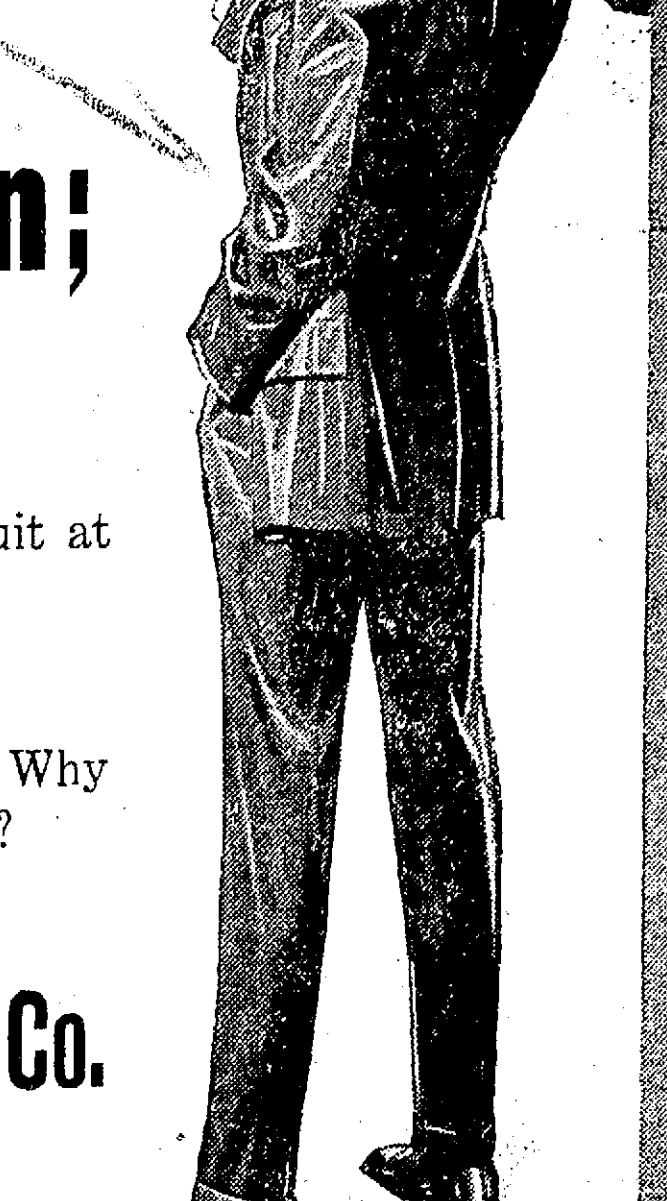

Gentlemen;

We've said it before,
We say it again:

The best BLUE SERGE Suit at $15.00

ever sold in Grand Rapids. Why not come in and try one on?

Abel & Podawiltz Co.
Outfitters for All Mankind

Hoarseness

Have you got hoarseness that continues? Or do you get hoarse once in a while, whenever you get the slightest cold?

Hoarseness means a catarrhal condition of the vocal cords. The vocal cords are very delicate and the larynx and pharynx are very sensitive. Hoarseness should cause serious concern.

Peruna has been found to be an excellent remedy for such cases. We have received testimonials from responsible people who have been relieved of hoarseness by Peruna. Should you want to read a lot of excellent testimonials on all subjects write for the sent free by the Peruna Co., Columbus, Ohio.

"ILLS OF LIFE"

Peruna can also be obtained in tablet form. Ask your druggist, or send to us direct.

Muscular Religion.

Bishop Cross said the other day of a clergyman who advocated a standing army:

"Muscular Christianity is all very well in its way, no doubt, but when overdone it is the ruin of the soul."

A revivalist on a street corner was a good deal annoyed by a group of rough young men. Glaring at these young men, he said:

"Let us now kneel in prayer, and if that young fellow with the bare lip interferes with me again while I'm praying I'll break his jaw. If I do seven years' hard labor for it."—New Orleans States.

Tollie and Ringed.

"How does she know she is a belle?"

"A number of people have told her."

"But no one has yet succeeded in ringing her."

Banish the "Blues!"

If you have that depressed feeling it's more than likely that your blood is out of order—impoverished or poisoned.

There is only one thing that will alter your present condition—that is to restore your stomach to normal health and strength. For a weak or diseased stomach cannot make good blood. If your digestion is bad your food will not make good blood which nourishes body, brain, heart and nerve.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

helps the stomach to do its work naturally and properly. Stimulates the liver. The system is freed from poisons, the blood is purified. Every organ is rejuvenated. Fractious the "Blues," you feel fit and strong, equal to any task or up to any pleasure.

This great remedy has proved its worth year after year for over thirty years. It will prove its worth to you. Sold by medicine dealers in tablet or liquid form or send $5.00 for trial box by mail.

Send 31 one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only on a free copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, clothbound, Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Cost of Living Again.

Prosperous ex-German on visit to the fatherland—Donner und blitzen, what are you given us? Forty pfennig for this sausage! When I went away a few years ago I used to pay only 20 pfennig.

The waiter—They were different sausages.

The ex-G.—Precisely the same.

The waiter—No, you're wrong there. The old ones were bigger.—New York Evening Post.

WATERY BLISTERS ON FACE

Smithville, Ind.—"Six months ago my baby girl, one year old, had a few red pimples come on her face which gradually spread causing her face to become very irritated and a fiery red color. The pimples on the child's face were at first small watery blisters, but a small blotch on the skin. She kept scratching at this until in a few days her whole cheeks were fiery red color and instead of the little blisters the skin was cracked and scaly looking and seemed to itch and burn very much.

"We used a number of remedies which seemed to give relief for a short time then leave her face worse than ever. Finally we got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment. I washed the child's face with very warm water and Cuticura Soap, then applied the Cuticura Ointment very lightly. After doing this about three times a day the itching and burning seemed entirely gone in two days' time. Inside of two weeks the face had returned to its normal color and there has been no return of the trouble." (Signed) Mrs. A. K. Wooden, Nov. 4, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston."—Adv.

No Sympathy.

"Waiter," said the man in the hotel dining room, "there's a fly in this ice cream."

"Serve him right, sir," replied the waiter. "Let him stay there and freeze to death. He was in the soup yesterday."

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Fitch.

In Use For Over 30 Years.

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

The Net Result.

"Jinks says he is a self-made man."

"Then he made a fool job of the work."—Baltimore American.

Constipation Vanishes Forever

Prompt Relief—Permanent Cure

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS never fail. Purely vegetable—act surely but gently on the liver. Stop after dinner dis-ease—cure indigestion, improve the complexion, brighten the eyes. SMALL PILL, SMALL DOSE, SMALL PRICE. Genuine must bear Signature

W. N. U., MILWAUKEE, NO. 11-1914.

Pet's Eye Salve

FOR EYE DISEASES

Saskatchewan Improved Farm Equipment machinery, etc. Shop, Write owner 434 WILSON, TORONTO, CANADA

W. N. U., MILWAUKEE, NO. 11-1914.

PISD'S REMEDY

Best Cough Syrup. Taste Good. Use in time. Sold by Druggists.

FOR COUGHS AND COLDS

W. N. U., MILWAUKEE, NO. 11-1914.

35 Bushels PER ACRE

was the yield of WHEAT on many farms in Western Canada in 1913. Some of the best being reported as being 35 bushels per acre. As high as 100 bushels were reported in some districts for only 10 to 20 bushels for the year.

J. Keys arrived in the Dominion with very little means. He homesteaded, worked hard, and in 1913 he owned 320 acres of land. In 1913 he had a crop of wheat which will realize him about $4,000. His wheat weighed 18 lbs. to the bushel and averaged over 35 bushels to the acre.

Thousands of similar instances might be related of the homesteaders in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

The crop of 1913 was an abundant one everywhere in Western Canada.

Ask for descriptive literature and reduced freight rates. Apply to Superintendent of Immigration, Ottawa, Canada, or

GEO. A. HALL, 123 Second St., Milwaukee, Wis. Canadian Government Agent

W. N. U., MILWAUKEE, NO. 11-1914.

W. N. U., MILWAUKEE, NO. 11-1914.

W. N. U., MILWAUKEE, NO. 11-1914.

IRMINGER IS HEAD OF LAUNDRYMEN

CONVENTION OF THE WISCONSIN ASSOCIATION IS BROUGHT TO A CLOSE.

OTHER OFFICERS ARE NAMED

Green Bay Is Selected for the Next Annual Meeting of the State Body at Final Session in Milwaukee.

Madison.—Edward Irminger of Green Bay was elected president of the Wisconsin Laundrymen's association at its fifth annual meeting in Milwaukee. The city of Green Bay was chosen as the meeting place of the convention in 1915.

Other officers elected are: First vice-president, A. A. Bishop, Racine; second vice-president, George M. Hubinger, Milwaukee; secretary and treasurer, L. G. Köcher, Fond du Lac; executive committee, L. C. Henry, Madison; C. A. Normington, Grand Rapids; H. B. Remar, Kenosha; and H. M. Raymond, Edgerton, master-at-arms.

Farm Contest in Closed.

The first farm contest ever held in the United States and the first of ten to be concluded in Wisconsin was finished at Fond du Lac, with farmers of Fond du Lac and Dodge counties competing.

The awards follow: First, M. L. Welles, Rosendale; second, H. P. West, Ripon; third, T. P. Wisle, Brandon. M. T. Wright, Waupun was placed on the list to compete for state prizes.

State Meeting for Madison.

The joint meeting of the Wisconsin Academy of Sciences, Arts and Letters, the Wisconsin Archeological society, the Wisconsin Audubon society, the Madison Mycological society and the Wisconsin Natural History society will be held in the lecture room of the public museum, on Thursday and Friday, April 9 and 10.

An open meeting will be held at which interesting discussion will be dealt with. A banquet for members will be held on Friday, April 10.

On the arrangements committee are: Charles E. Brown, secretary of the Wisconsin Archeological society, Madison; Dr. Victor Kutchin, Green Lake, secretary of the Wisconsin Audubon society; Charles N. Brown, Madison, secretary Madison Mycological society; W. C. Schier, Milwaukee, secretary Wisconsin Mycological society; John R. Heddle, Milwaukee, secretary Wisconsin Natural History society; Arthur Beatty, Madison, secretary Wisconsin Academy of Science, Arts and Letters.

Conference Before March 20.

Continuing the campaign for the standardization of farm products, and to arrive at an agreement on the policies the Wisconsin delegates will advocate at the second national conference on marketing and farm credits, the state board of public affairs is arranging for a conference to be held before March 20.

Secretary R. A. Campbell has issued invitations to a number of prominent citizens of the state, representing farmers' marketing organizations, state departments of government, University of Wisconsin, and journals that are interested in developing more businesslike methods of handling and distributing Wisconsin farm products.

The national conference that will be discussed at this meeting will be held in Chicago, April 14, 15 and 16. A number of Wisconsin citizens are keenly interested in promoting the university staff and staffs of the state departments have been invited to take part in the deliberations.

Demand for Help Increases.

Employment in Wisconsin during February showed decided improvement over January, according to reports from the Wisconsin public employment offices. Demand for help increased over 50 per cent. In January, for every 100 jobs, there were 212 applicants, while in February there were only 150 applicants for every 100 jobs. Compared with February a year ago, the condition of the labor market is worse. Demand is less by about 25 per cent.

The improvement in February over a month ago was due mainly to the demand for laborers for ice cutting. There were signs for improvement in other lines as well, however. More farm hands were placed in positions, and the metal trades reported a slight increase in the number of men hired.

In the main, the increased demand was for common laborers. During the month of February the public employment offices placed in positions 1,881 men and 463 women, as compared with 722 men and 413 women in January.

Annual Convention of Brewers.

The sixteenth annual convention of the Wisconsin Brewers' association opened in Milwaukee. The following resolutions were heard: "Pending Prohibitory Legislation," by Hugh F. Fox of New York, secretary of the United Brewers' association; "Why Are Branded Beer Bottles for Shipwrecked Breweries Impracticable?" by Carl Kuttneracker of La Crosse; "The Relation of the Brewer to His Customer and Trade," by Otto Mathie of Waupun, and "The Brewer and the Public," by Thomas B. Culver of Ashland.

New State Incorporations.

Articles of incorporation were filed in the office of Secretary of State Donald as follows:

Mosher Realty company, Eau Claire; capital, $50,000; incorporators, G. A. Clark, M. E. Baumbarger, A. H. Shoemaker.

Watertown Creamery company, Watertown; capital, $10,000; incorporators, C. A. Krause, Robert Duthie, F. Blumenstein.

Hale Electric company, Columbus; capital, $30,000; incorporators, J. T. Hale, E. M. Hale, H. S. Halpin.

Niggemeyer Theater company, Milwaukee; capital, $10,000; incorporators, J. A. Niggemeyer, W. O. Notlette, Bernard Niggemeyer.

[David Van Steele Co., Sheboygan; capital, $5,000; incorporators, David Van Steele, W. F. Robbins, Katie Robbins.

Junction City Rural Telephone company, Junction City; capital, $2,000; name given by F. M. Cum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pgs. "There's a Reason."

Three Men Rail Laying company, La Crosse; capital, $25,000; incorporators, P. H. Madden, Frank L. Pierce, R. H. Gordon.

Badgers to Have Irish Library.

An Irish library which will contain a collection of books relating to the history, literature and economics of Ireland will be established in the near future in connection with the State Historical library. A fund of $500 has been subscribed for the purchase of the books. To arouse enthusiasm in the movement a St. Patrick's day celebration will be held at music hall at the university at Madison on the night of March 17.

The idea of establishing the library originated with Dr. Richard T. Ely of the university during his travels in Ireland last year. While in that country he communicated with Rev. P. J. Knox of St. Patrick's church, Madison, and upon his return home took up the matter with Father Knox. Dr. Ely was greatly impressed with Ireland, and he concluded that it would be an excellent thing to establish a library in Wisconsin containing books relating to the history, literature and economics of the Emerald Isle.

Through the efforts of Father Knox the "Ancient Order of Hibernians" of Wisconsin created and provided the fund necessary to obtain the books. The obtaining of the fund was taken up in connection with the special library of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of the literature and economic conditions of Ireland. The establishing of a library was first discussed at a dinner given by Doctor Ely to Sir Horace Plunkett upon the latter's visit to Madison.

In the library it is proposed to hang upon the walls two paintings of Irish scenery, the work of the Irish artist, George W. Russell of Dublin. Arthur L. Peabody, the artistic architect, has prepared an artistic book plan for the library.

The collection of books will be placed in the room adjoining the state historical library, and is to be in charge of the staff at the library.

Doctor Ely will preside at the St. Patrick's day celebration, which will begin at 8 p. m. This will be the first St. Patrick's day celebration held in connection with the university, and a large attendance is predicted.

Scholarships for Mechanics.

The demand for professionally trained mechanics has led the regents of the University of Wisconsin to create 15 industrial scholarships, carrying a special honorarium of $40. The holders of these scholarships are to be organized into a mechanics' institute on the campus of the university from March 9 to April 9, to give intensive practice in special lines of shopwork and drawing, and to give a detailed consideration to organization and teaching problems.

The necessity for such an institute is manifested by the fact that men enrolled in the special industrial and teachers' courses given in Milwaukee and in Madison by the university for mechanics interested in teaching have, in many instances, been urged to accept appointments to teaching positions before completing preparatory work.

Three courses will be offered. Two will be three hour courses, daily. One will be in shopwork, and the other in drawing and free hand perspective. In each emphasis will be placed upon the development of courses of study and the appropriate method of demonstrating them. A one hour course will be given in which the problems of organization and maintenance of industrial school work will be discussed, and in which demonstrations will be outlined.

In connection with this course all members of the institute will observe the continuation schools of Madison and in the high school classes in the department of manual arts at the university. Each member will thereafter spend some time as an assistant instructor in the high school classes of this department.

The men have been selected from nine cities in the state by Prof. F. D. Crawshaw, chairman of the department of manual arts. The men selected represent twelve trades. They were chosen out of a list of 125 men recommended by employers and school administrators in their respective cities because of their ability as mechanics, good character and desire to teach industrial work.

Convicts to Aid in Roadmaking.

Convicts from the state prison at Waupun will be employed in the state in roadmaking work this summer, according to an announcement by the state board of control.

They will be first put to work, it is planned, on the roads near Waupun and about the new tuberculosis camp on Tomahawk lake. They will start work on the buildings for the new women's reformatory at the Cheesedah, just south of Fond du Lac.

Then they will be available for work in other parts of the state.

The honor system will govern the men while they are out. Only men with clean records will be allowed on this work. They will be looked after by an officer of the state prison, who is also fitted for the supervision of the road building. He will have assistants, but there will be no armed guard.

Catholics Oppose Sex Teaching.

The officers of the State Federation of Catholic societies of Wisconsin and upper Michigan, while assembled in Sheboygan, adopted the following resolution: "Resolved, That we positively protest against the teachings of sex eugenics. We are fully aware of the evil brought about by the teaching of eugenics and we appeal to all Catholic societies of the state and all friends of morals that they use all their influence to prohibit the teaching of eugenics and prevent further adoption of similar measures."

New State Patents.

Oscar E. Backus, Milwaukee, buttons; Charles A. Bartlog, Milwaukee, mud guard for cranking devices; John John N. Bashaw, Lake Geneva, headlight for automobiles; Martin F. Behr and Plymouth, elevator; Matthew J. Buckley, Milwaukee, moistening apparatus; John C. Bickhoff, Black Creek, gearing; John G. Benson, Superior, revolving meat block; Walter M. Gleason, Fond du Lac, rail joint; Rudolph B. Hartman, Milwaukee, chimney; David W. Hudson, Green Bay, collapsible paper reel.

Names University Regent.

Governor McGovern appointed Ben F. Faast of Eau Claire a member of the state board of university regents for a term ending the first Monday of February, 1920.

The governor appointed J. D. Mohoney of Viroqua a member of the board, from the state at large, for a term ending the first Monday of February, 1920. He reappointed Dr. Charles Sutherland of Janesville a member of the state board of health for a term ending the first Monday of February, 1921.

WHAT $10 DID FOR THIS WOMAN

The Price She Paid for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Which Brought Good Health.

Danville, Va.—"I have only spent ten dollars on your medicine and I feel so much better than I did when the doctor was treating me. I don't suffer any more about the reefs and rocks along the coast than ever before; there are no more lightouses than ever."

The perfect man was the inspiration of Greek sculptors; and of the philosophical poets of the Anglo-Saxon race for hundreds of years. The psalmist placed him a little below the angels, while Paul waited for the manifestation of the sons of God, that is, god men.

All institutionalism, laws, governments, systems are, but the scaffolding around the rising walls of manhood. They are temporary. The finished product of character is permanent. For this the world waits as the actual fulfillment of the divine dreams of men who have seen the race at its best.

In the making of manhood the element of time must be considered. One may buy a hat, he cannot buy character. He may go to the market place and deal in stocks; but he cannot buy or sell manhood. This is not for sale. It is won by struggle and sacrifice. Somebody said it took 300 years to make a Gladstone. The mushroom that springs up in the night is singular contrast to the giant redwoods of the Sierras, which have stood since the days of Moses. A man cannot drop into a revival meeting and get a character while he waits. He may get a new motive, but what follows comes slowly as the tree grows.

Environment and heredity determine what we are, but they are not masters of destiny. It would be a poor world did man not have something in him stronger than environment or heredity. Starchberries will not grow on the Matthebor, and the polar bear dies in the tropics, but environment is not everything. Adam fell in a garden, not in a slum. Blood may be thicker than water, and there is a reason why the Adams family gave statesmen to the world, the Beechers preachers, and the Kembles tragedians, but man is greater than these environments, and capable of rising above them, hereditarily and genetically. He is neither a plant nor a beast. His glory is his freedom under the divine direction.

A study of the man of today will show that the emphasis should not be placed on what he thinks.

The world is full of great and good thoughts. Every man has, for the most part, a good creed. The ruling thoughts of the world are in harmony with the highest ideals. Most men are better in thought than in conduct, in motive than in character. Thoughts are deeds in the egg. No man can separate what he is from what he thinks, but, even so, there is something more important in this man-making process than right thinking. Religion is more than theology. Life means more than orthodoxy. Neither should the emphasis be placed on feeling. A man's character should not be tested by his emotions. Our emotions are ideal, as a rule. Our tears are purer than our deeds. True religion is more than mysticism. The place of emphasis, then, should be on the will. Nobody knows precisely what the will is. Let us call it backbone, purpose, power. The weak spot in the man of today is not in his head, nor his heart, but his backbone. Here is where he breaks. And there is no telling when the break may come. More wills are broken in the forties, probably, than the twenties. Middle life has its dangers not less than youth. The top of society is as perilous as the bottom. Luxury needs as much attention from the church as poverty. The idle rich young woman is in as great peril as the poorly paid shopgirl.

Anything that weakens the will hinders the progress of mankind. Anything that gives vitality, courage, sanity and strength to the will helps the race. To stand straight in a crooked world is an achievement of the will power in man. We all preach better than we practice. To live the Bible is better than to believe it and not live it. Each man should take himself to task and examine his moral purpose and his capacity to bring this purpose into contact with life. He is the reality of good and great man who does the truth—Exchange.

FOR WHAT PURPOSE SAVED?

Leisurely Englishman at a Loss to Understand Value of Those Precious Four Minutes.

In no other metropolis of the world are similar expenditures contemplated for traffic purposes, and that for very obvious reasons. Not only is the physical conformation of New York without parallel, but nowhere else is there a public so insistent on the subject of "saving time." Minutes spent in transit must be cut down to the irreducible minimum, no matter how prodigally the saved time may be wasted.

In this connection, continues Alan Sullivan in Harper's Magazine, consider an actual occurrence in a Grand Central office. In Twenty-seventh street, was asked to dine. At the nearest subway station they took a local train to the Grand Central, there died across the platform into an express that disgorged them at Seventy-second street, where they entered an other local train that finally deposited them at the door of the Gotham Hotel apartment at Broadway and Seventy-ninth street. Followed them a smoke and a most leisurely dinner. Halfway through the dessert, the Briton looked at his host.

"I've been wondering why we took three trains to get here?"

"Why? We saved four minutes!"

The visitor pondered. "I say," he questioned, thoughtfully, "what are you going to do with them?"

Indefinite Question.

A contributor to Everybody's Magazine tells of two men who were working on the highway in a small town in Maine. As they worked, they discussed various people and affairs of national importance. Finally one of them referred to the secretary of war, and the other asked:

"Joe, who is the present secretary of war?"

"Why I don't remember his name," replied Joe, "but he comes old Uncle David Blake. We'll ask him."

As the old man drove up, the laborers called out: "Uncle David, can you tell us who the secretary of war is?"

Uncle David thought deeply for some moments. "Well, I ought to know, but, bless me, I can't seem to remember. And he drove on, thinking deeply. Soon the two men saw Uncle David coming back, and when he came within hailing distance, he called out loudly:

"Say, you fellows, what war did you mean, anyway?"

Wanted a Change.

Mrs. Simpson-Jones wanted to become a suffragette, but her husband objected.

"But," she pleaded, "if you only knew what a lot one learns at their meetings. All about referendums, and what the will is. Let us call it backbone, purpose, power. The weak spot in the man of today is not in his head, nor his heart, but his backbone. Here is where he breaks. And there is no telling when the break may come. More wills are broken in the forties, probably, than the twenties. Middle life has its dangers not less than youth. The top of society is as perilous as the bottom. Luxury needs as much attention from the church as poverty. The idle rich young woman is in as great peril as the poorly paid shopgirl.

Anything that weakens the will hinders the progress of mankind. Anything that gives vitality, courage, sanity and strength to the will helps the race. To stand straight in a crooked world is an achievement of the will power in man. We all preach better than we practice. To live the Bible is better than to believe it and not live it. Each man should take himself to task and examine his moral purpose and his capacity to bring this purpose into contact with life. He is the reality of good and great man who does the truth—Exchange.

FOR WHAT PURPOSE SAVED?

Leisurely Englishman at a Loss to Understand Value of Those Precious Four Minutes.

In no other metropolis of the world are similar expenditures contemplated for traffic purposes, and that for very obvious reasons. Not only is the physical conformation of New York without parallel, but nowhere else is there a public so insistent on the subject of "saving time." Minutes spent in transit must be cut down to the irreducible minimum, no matter how prodigally the saved time may be wasted.

In this connection, continues Alan Sullivan in Harper's Magazine, consider an actual occurrence in a Grand Central office. In Twenty-seventh street, was asked to dine. At the nearest subway station they took a local train to the Grand Central, there died across the platform into an express that disgorged them at Seventy-second street, where they entered an other local train that finally deposited them at the door of the Gotham Hotel apartment at Broadway and Seventy-ninth street. Followed them a smoke and a most leisurely dinner. Halfway through the dessert, the Briton looked at his host.

"I've been wondering why we took three trains to get here?"

"Why? We saved four minutes!"

The visitor pondered. "I say," he questioned, thoughtfully, "what are you going to do with them?"

Indefinite Question.

A contributor to Everybody's Magazine tells of two men who were working on the highway in a small town in Maine. As they worked, they discussed various people and affairs of national importance. Finally one of them referred to the secretary of war, and the other asked:

"Joe, who is the present secretary of war?"

"Why I don't remember his name," replied Joe, "but he comes old Uncle David Blake. We'll ask him."

As the old man drove up, the laborers called out: "Uncle David, can you tell us who the secretary of war is?"

Uncle David thought deeply for some moments. "Well, I ought to know, but, bless me, I can't seem to remember. And he drove on, thinking deeply. Soon the two men saw Uncle David coming back, and when he came within hailing distance, he called out loudly:

"Say, you fellows, what war did you mean, anyway?"

Wanted a Change.

Mrs. Simpson-Jones wanted to become a suffragette, but her husband objected.

"But," she pleaded, "if you only knew what a lot one learns at their meetings. All about referendums, and what the will is. Let us call it backbone, purpose, power. The weak spot in the man of today is not in his head, nor his heart, but his backbone. Here is where he breaks. And there is no telling when the break may come. More wills are broken in the forties, probably, than the twenties. Middle life has its dangers not less than youth. The top of society is as perilous as the bottom. Luxury needs as much attention from the church as poverty. The idle rich young woman is in as great peril as the poorly paid shopgirl.

Anything that weakens the will hinders the progress of mankind. Anything that gives vitality, courage, sanity and strength to the will helps the race. To stand straight in a crooked world is an achievement of the will power in man. We all preach better than we practice. To live the Bible is better than to believe it and not live it. Each man should take himself to task and examine his moral purpose and his capacity to bring this purpose into contact with life. He is the reality of good and great man who does the truth—Exchange.

FOR WHAT PURPOSE SAVED?

Leisurely Englishman at a Loss to Understand Value of Those Precious Four Minutes.

In no other metropolis of the world are similar expenditures contemplated for traffic purposes, and that for very obvious reasons. Not only is the physical conformation of New York without parallel, but nowhere else is there a public so insistent on the subject of "saving time." Minutes spent in transit must be cut down to the irreducible minimum, no matter how prodigally the saved time may be wasted.

In this connection, continues Alan Sullivan in Harper's Magazine, consider an actual occurrence in a Grand Central office. In Twenty-seventh street, was asked to dine. At the nearest subway station they took a local train to the Grand Central, there died across the platform into an express that disgorged them at Seventy-second street, where they entered an other local train that finally deposited them at the door of the Gotham Hotel apartment at Broadway and Seventy-ninth street. Followed them a smoke and a most leisurely dinner. Halfway through the dessert, the Briton looked at his host.

"I've been wondering why we took three trains to get here?"

"Why? We saved four minutes!"

The visitor pondered. "I say," he questioned, thoughtfully, "what are you going to do with them?"

Indefinite Question.

A contributor to Everybody's Magazine tells of two men who were working on the highway in a small town in Maine. As they worked, they discussed various people and affairs of national importance. Finally one of them referred to the secretary of war, and the other asked:

"Joe, who is the present secretary of war?"

"Why I don't remember his name," replied Joe, "but he comes old Uncle David Blake. We'll ask him."

As the old man drove up, the laborers called out: "Uncle David, can you tell us who the secretary of war is?"

Uncle David thought deeply for some moments. "Well, I ought to know, but, bless me, I can't seem to remember. And he drove on, thinking deeply. Soon the two men saw Uncle David coming back, and when he came within hailing distance, he called out loudly:

"Say, you fellows, what war did you mean, anyway?"

Wanted a Change.

Mrs. Simpson-Jones wanted to become a suffragette, but her husband objected.

"But," she pleaded, "if you only knew what a lot one learns at their meetings. All about referendums, and what the will is. Let us call it backbone, purpose, power. The weak spot in the man of today is not in his head, nor his heart, but his backbone. Here is where he breaks. And there is no telling when the break may come. More wills are broken in the forties, probably, than the twenties. Middle life has its dangers not less than youth. The top of society is as perilous as the bottom. Luxury needs as much attention from the church as poverty. The idle rich young woman is in as great peril as the poorly paid shopgirl.

Anything that weakens the will hinders the progress of mankind. Anything that gives vitality, courage, sanity and strength to the will helps the race. To stand straight in a crooked world is an achievement of the will power in man. We all preach better than we practice. To live the Bible is better than to believe it and not live it. Each man should take himself to task and examine his moral purpose and his capacity to bring this purpose into contact with life. He is the reality of good and great man who does the truth—Exchange.

FOR WHAT PURPOSE SAVED?

Leisurely Englishman at a Loss to Understand Value of Those Precious Four Minutes.

In no other metropolis of the world are similar expenditures contemplated for traffic purposes, and that for very obvious reasons. Not only is the physical conformation of New York without parallel, but nowhere else is there a public so insistent on the subject of "saving time." Minutes spent in transit must be cut down to the irreducible minimum, no matter how prodigally the saved time may be wasted.

In this connection, continues Alan Sullivan in Harper's Magazine,

Have That Next
Hair Cut Done by
An Expert. No
Shaving with Hair
Cut.

STAMM

OUR MISSING WORD CONTEST

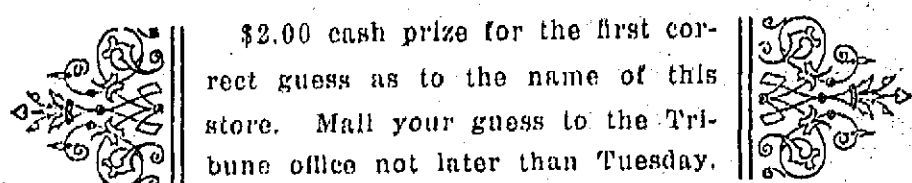

FIND THE MISSING WORDS AND RECEIVE THE PRIZE

Conditions of Contest:

In one or more ads on this page a word has been intentionally left out. Read the ads carefully and see if you can supply all the missing words. Write your answer plainly on a sheet of paper and sign your name and address to same, then put in a plain envelope and bring or send it to The Tribune Office. Only adults can enter their names in this contest. In writing your answer specify ads and the lines in the ads in which the words are missing, giving the correct words. These ads will run once per week for ten weeks in this paper and one dollar will be given for the nearest correct answer in each week's contest. The nearest correct answer each week will be entitled to one dollar. The second answer will be entitled to one year's subscription to the Tribune. All answers must be in The Tribune office before Monday of the following week. No answer received by telephone. A notice will be published in following issue stating what words were left out of the ads and who are entitled to the prizes.

The Place to Obtain Fine
Job Work is at The Tribune Office.

THE BIGGEST LITTLE STORE IN TOWN

$2.00 cash prize for the first correct guess as to the name of this store. Mail your guess to the Tribune office not later than Tuesday.

WATCH THIS SPACE FOR ANSWER

Green House

Flowers
Plants
Bulbs.

We Invite Your Inspection

PAUL, The Florist,

Back of Methodist Church
East Side

Spring Goods
Now Arriving

The Fair!

Never have you had such a chance for making a good selection as at the present time. No trouble to show goods. Bargains are to be found in all our regular lines.

The FAIR

West End of Bridge

A New Car For an Old One

It is the FINISH that makes the machine as far as appearance goes. What about letting us repaint your automobile? We agree to use thru-out Valentine & Company's varnishes, which are the most expensive in first cost but standard for excellence the world over. Valentine & Company guarantee quality.

We repair and rebuild tops, repair wheels, springs and bodies. Come in and see us.

Anderson Carriage Works
Grand Rapids, Wisconsin

A Completely Fur- nished Dining Room

Is a woman's pride and a man's thorough satisfaction. In such a room food tastes better, and people feel more sociable. We can furnish such a room with table, chairs, side-board, china closet, etc., in a style that will be the acme of good taste and at prices which will be the height of economy.

Natwick Furniture
Company

DR. GEO. F. HOUSTON,
DENTIST

Teeth Drilled without Pain under
ANALGESIA

Office in Pomainville Block,
West Side.

Art Furniture!

That's the kind you find at our establishment. Furniture to satisfy practically every need at a decided saving. Selections this March have advantages that are rarely offered in the choosing of furniture at very low prices. The values here forcefully emphasize the Ragan idea of being satisfied with nothing short of perfection.

The variety for selection was never greater. Some of the best known trade marks—which in themselves are by-words of excellence—will be found on low priced pieces. Every piece is carefully selected. Every article is well constructed and finished. Each is good in style. The savings are truly remarkable. We are the furniture headquarters with the largest line of furniture in Wood county occupying the entire Spafford building. We also sell on credit. Buy what you need and pay for it in monthly payments.

Ragan Furniture Co.
Furniture and Undertaking

BEFORE BUYING SEE WEEKS & WEEKS

PRODUCERS OF HIGH GRADE
ARTISTIC CEMETERY MEMORIALS
AND
BUILDING WORK

OFFICE AND WORKS GRAND RAPIDS, WIS.
It Will Pay You

Warm Weather Will Soon be Here

The Woman of the House
can lessen her work and add years to her life by using Electricity to cook
with.

The Hughes Electric Range Does The Business.

Current for cooking at 3c per Kilowatt

Grand Rapids Electric Co.

This is Not Too Early

to decide to attend the Grand Rapids Business College.

It is the aim and purpose of this college to provide the "ways and means" by which young people may obtain a practical course of training that will enable them to fill acceptably one of the many good positions that will be offered when they are prepared.

Call or send for particulars.

Grand Rapids Business College

Our Work Recommends ITSELF

because of its beauty of its finish when you open a bundle of laundry from our establishment, you realize what perfect painstaking work means and how it can please our patrons.

We are scrupulously careful in the handling of all garments and our process of cleansing and laundering never injures the most delicate fabric. Charges moderate.

NORMINGTON BROS.
LAUNDRIES

Look Ahead Several Weeks!

To the time when you will be out buying your Spring Suit. When the warm days of Spring are here, you'll undoubtedly want your new suit right away. That means you'll have to shoulder the unnecessary risk of wearing clothes that only fit you in part. Perhaps you'll find the pattern you want but the style doesn't suit you, or vice versa. Then it's a sure shot you'll have to pay more than if we made your suit now to your measure for this low price—

No More—$16.50—No Less

PEOPLE'S TAILORING COMPANY

"One Block from the High Rent District." End of Bridge.

A Greek
Philosopher

IT'S A LONG SEARCH

we are told searched in vain for an honest man.

At the present time, honest men are not so scarce.

"HONESTY IS THE BEST POLICY"

friends whose confidence and good will are worth more to us than all. We practice it in our business and find that it has gained for us many other things combined.

If you want a square deal in the Flour business give VICTORIA a trial.

Grand Rapids Milling Co.

KAUDY'S STUDIO

The place where they make Fine Photographs. We want your business and in order to get it we guarantee you satisfaction every time. Look over our samples and

See if We Cannot Deliver The Goods

New Coats and Suits To Fit All Sizes

We show some beauties at.....$10.00 and $12.50
Also a large line from.....$7.50 up to $25.00
It will mean money in your pocket to give us a look before buying

We also have on sale a sample line of Ladies' and Misses' Wool and Silk Crepe Dresses—one of a kind—which we are able to sell at Wholesale Prices.

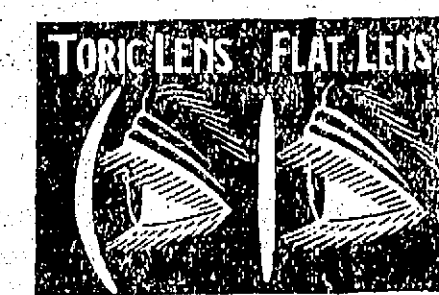

W. C. WEISEL

Mr. Farmer:

Have you ever thought about bringing your stock to the Reiland Packing Co. when you have any to sell? If you haven't, just ask your neighbor or any of your farmer friends who have done business with us and see if they have not always received a square deal and perhaps just a little better than they could have gotten elsewhere. We are always in the market for anything you have to sell, no matter how small.

REILAND PACKING CO.

GRAND RAPIDS, WISCONSIN

GLASSES THAT FIT
When were your fitted last? Every three or four years your eyes should be examined, particularly if you have changed your surroundings, have been ill, etc. Don't forget that improperly fitted lenses are worse than none.

A. P. HIRZY,
Reliable Jeweler and Optician

Pleased Customers

Is the first requisite in the building up of a successful business.

Our Groceries please customers because they are put up solely on a quality basis. We are sure to please you. Call or phone your next order. Highest market prices for Butter and Eggs.

Beardsleys

L. REICHEL The West Side JEWELER

EXPERT WATCH REPAIRING.
GRADUATE OPTICIAN

Dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry. Fine line of Diamonds and other precious stones. Sterling Silverware and many other tasty articles suitable for birthday and anniversary presents. Store in the Pomainville building. Phone No. 57.

F. MacKINNON MANUFACTURING CO. Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

WAGONS

Sold by JOHN D. SMITH 2nd St N.
Grand Rapids, Wis.

EUGENE MILLER The Bicycle Man

When you want anything in the line of Repair Work, Motor Cycles, Bicycles, Auto Tires, Goso-line, Batteries and Accessories.

Garage Near The Library Building.
East Side Phone 765

Dont Fail to See The WARNER
FEATURES
at the BIJOU
THEATRE
all next week.

Are You Going To BUILD?

Better see us before you decide on material to use. We save you money on first cost and you get a better building by using our "WATER-PROOF CAST BUILDING STONE." Use the plain cast block if you desire a stucco finish that will be permanent and will not crack or peel off.

We also have a very handsome granite veneer, which must be seen to be appreciated. See us for trim stone, granite faced or plain. Also ornamental work. Office Lyon Block. Phones 546 and 683.

Carey Concrete Co.

ARE YOU GOING TO BUILD?

If so get your planing, floor and mill work fixed right at

Nason's Shop.

Have recently installed a four side matcher and molder and can make anything to be used from your own material. Interior finish, window frames, etc.

B. F. NASON

Anderson

The Baker
With a Reputation,
Anderson

The Baker

To Owners of Autos

Since opening up business last fall I have met with such success that I have been obliged to get larger quarters, and have rented the Metzger blacksmith shop next to the Anderson carriage works where I will be better able to look after your wants. First class workmanship at a living price is my motto, and I guarantee to look after your car personally. If you have never had any work done by me, ask some of my old customers what they think of the service I have been giving. I will appreciate a trial job. Yours for results.

EDW. KAMPE,
The Auto Repair Man.

HAVE

Those Harness
Repaired
Early by

LANE

THE PLACE to BUY

Your Groceries, Fruits, both fresh and canned, Farm Produce, Butter and Eggs. We keep nothing but the best money can buy and our prices are always among the lowest in the city. We have a good delivery system and give you prompt service. On account of our large farm trade we are always prepared to furnish you with the best in farm produce, Eggs, Butter and Vegetables. Give us a trial order, if we can't please you we will gladly refund your money.

Yours for the Best in Groceries,

Gottschalk & Anderson

Insurance TAYLOR & SCOTT Real Estate